*Through
the looking glass*

Old man Time must now stand still
The rolling clouds won't let him pass
And colors lull him with their tunes
Of sunlight on the Looking Glass.

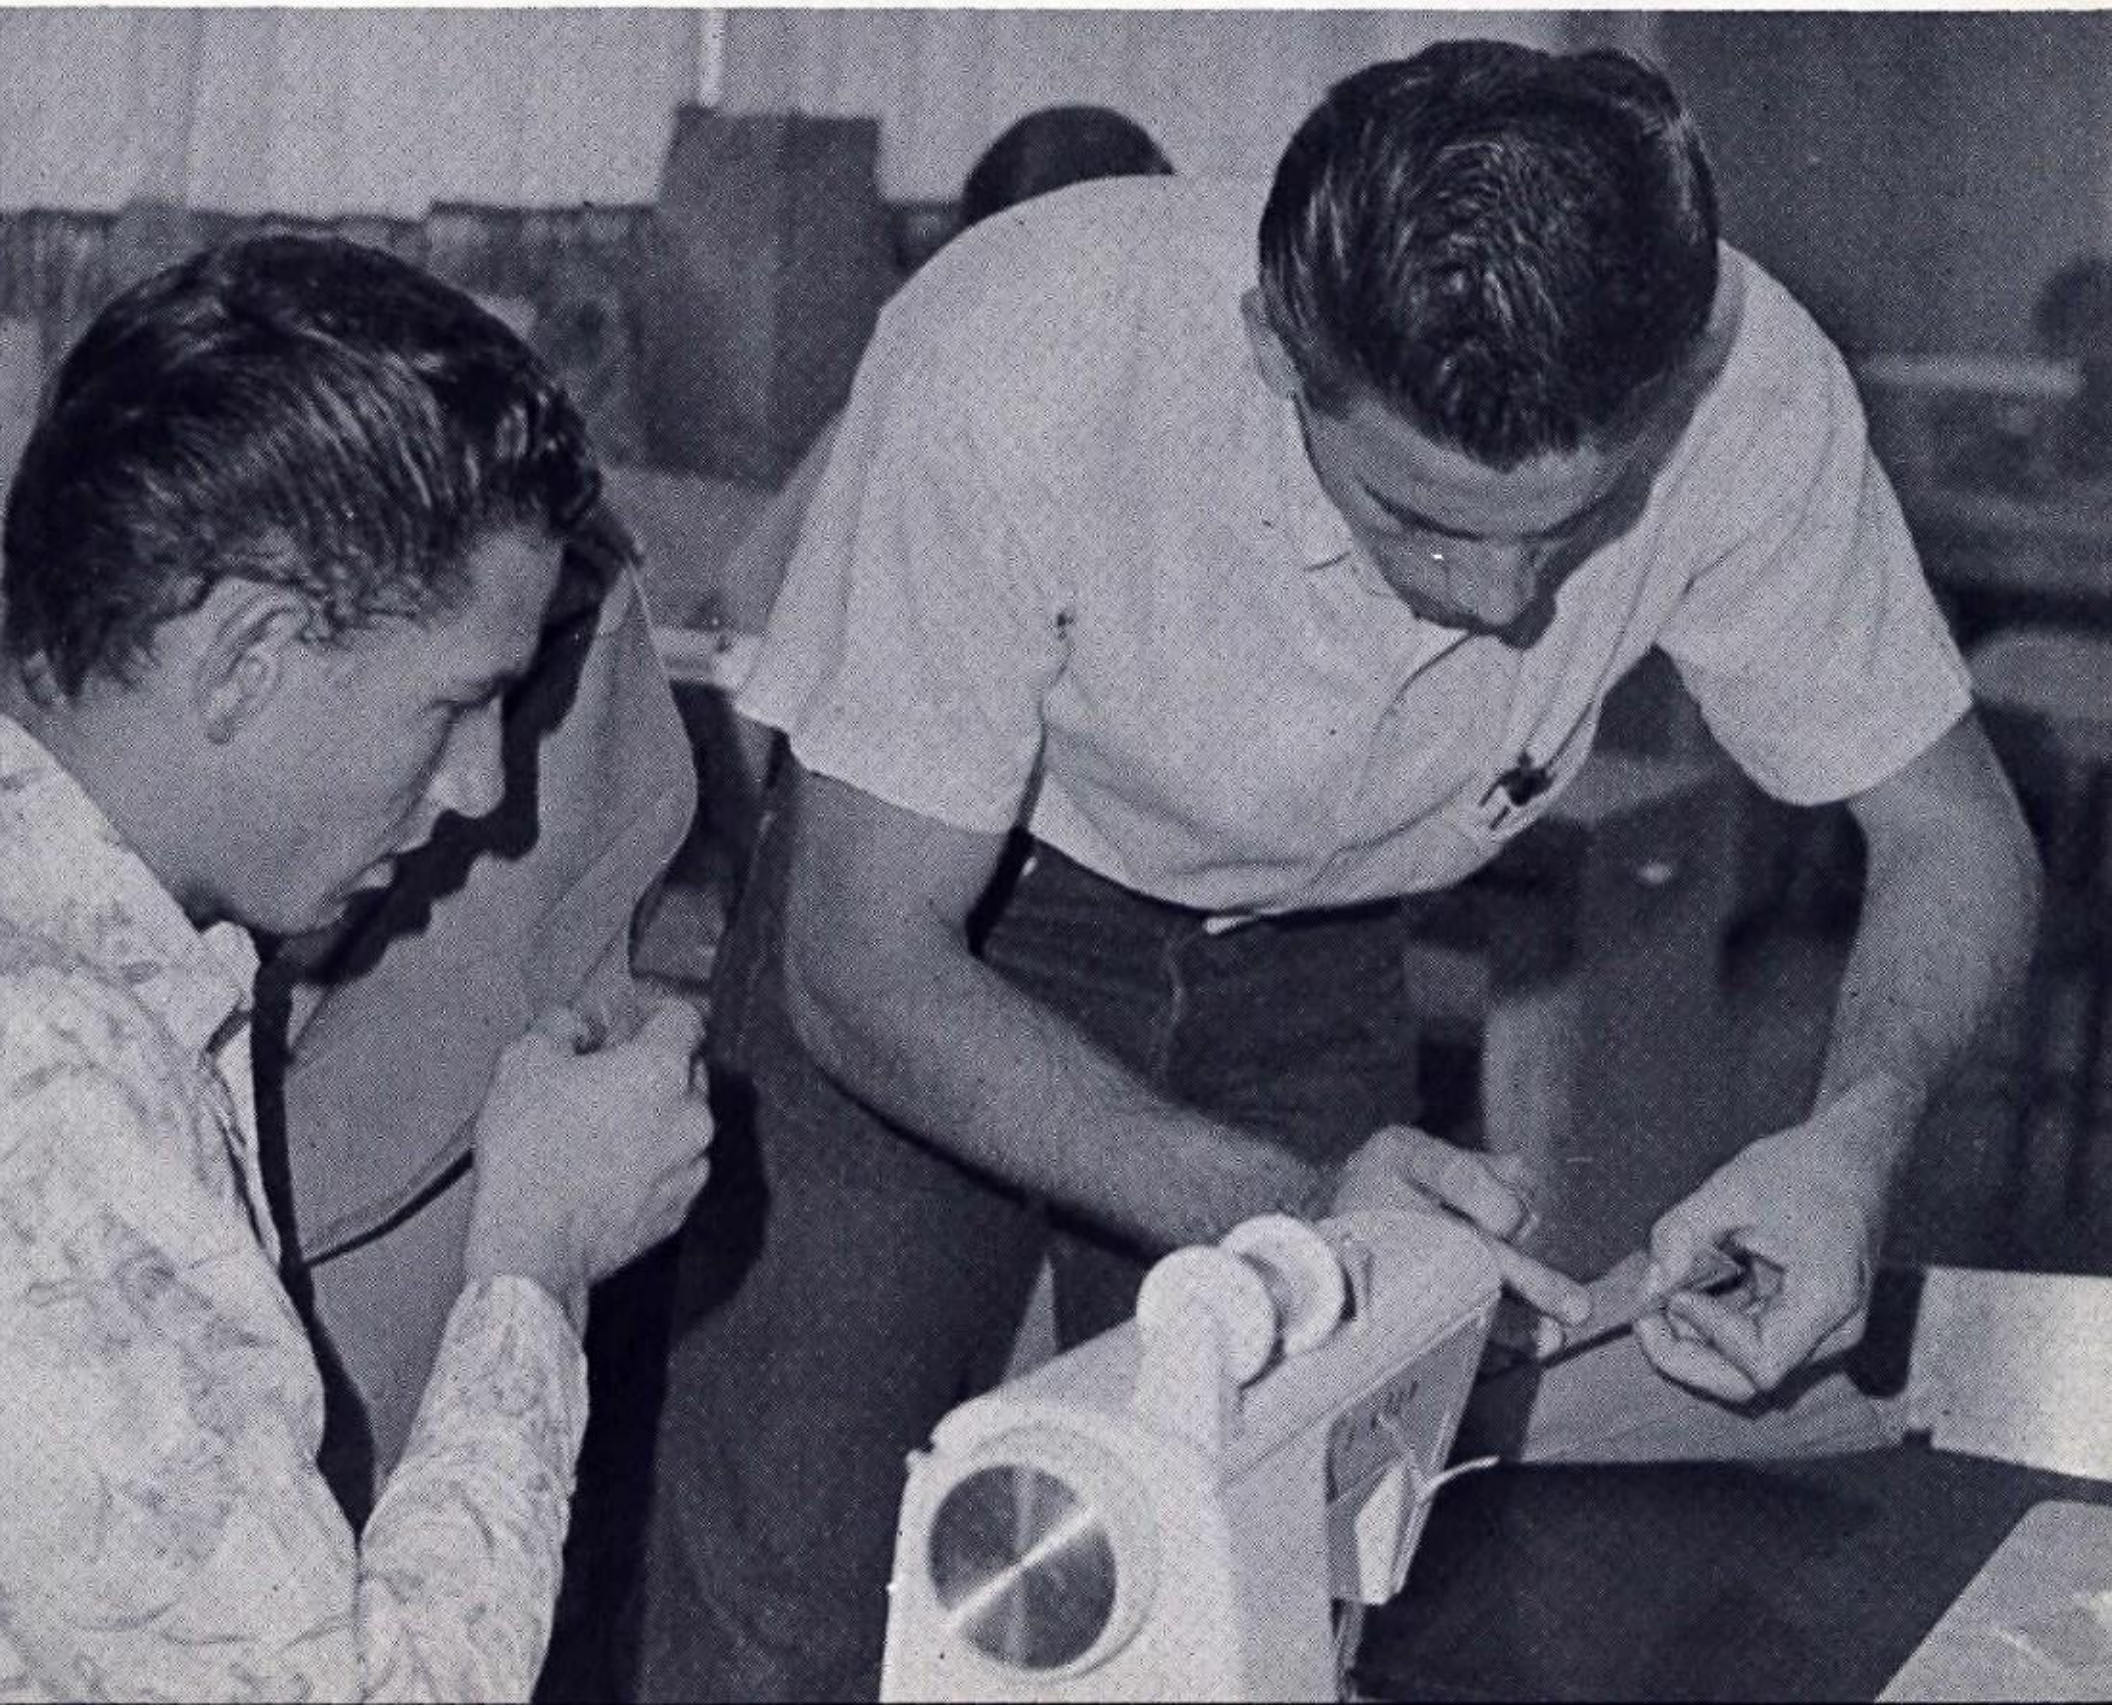

This Looking Glass of misty green
Now lying silent in your hand
Will be your door through time and space
That opens on an emerald land.

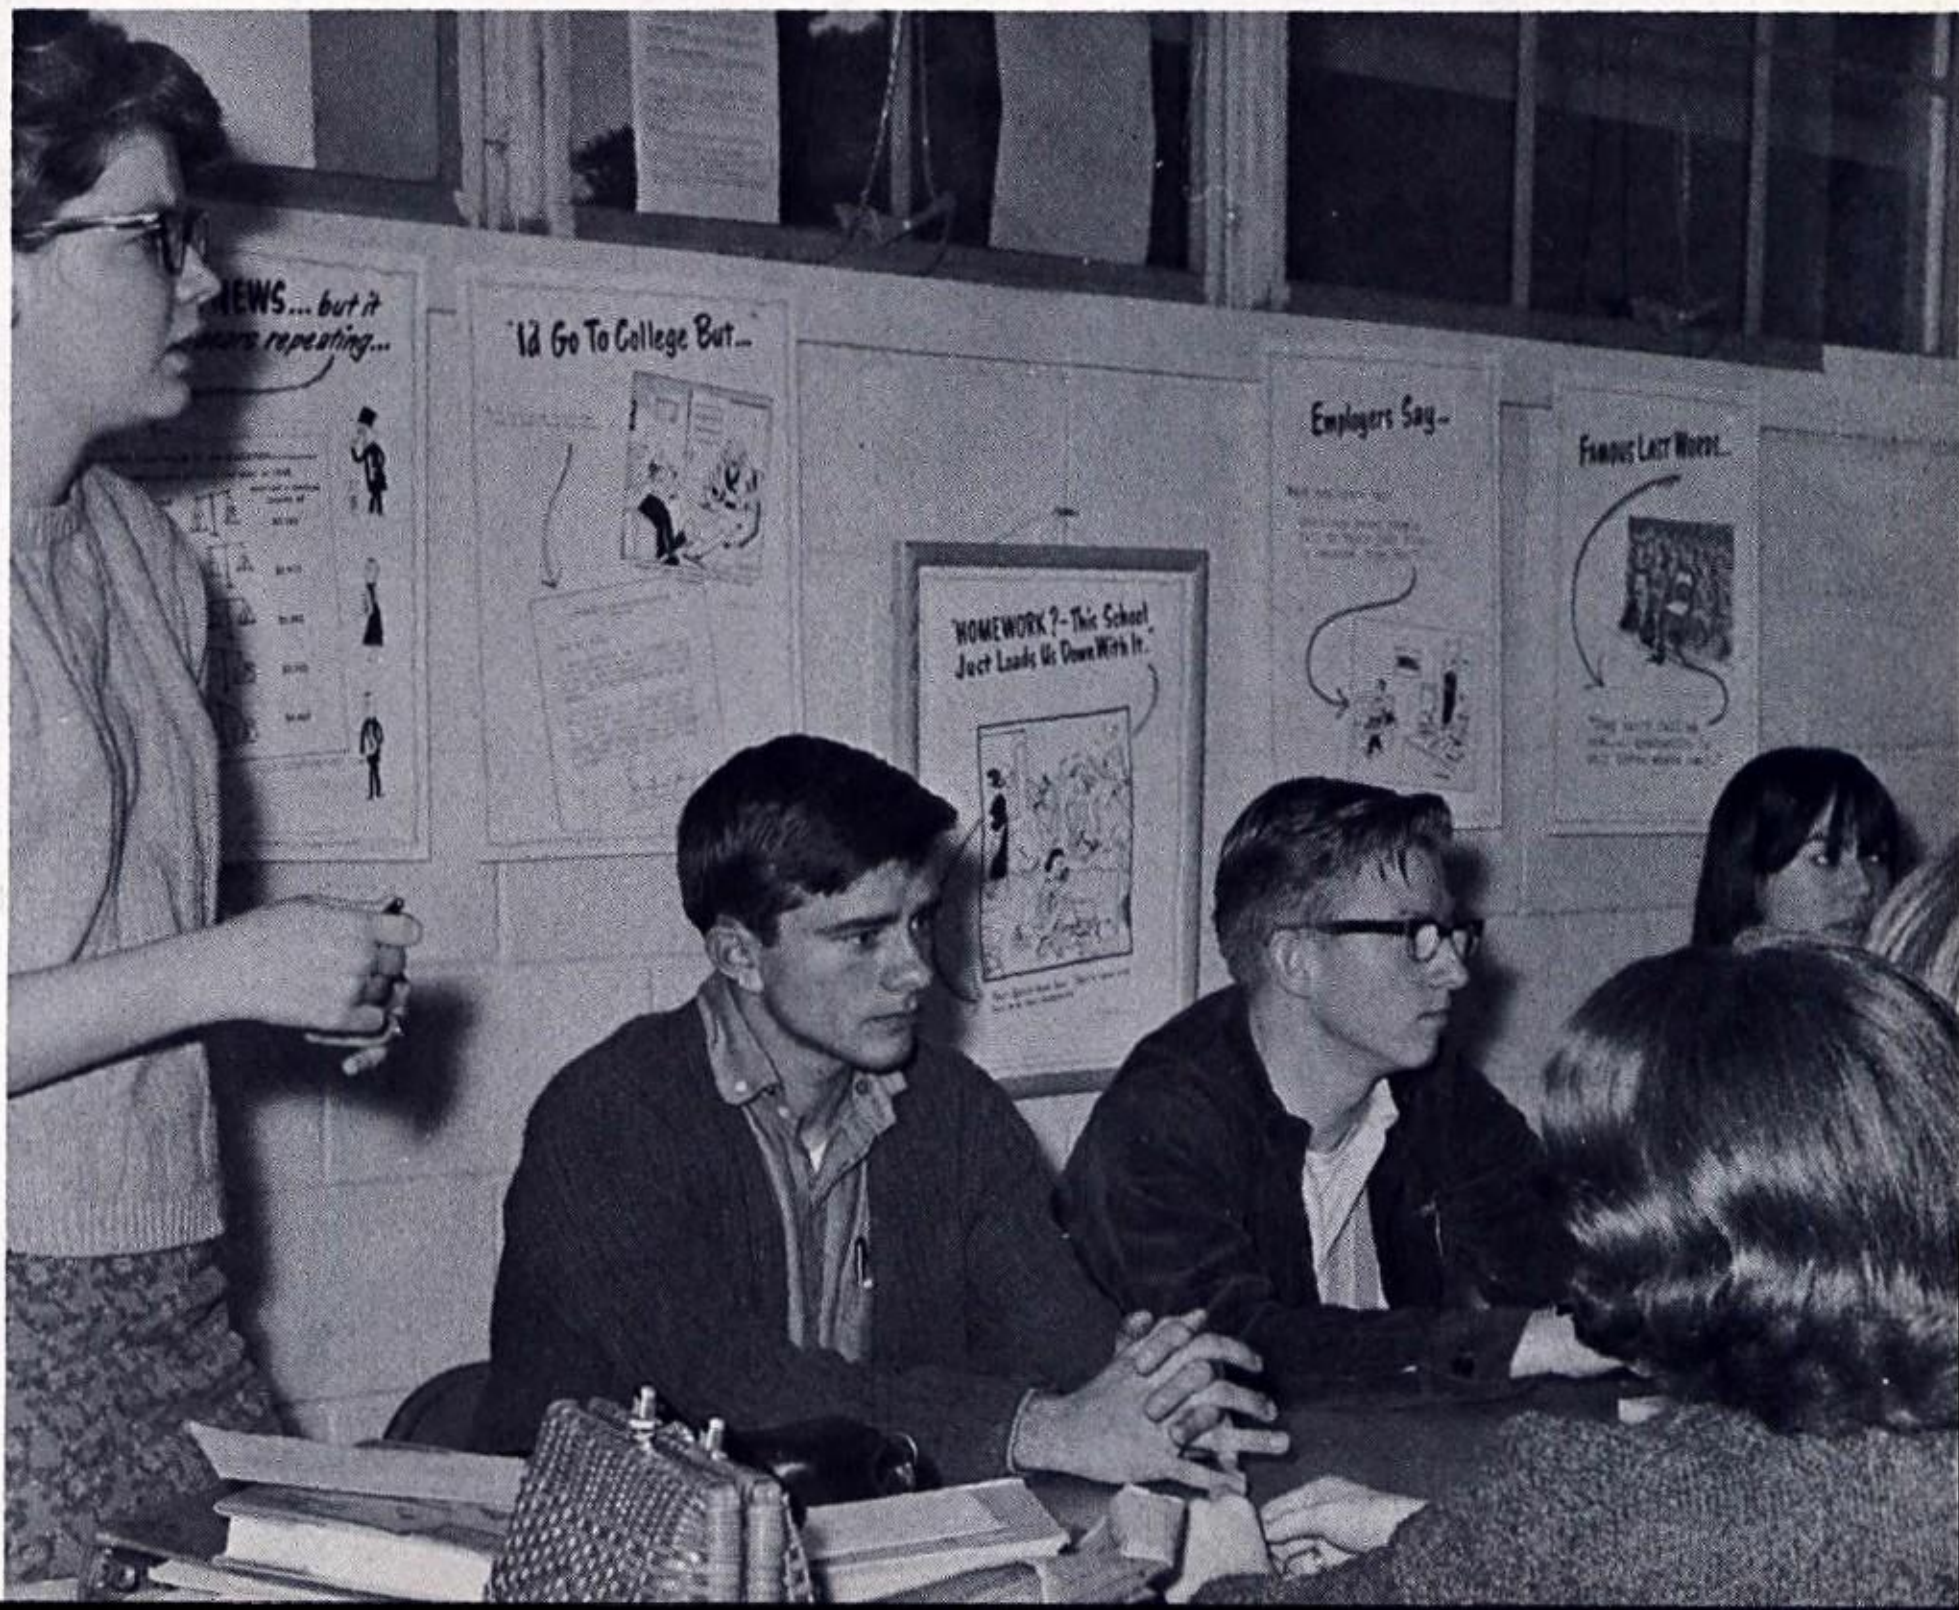

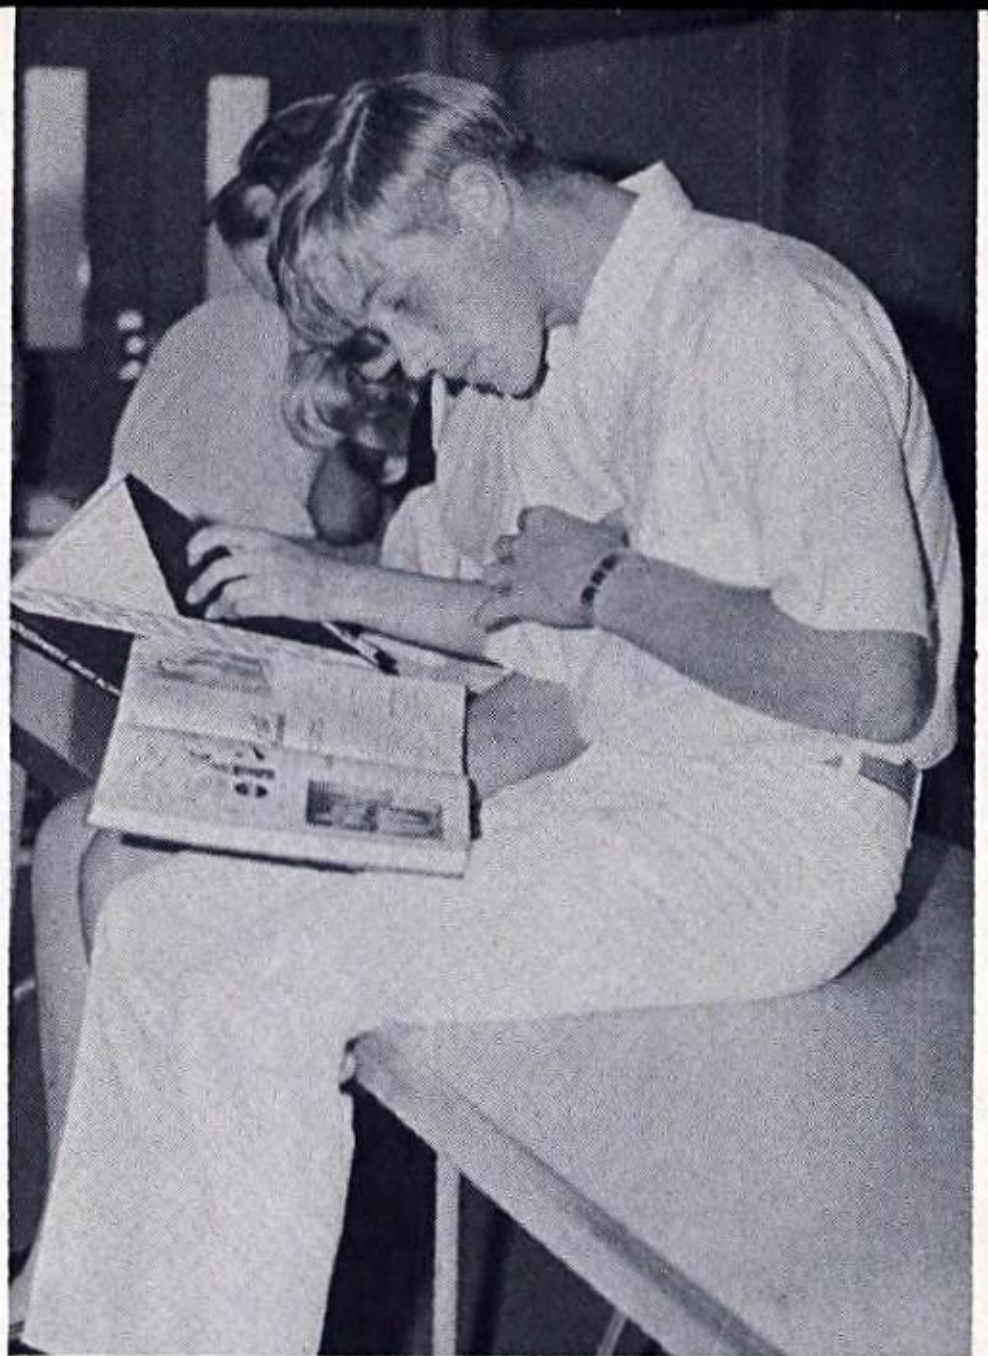

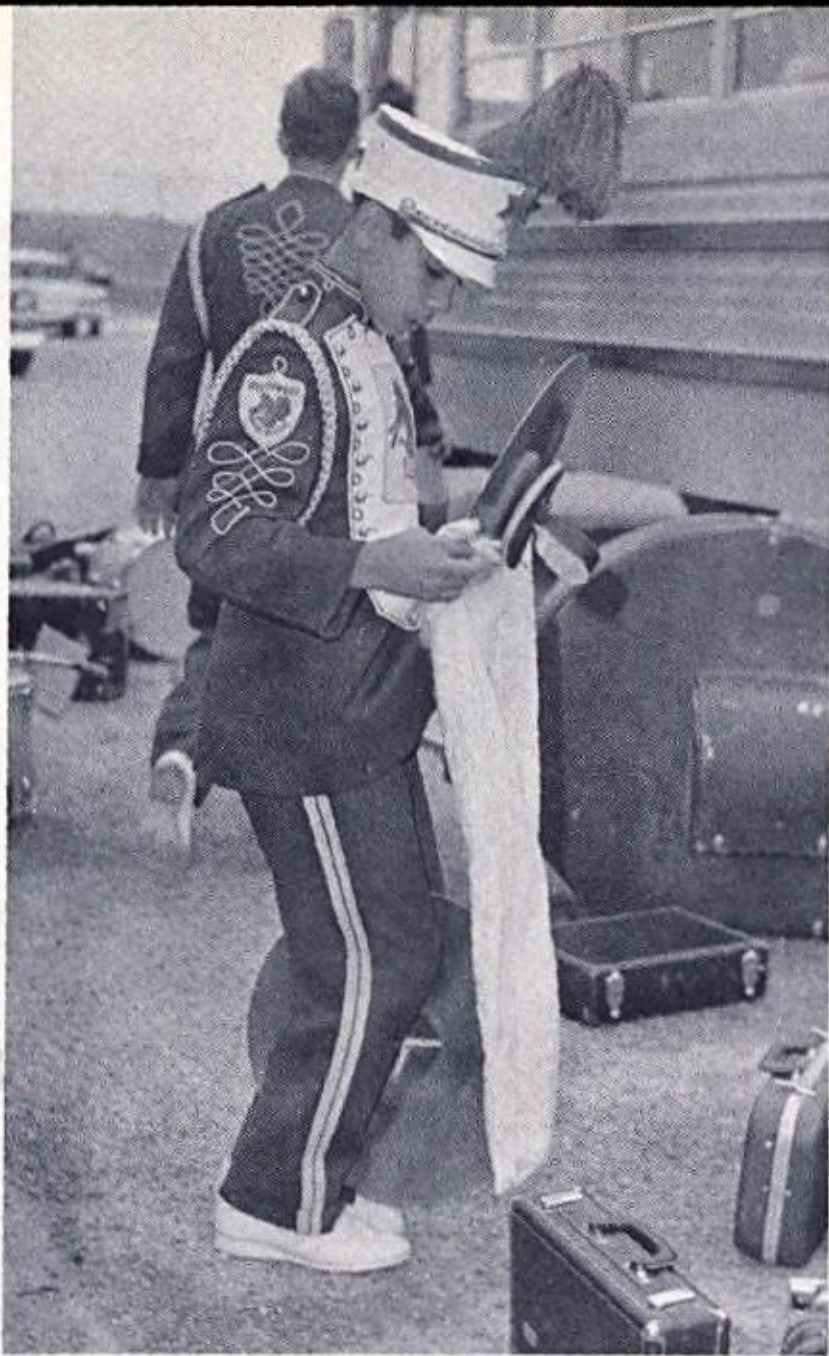

There lies beneath a towering three
A Dragon green with glistening scales
Who will with patience tell for you
A group of wonderous glowing tales.

All time lies still before you now
So follow at the Dragon's side
Fly through the past, from page to page,
Across the covers, far and wide.

The leather wings beat out the rhyme
And pictures of the emerald sky
Become a part of each, and laugh,
Or take each one, perhaps, and cry.

The Dragon, now, and sky are one
And you are one caught in between.
So come and join the happy throng
Into this shining land
of green.

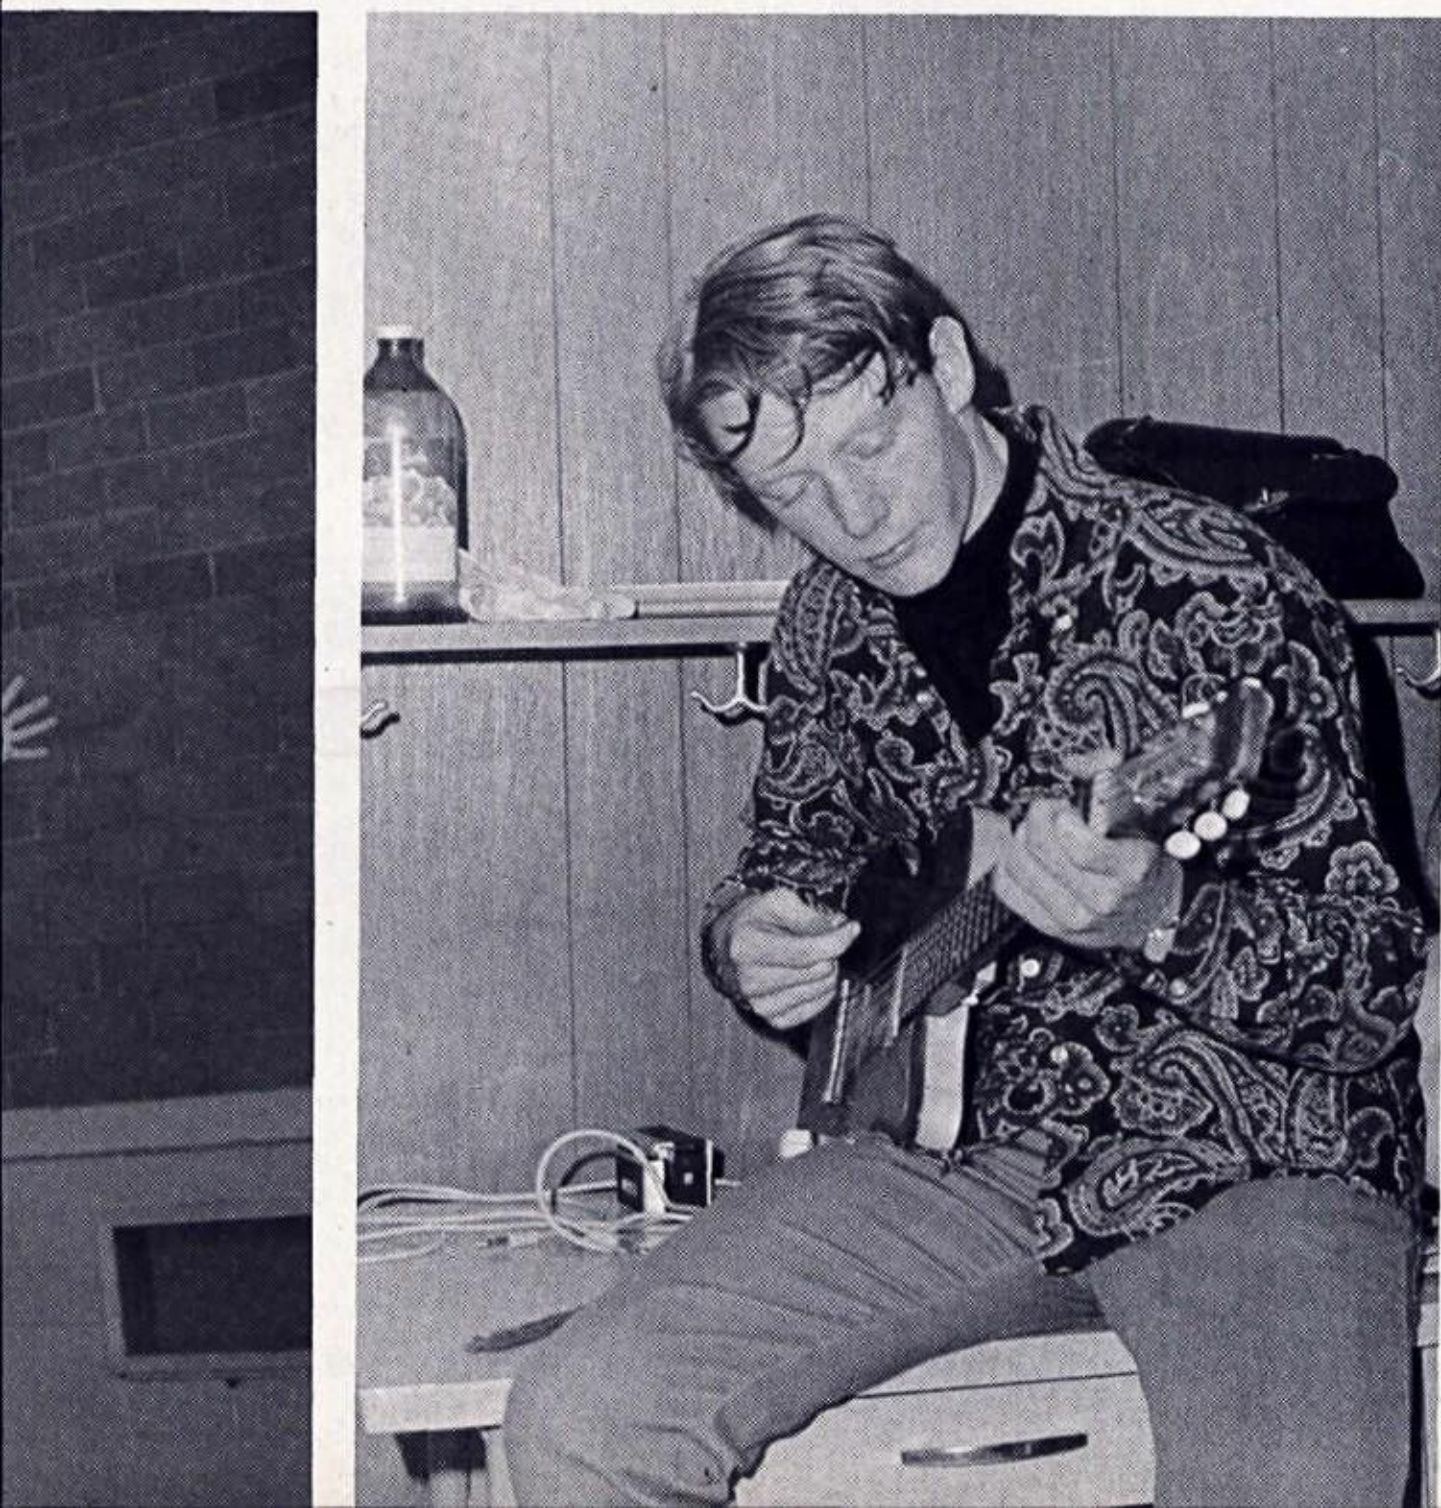

But now this Looking
Glass put down
And let the Dragon
once more sleep
Because the emerald
land is past
Reality there is to keep.

The act is done, and once again
The old man - Time - continues by
The colors dying in the dusk
Upon the dusty glass now lie.

The glass is here at your command
The door just off the rugged road
The Hall of Time is calling you
To help you bear tomorrow's load.

To open doors of yesterday
 This Looking Glass is just a key
 But it can never substitute
 The present and reality.

But still the Looking Glass is there
The memories remain at hand
'Till once again, when need will call
They open on the emerald land.

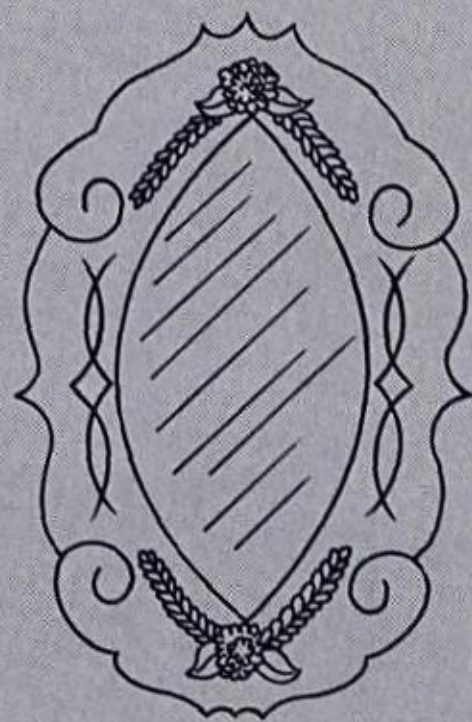

The Dragon once again
 awake
 With learned ease his tales will tell;
 The pictures once again
 will flow
 Across the emerald sky
 as well.

Administration

SUPERINTENDENT OF SOUTHWEST INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT,
MR. STANLEY F. CERNOSEK

Everyone connected with the Southwest Independent School District has become acquainted with Mr. Cernosek, our Superintendent, who has served many years as executive officer of the Board of Education, governing our school system.

He has long been noted for his progressive ideas of educational methods. During his administration, the Southwest District has initiated and pursued a building and enlargement program on three campuses, comprising our school district with an enrollment approximating 2,500 students. Our status as a school system has increased both inside the district and in the state.

But, his work does not end with past accomplishments. Daily, Mr. Cernosek receives new techniques of teaching, seeking the best possible educational opportunities for the children of Southwest. Because of this goal, and its successful execution, Southwest has a system of which we are proud.

Seated in the new Administration Board room are the following members, L to R: Mr. A. V. Thurman, Mr. S. F. Cernosek, Mr. J. W. Watts, Jr., Mr. R. C. Aldridge, Jr., Mr. Floyd Jackel, Mr. Henry Krueger, Jr., Mr. Edwin W. Ripps, and Mr. Nick Constanzo.

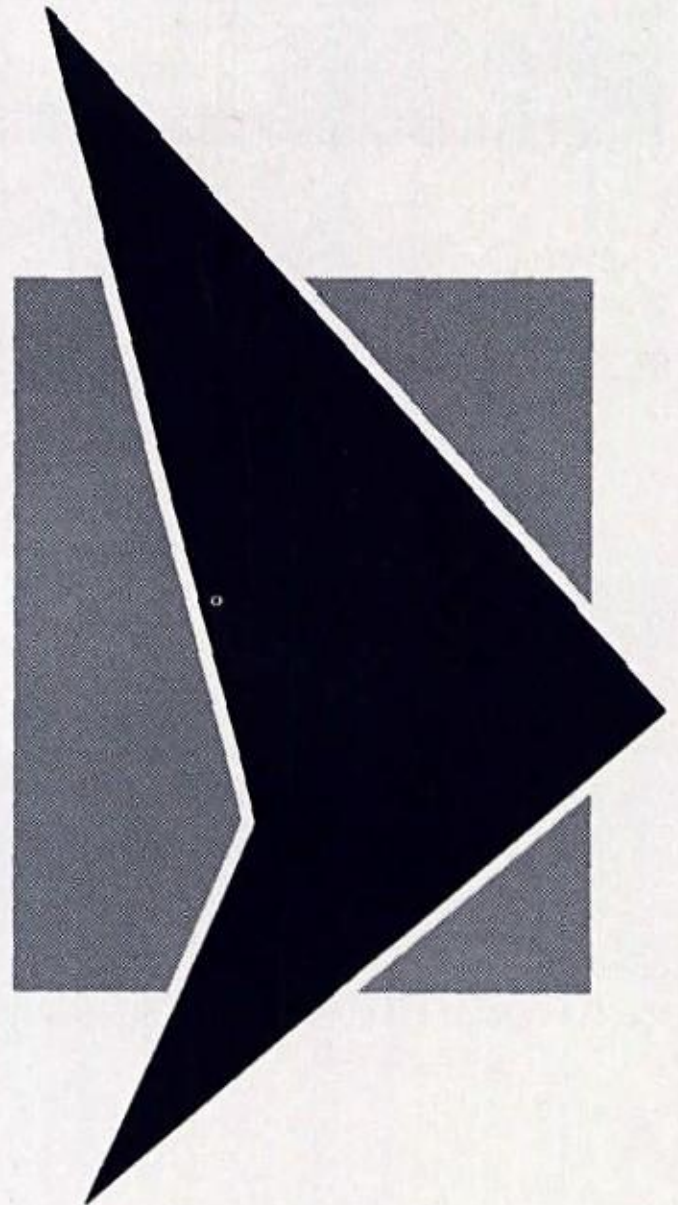

Richard Aldridge. -President
 John W. Watts Jr. -V. President
 Floyd Jackel-Sec. Treas.

Southwest Independent School District is ranked among the most outstanding school systems in the district, chiefly because of the unselfish dedication of our Board of Trustees.

Its members bear the great responsibility of maintaining a modern school system and an up to date curriculum.

Each member, elected by the citizens of this area, works with such specific problems as home and school relations, the selection of building projects and locations, and accelerated study programs.

The Board also guides the various schools in our district so far as school policy is concerned. We are fortunate to have this devoted group of men interested in our school and its welfare.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT,
MR. CLAYTON C. NORRIS

Mr. Clayton C. Norris, a capable leader efficiently serving the Southwest Independent School District as Assistant Superintendent, does not even remotely begin to describe the value of the contributions and services rendered by Mr. Norris.

Receiving his formal education from Texas A. & I. University, Mr. Norris has served Southwest for two years, working closely with the personnel of the school district and handling the many details involved in administering the curriculum and other programs in the educational field.

His years of experience and knowledge in administrative work inspires confidence in all who know him and work under his leadership.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL,
MR. KENNETH LYSSY

This year Southwest High School has expanded and prospered under the pilotage of Kenneth Lyssy, its principal. Mr. Lyssy obtained his formal education at St. Mary's University. He has served Southwest as Teacher, Assistant Principal, and now as Principal.

Mr. Lyssy has made a great contribution to district and local teachers' association work, having served as treasurer of the District Teachers' State Association, and as co-chairman to handle arrangements for the State convention held in San Antonio this year. He has been president of the local Southwest Teachers' Association for 1967-68.

Leading a capable administrative staff, our favorite dragon, Mr. Lyssy, helps solve any problems which may arise during the year.

VICE-PRINCIPAL,
COL. A. D. HALL

Colonel Hall has served Southwest School District many years in various teaching and administrative capacities, including teaching history, acting as Vice-Principal for Junior High and Senior High School, Dean of Boys, and as former Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Southwest schools.

Col. Hall's faithful devotion to the school and student body is best exemplified in his innate ability to coordinate the administration of school activities with a warm, sincere attitude toward counseling students in every level of our school life.

Many ex-students have found that Col. Hall's friendship and influence are in large part responsible for helping mold their character and finding a place of service in future career choices.

COUNSELOR,
MRS. DORA HELFRICH

Southwest has been privileged this year to have Mrs. Dora Helfrich serve as Counselor for the high school area.

Mrs. Helfrich earned her B.S. and M.S. degrees from North Texas University in Denton, Texas. She also has her certificate in counseling from North Texas. She was Director of Counseling and a teacher for seven years in Mercedes High School and Counselor in Edinburg High School for five years.

Southwest is very fortunate in having such a qualified person to serve in this position of trust. She has done a fine job of directing the students in academic as well as personal needs.

Mr. Bickerton uses reference materials in Library to plan future lessons.

Language Department

Language Department teachers have been striving to give students a thorough understanding and working knowledge of foreign languages, in addition to regular English classes.

Mrs. Browning prepares German lessons during conference period.

MRS. JENNIE BYROM, B. A. ,
M. A. , Southwest Texas

With our changing and advancing times, English teachers keep in step with new projects and techniques. Some of the new ideas included the study of folklore, ballads, and learning the art of "listening."

"Parlez-vous français?"
"Palabras Espanole"
"Sprechken sie Dutch?"--are all steps in the path of achieving an understanding and ability to converse in several languages.

Develops Cultural Background

Mrs. Henrietta Morse, B. A., Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, New York; Bachelor of Laws, St. Lawrence, University.

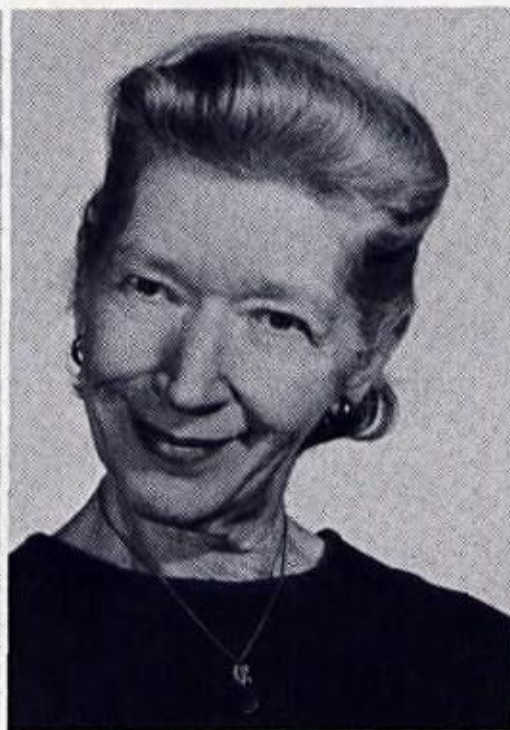

Nouns, verbs, Chaucer, O'Henry, and Shakespeare influence and develop literary backgrounds of students, molding and developing each person before graduation from high school.

Bill Essary, Lighting Director of "What Men Live By," and Karen Roberts, the 'Angel,' view play from the curtains off stage.

Plays written in Spanish were given in class as part of a special classroom activity.

Mrs. Hull supervised the work of drama students as they produced, directed and acted in Christmas plays with an enthusiastic audience from the high school.

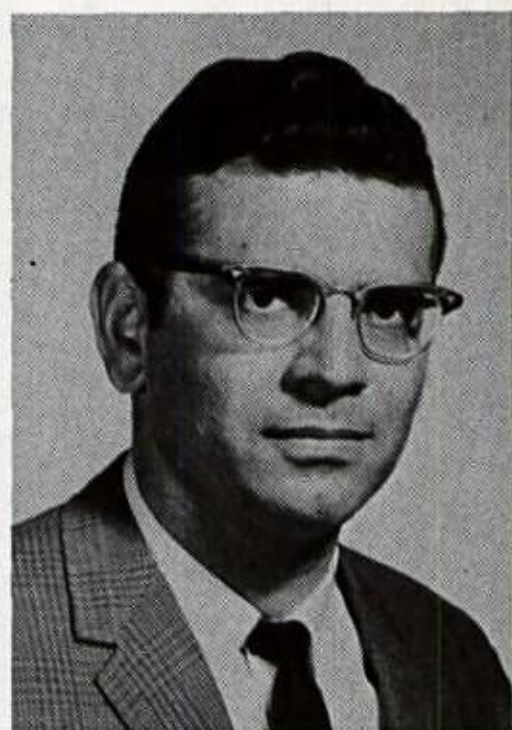

Mrs. Joanne Hull, B. A., University of Puget Sound, Washington.

Mrs. Jo Katherine Jones, B. S., M. A., Oklahoma State University.

Music Appreciation Vital Part of Personal Development

Lady of the Lake.

Music is an art appreciated the world over since the beginning of civilization and which continues to inspire and console us today. The music department acquaints interested students with a knowledge of music and provides entertainment and enjoyment for the entire student body as well as representing the school in contests throughout the year.

Trips to band contests present a few problems for the Director, Mr. Pagonis, and students who wonder where their instruments could be packed.

To arouse interest and explore reasons that produce events and circumstances is the goal of the history department for students enrolled in courses of American, World and Texas History, as well as classes in Economics and Business Law.

Good citizenship is the objective pursued as patriots of history are studied and presented in their correct aspect of historical significance. Current events are an important part of weekly assignments, and the discussions which follow enable students to achieve a fresh perspective concerning world events.

Commercial Classes Develop Job Skills

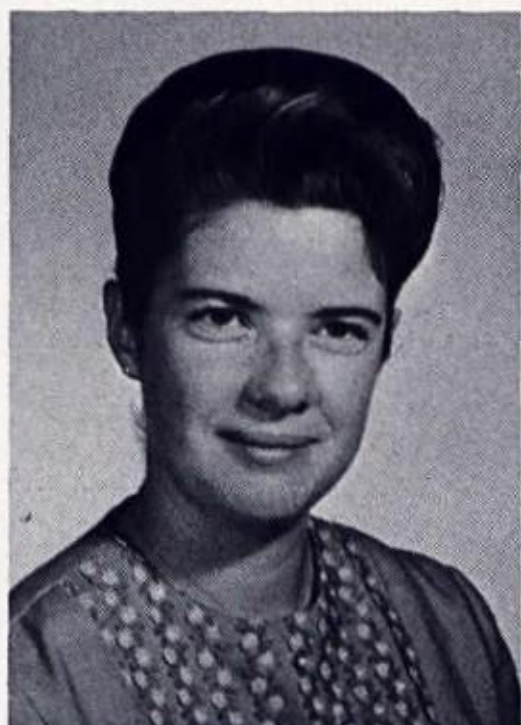

From the first day of instruction in a typing class with "posture, people", to the final day of operating in the "red" in Bookkeeping, the students receive a valuable skill as well as a foundation upon which many will build their future lives.

Sandra Guzman keeps up her speed with daily practice.

Over 200 students are enrolled in commercial classes with a course in Business Law offered for the first time, this year. Courses are given in Shorthand, Typing I and II, and Bookkeeping.

Physical Education Develops Physically and Morally

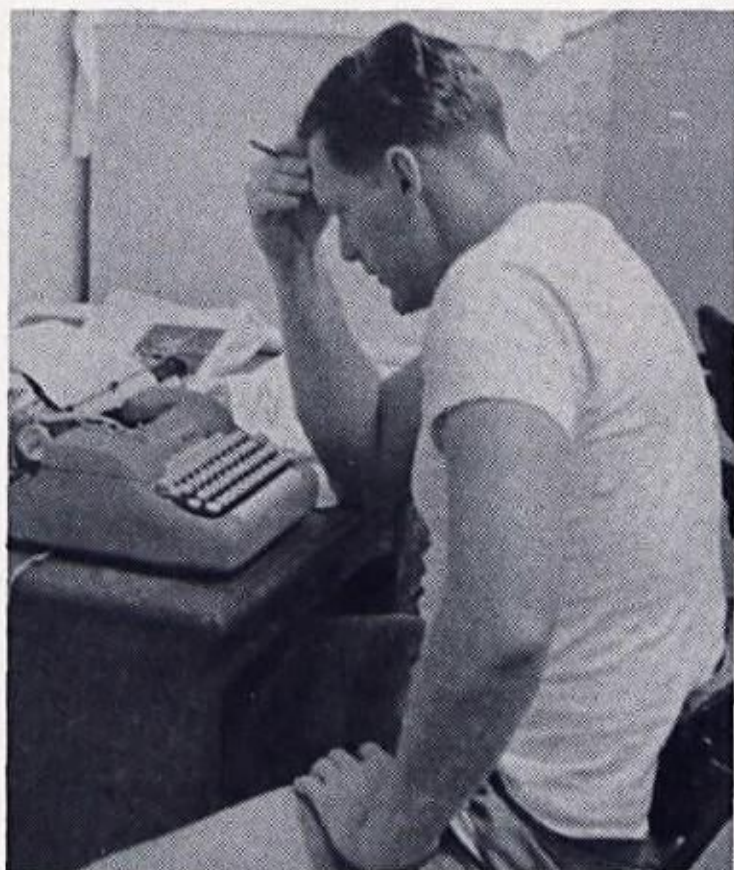

Mr. Bill Edward Brown, Jr.,
B. S., Howard Payne College.

Mr. Wayne Thurmann Jordan,
B. S., Texas Lutheran College.

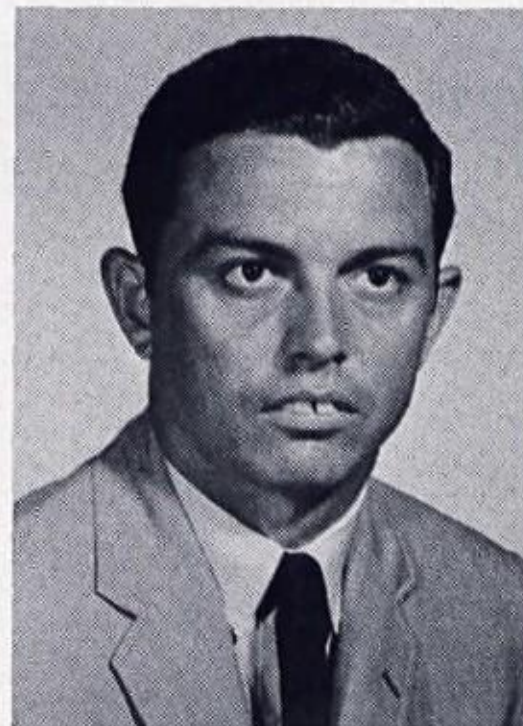

The coaching staff believes that students shouldn't overlook team sports because their fellow students do not participate. They could make new friends and accomplish many things while having fun.

Cooperation and sociability -- these qualities are developed when students work and play together as a team. The goal, of course, for our sports program has been to learn individually the real meaning of sportsmanship.

Coach Brown finds time to catch up on his paper work.

Mr. James Lee Smith,
B. S., University of Texas.

Wholesome Activity for P. E. Classes

Miss Jorgensen and Mrs. Fruge teach physical Education for High School and Junior High divisions. Activities vary as the seasons change. P. E. students play soft ball, volleyball, as well as many other sports beneficial to health. The girls run track and some enter the track meets held throughout the district.

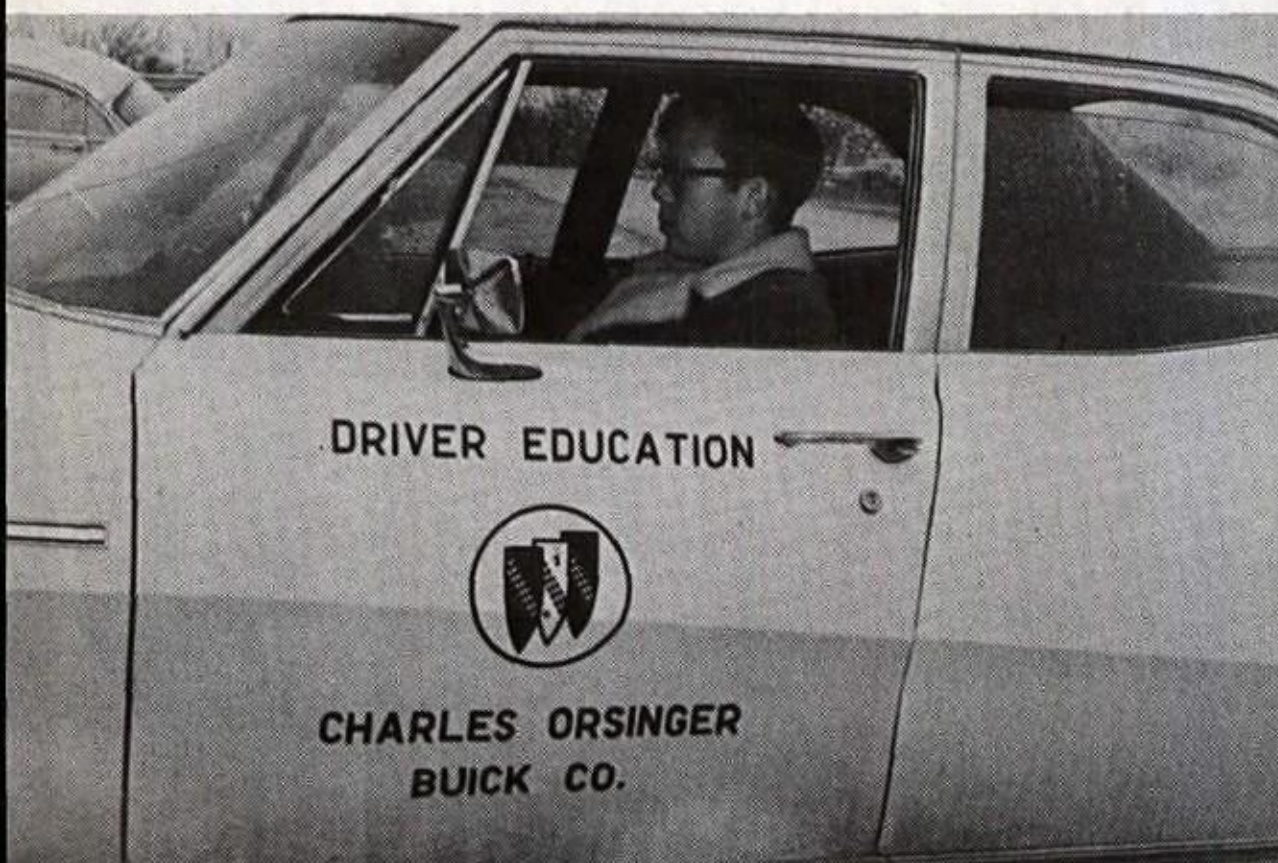

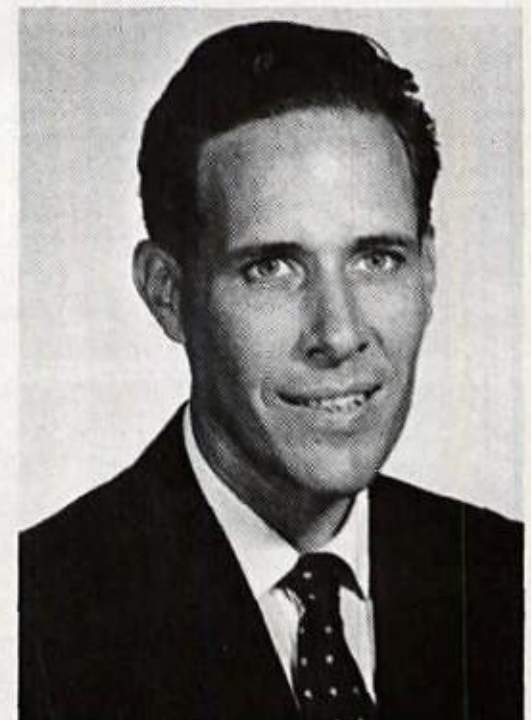

Miss Linda Jorgensen,

Drivers' Education Stresses Responsibility

William H. Hubbard,
B. M. , Southeastern
Louisiana College;
M. C. M. , Southwestern
Baptist Seminary.

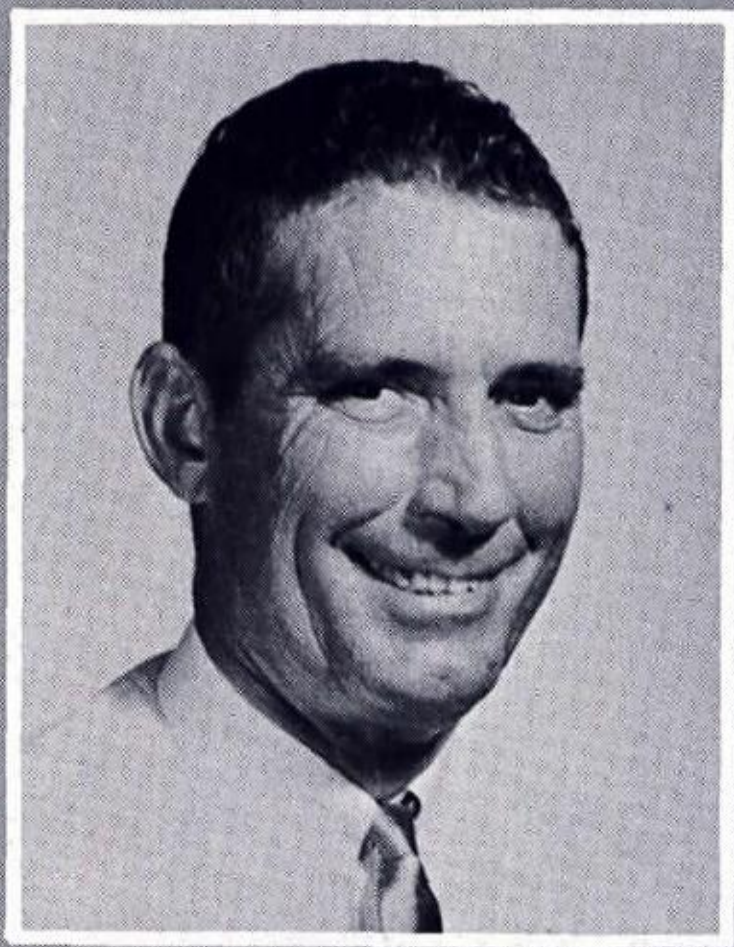

With the ever increasing need for good drivers, it is imperative that drivers learn early the responsibility of owning and operating their vehicles. Mr. Hubbard strives to instill good driving habits in teen years, when they will do the most good.

Bill Bitner receives his driving lesson under the supervision of Mr. Hubbard.

In Loving Memory

This page has been dedicated by the student body and faculty to the memories of those with whom we worked, studied and played during this school year.

MR. HOWARD CLUCK

Mr. Cluck was a sincere teacher with a dedication to his profession which was exemplary to his co-workers. He was a leader and an inspiration to friends and family. He will remain in our memory as a person who contributed much to our school life.

To the ones who have been a part of our school family, we remember Terry Williams, John Pickhover, James Buford Warr, Mrs. Ruth Avant, and Mr. E. E. Kuykendall with affection and warmth.

P. T. A. Assists School and Community

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Palm, President of the Southwest Parent Teachers Association of Southwest schools, excellent programs were given and many projects completed.

One of the many benefits which the high school and junior high has received is the addition of fans for classrooms - a much needed supplement most of the school year.

Mr. Cernosek, Superintendent, has supported and aided our PTA whenever possible, and Mrs. Palm presented him with a Life Membership and pin this year from the school.

Southwest Teachers' Association, affiliated with the Texas State Teachers' Association and the National Education Association, has completed its sixth year serving the faculty and school district with information on all aspects of teacher activities, including legislation, speakers from different fields of education, literature, and other valuable aids necessary for good teaching.

Mr. Kenneth Lyssy, Principal of the High School, has been President of our local association for 1967-68. We have made progress in enlarging our membership and increasing interest in training courses, convention attendance, and participation in county association programs.

Student Council is the main governing body of Southwest High School. It is composed of representatives from each grade level and a representative for each school sponsored club. This gives each student a voice in the government of his school.

Activities sponsored by the Student Council included the operation of the book store, class elections and assemblies.

Council members find special program entertaining: John Perez, David Boulware, Steven Calloway, Nancy Calloway, Thelma Bailey, Teresa Smith, Helen Janecek.

Honor Students

Colvern Buchholtz and Donna Eppler were selected Band Beau and Sweetheart for the 1967-68 school year. Both have served the band well and deserve the title.

Gail Pettyjohn and Thelma Bailey received First in Baton Twirling in the University Interscholastic League Contest.

Robert Hardcastle, Steven Mahaffey and George Capps received a Division I rating at the UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest held at Churchill High School.

The goal set by Band Parents this year was to be the purchase of new uniforms. In order to attain this goal, the members operated a concession stand for football and basketball games.

An Italian dinner was served for the school and community, and cakes, pies and candy were sold, helping raise the needed money.

The new uniforms of black, green and white will look very "sharp" in the concerts, parades and marching contests held next year. We are sure their success will continue as they strive to reach their goal in the months to come.

Pep Squad Serves Student Body

Go! We're with you. Hurray! These words and many more describe the actions of Southwest Pep Squad. This year, more than ever, the girls of the Pep Squad have yelled their hearts out in support of the various teams representing our school in different sports.

The Spirit these girls showed was an inspiration not only to the students who participated in the sports, but to the people who were there to lend moral support. We appreciate the Pep Squad and hope they continue their outstanding work in building school spirit.

"Hello!"

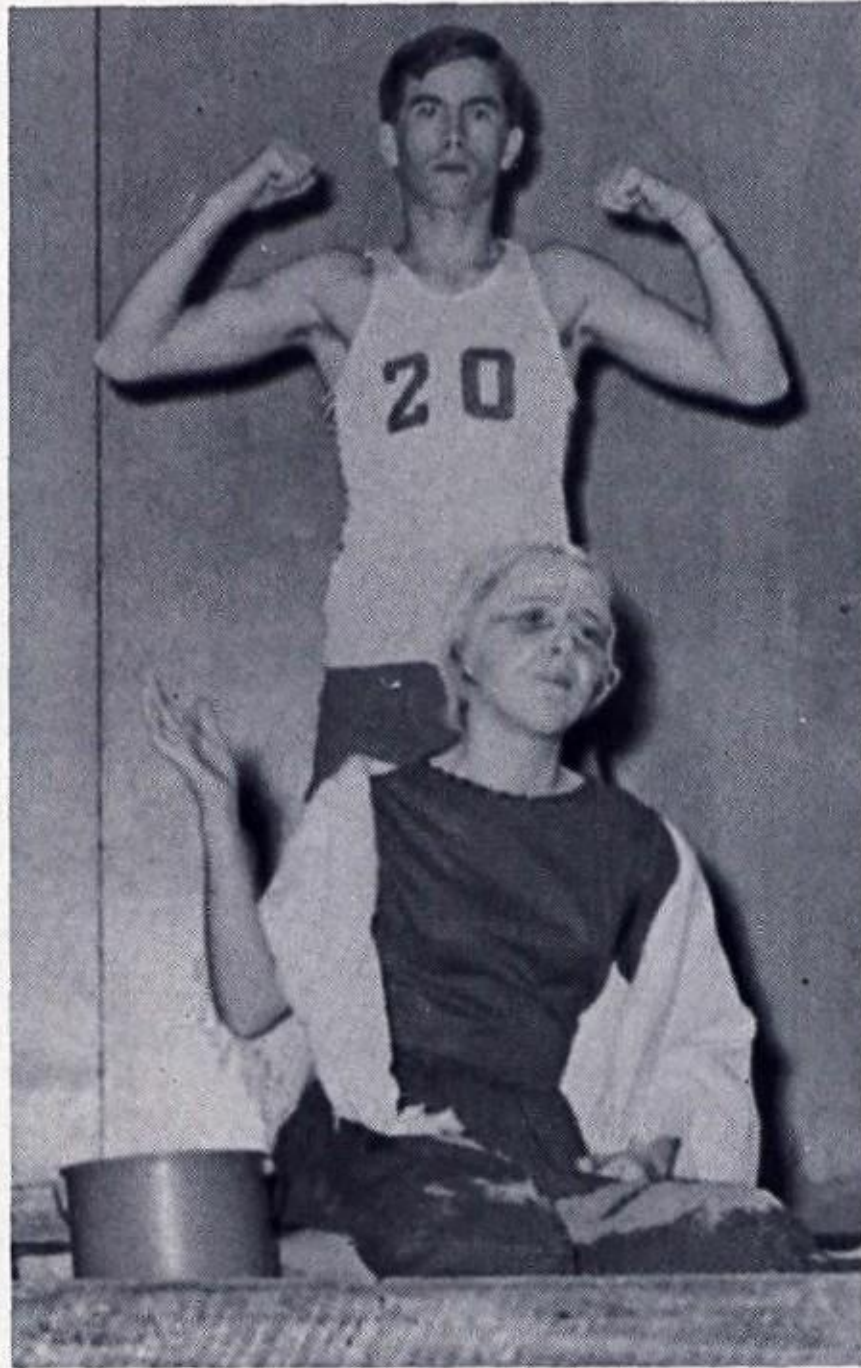

Drama can emphasize that word of greeting in so many different ways. Chuck Lovelace found out about this when he appeared in the Drama Club's presentation of the Sand Box by Edward Albee. The experience of being someone else on stage is a very exciting one. The students who have joined the Drama Club have learned many of the different aspects of the field and art of acting.

While performing in several different and exciting plays, they have also developed a keen sense of respect for the hard work and long hours that are needed to produce an interesting and enjoyable play.

The worlds of music, science, history, literature, and countless other fields, are drawn together to comprise a storehouse of information, richer than any monetary value which might be given to a high school library.

This is the source of research, study and pure relaxation through books, written by experts in all fields of endeavor. The library has grown extensively and much has been done to furnish materials needed by all grades of the junior and senior schools. To help meet these inquiries, student library assistants are trained to be able to assist in finding books and materials required for study.

Senior Homemakers Look to Their Future

Senior Homemakers worked on a variety of different projects during the year. They attempted to better their community and home life by studying good health habits, citizenship, beautification of state.

Their main purpose, however, was to promote a growing appreciation of the joy and satisfaction of homemaking and foster the development of creative leadership in home-community life.

With chapters all over the world, it is easy to see that the homemakers of tomorrow will play a major role in helping solve national problems.

Future Junior Homemakers are nation wide in scope and purpose. As an organization, they strive to improve all phases of family and community life. In one sentence-they learn how to make a home with simplicity and full of wholesome goodness.

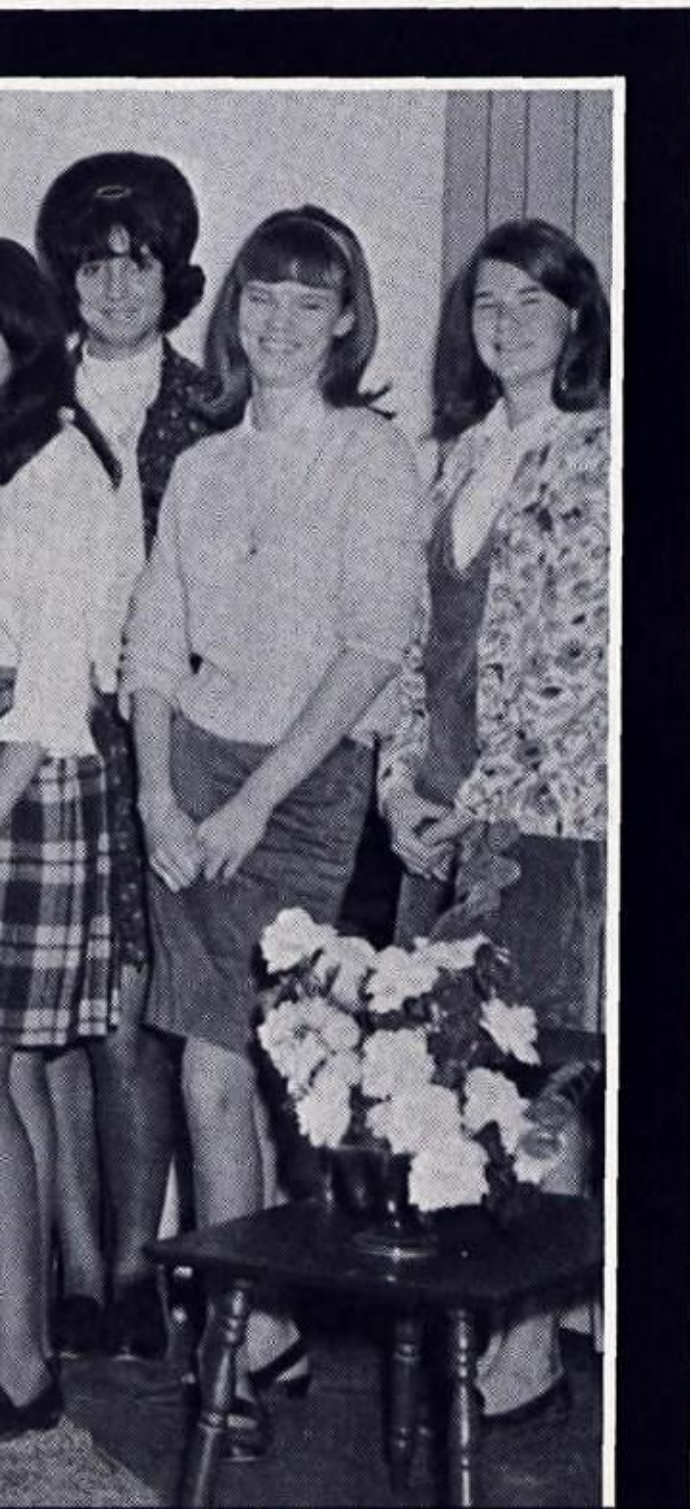

The courage and expectancy of these members are heightened by a blending of knowledge concerning old methods versus the new modern approach.

Homemakers Support Ideals for Community Living

Junior homemakers began learning the importance of home economics early in the semester. Emphasis was placed on the importance of worthy home membership, a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of creating a healthy atmosphere in the home and community.

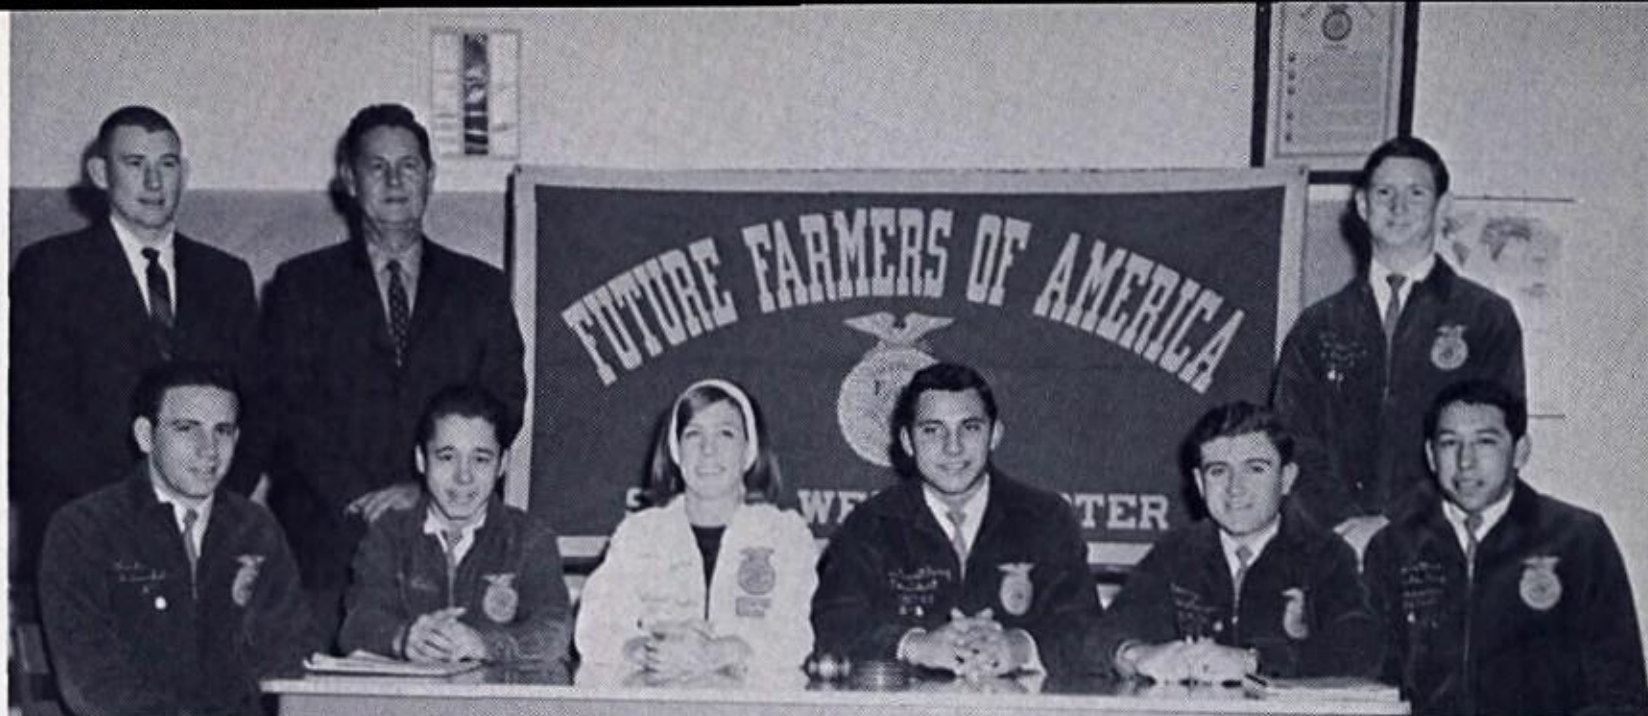

These busy girls also endeavored to acquire knowledge of how to care and feed infants, sewing and home cleaning. They are to be commended and encouraged in the art of homemaking.

Land of Agriculture

Danny Constanzo received a First for his Collard Greens which sold for $375.00 a bushel. He received Second for his Green Onions, selling for $230.00 a bushel. Danny sold Chinese Cabbage for $225.00 per bushel, receiving Third place. Quite an outstanding performance for this young farmer!

Senior, Barbara Collins, was chosen to represent our school at the Vegetable Day Show. After try-outs and eliminations, Babs was awarded the honor of Vegetable Day Queen for 1967-68.

Four outstanding Future Farmers were selected to represent our chapter in the Town and Country Optimist Club. Each year the Optimist Club of San Antonio honors outstanding people of the chapter in certain fields.

Danny Constanzo received his award in vegetable production; Ronnie Lindig, field crops; John Perez under leadership and field crops; Steven Calloway, productive enterprises.

Higher Achievements Are Rewarded

The Radio Broadcast winners were Jerry McWhorter, Raymond Krueger, and Ronnie Lindig. The team won Second Place at the Alamo District Contest at Floresville. They placed Fifth in the Area VII Leadership Contest at Southwest Texas State College.

F. F. A. Quiz members were Alvin Seay, Lance Lindsey, Roger Jackel, Albert Ludwig. At the Alamo District Leadership Contest at Floresville they placed Second. They received Twelfth at the Area VII Contest at Southwest Texas State College.

Senior Farm Skills Team took four consecutive first places, the first at City Public Service Board. The next was won at the Alamo District contest in Floresville. Another first place was taken at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos. The climax occurred in Huntsville, where they attained the State Championship. Members of the team were Chuck Frienenhahn, Jeff Powell and Chris Lessing.

The Junior Farm Skills Team participated at the local Public Service Contest receiving a first. They placed third at the Alamo District Leadership Contest at Floresville. Team members were Eddie Jonas, Joel Goode and Mike Frisenhahan.

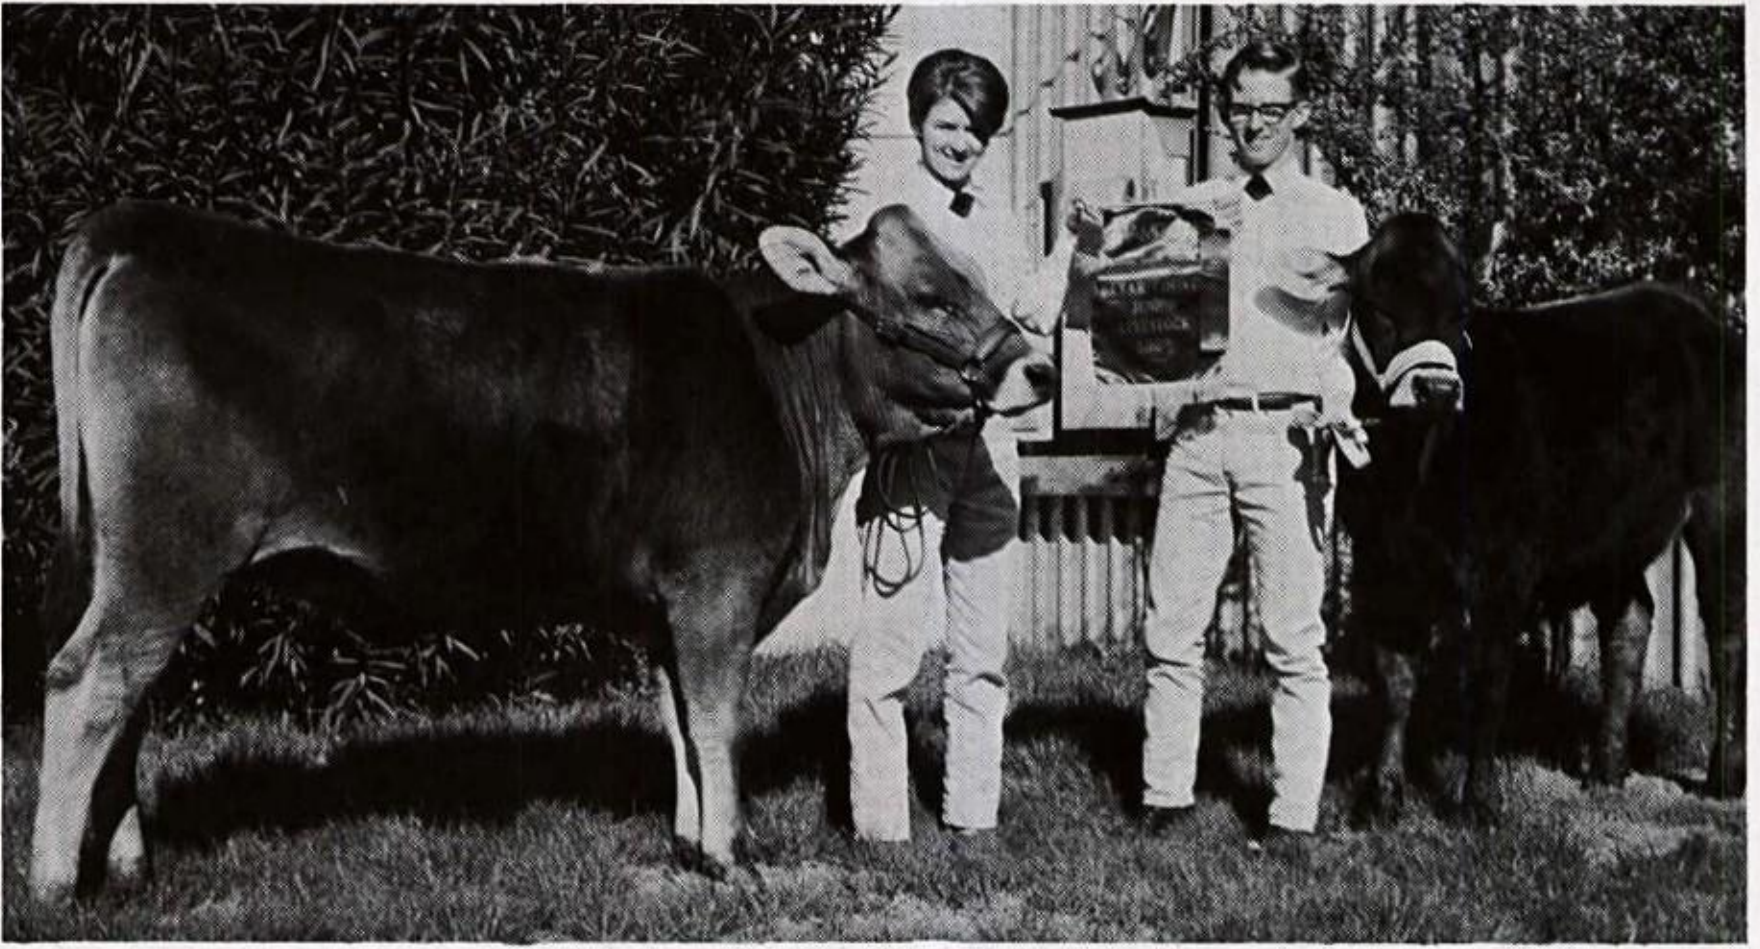

With Banners and Certificates

Senior Chapter Conducting Team placed fifth at the Alamo District Leadership Contest at Floresville. Team members were John Perez, Steven Calloway, Gregory Fields, Jessie Garza, Melvin Lindig, and Augustine De La Cruz.

Albert Ludwig received first place in "light-weight" Berkshire Division and Grand Champion of the light-weight class. He also received sixth place in the light-weight division in the San Antonio Exposition.

Donna Eppler, Junior, was chosen by the Future Farmers of America Chapter as their Sweetheart for 1967-68.

She represented the chapter in stock shows, parades, the District Sweetheart election, and various other events. She is also in charge of the scrapbook.

A New

Entering the new greenhouse can be very impressive. Members of the Horticulture class are engaged in helping build a sidewalk: Robert Becerra, Mike Ramirez, Danny Constanzo, Jesse Flores, Chick Scharringhausen, Augustine De La Cruz, George Lessing, Lee Koerber, and Dale Lyons.

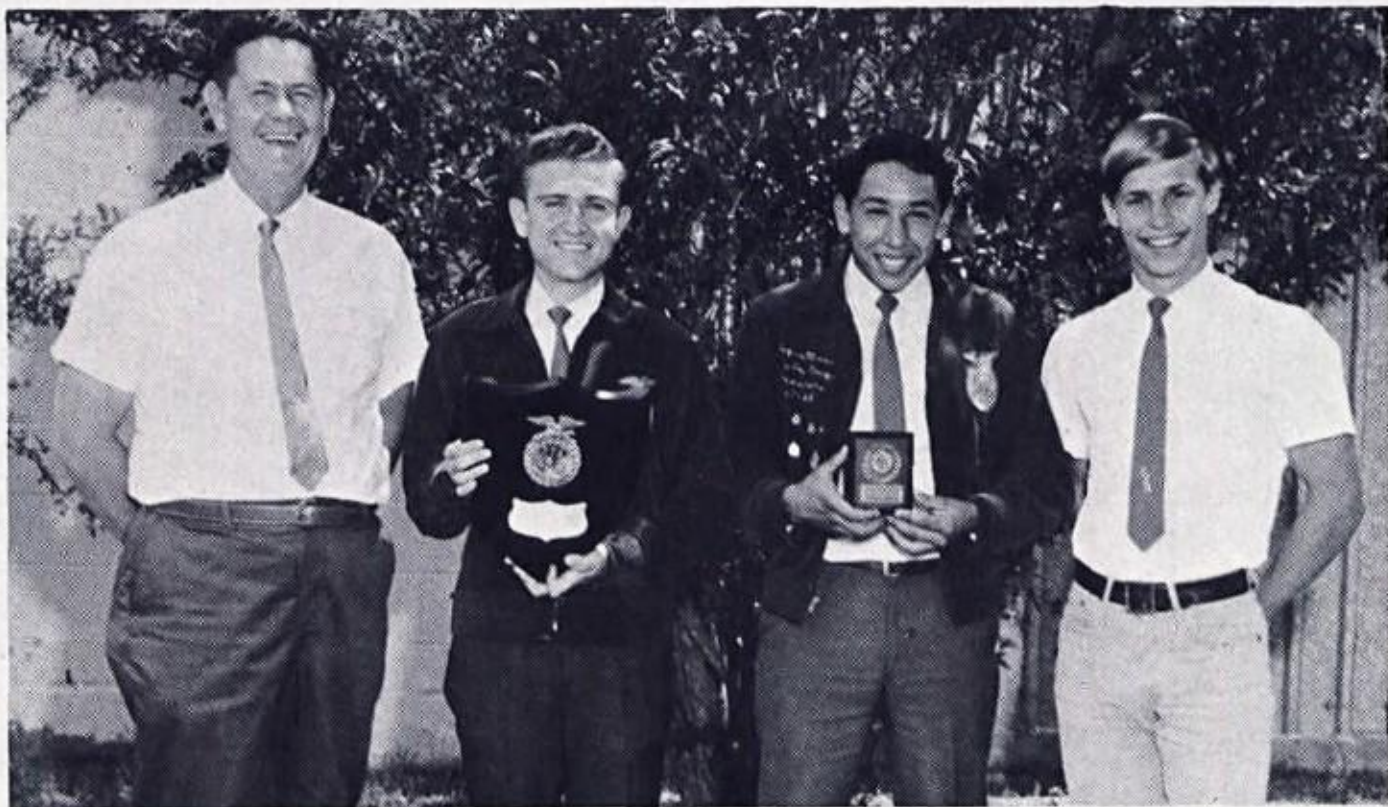

A new phase has come into being in the study of Agriculture, Landscape Horticulture. Fourteen members of this class participated as pioneers in this course. They studied plants and their identification, tools, motors, fertilizers, and greenhouse construction.

ra in Agriculture

Our Horticulture Team participated in the first State FFA Landscape Horticulture Plant Identification and Use Contest held at Texas A. and M. University at College Station, Texas. Members comprising this team were: Augustine De La Cruz, George Lessing, Danny Constanzo, and Mike Gardner, alternate. The team placed second in the contest, with Augustine De La Cruz placing third highest individual. A large plaque was won for the team's efforts and a personal plaque for Augustine.

Participants in the Landscape contest identified various kinds of ornamental plants, using scientific names. After identification, classification is determined and then landscape usage.

Team members and sponsor: Mr. Howard Richardson, Danny Constanzo, Augustine De La Cruz, and George Lessing.

Future Teachers Practice in Classroom

The goal of Future Teachers' Association is to teach young adults more about the profession of teaching. Different aspects of education are given members through guest speakers, conventions, and actual classroom experience as student teachers.

Future teachers learn the need for a quick mind with the right answers for classroom teaching. New teaching techniques are introduced to students in actual classroom experiences to make this club popular and informative as well.

Sports

Senior Varsity

Football Sweetheart for 1967, Barbara Ochs, a very personable Junior, was chosen by the football boys as their sweetheart to represent them in the season's activities and during homecoming celebration.

Each year an outstanding girl in high school is chosen for this honor, and Barbara is no exception, being soft spoken in voice and beautiful in person.

Barbara's winning smile brought cheer to the hearts of players and spectators as she sat by the boys during pep rallies and represented them at games, half-time, and homecoming.

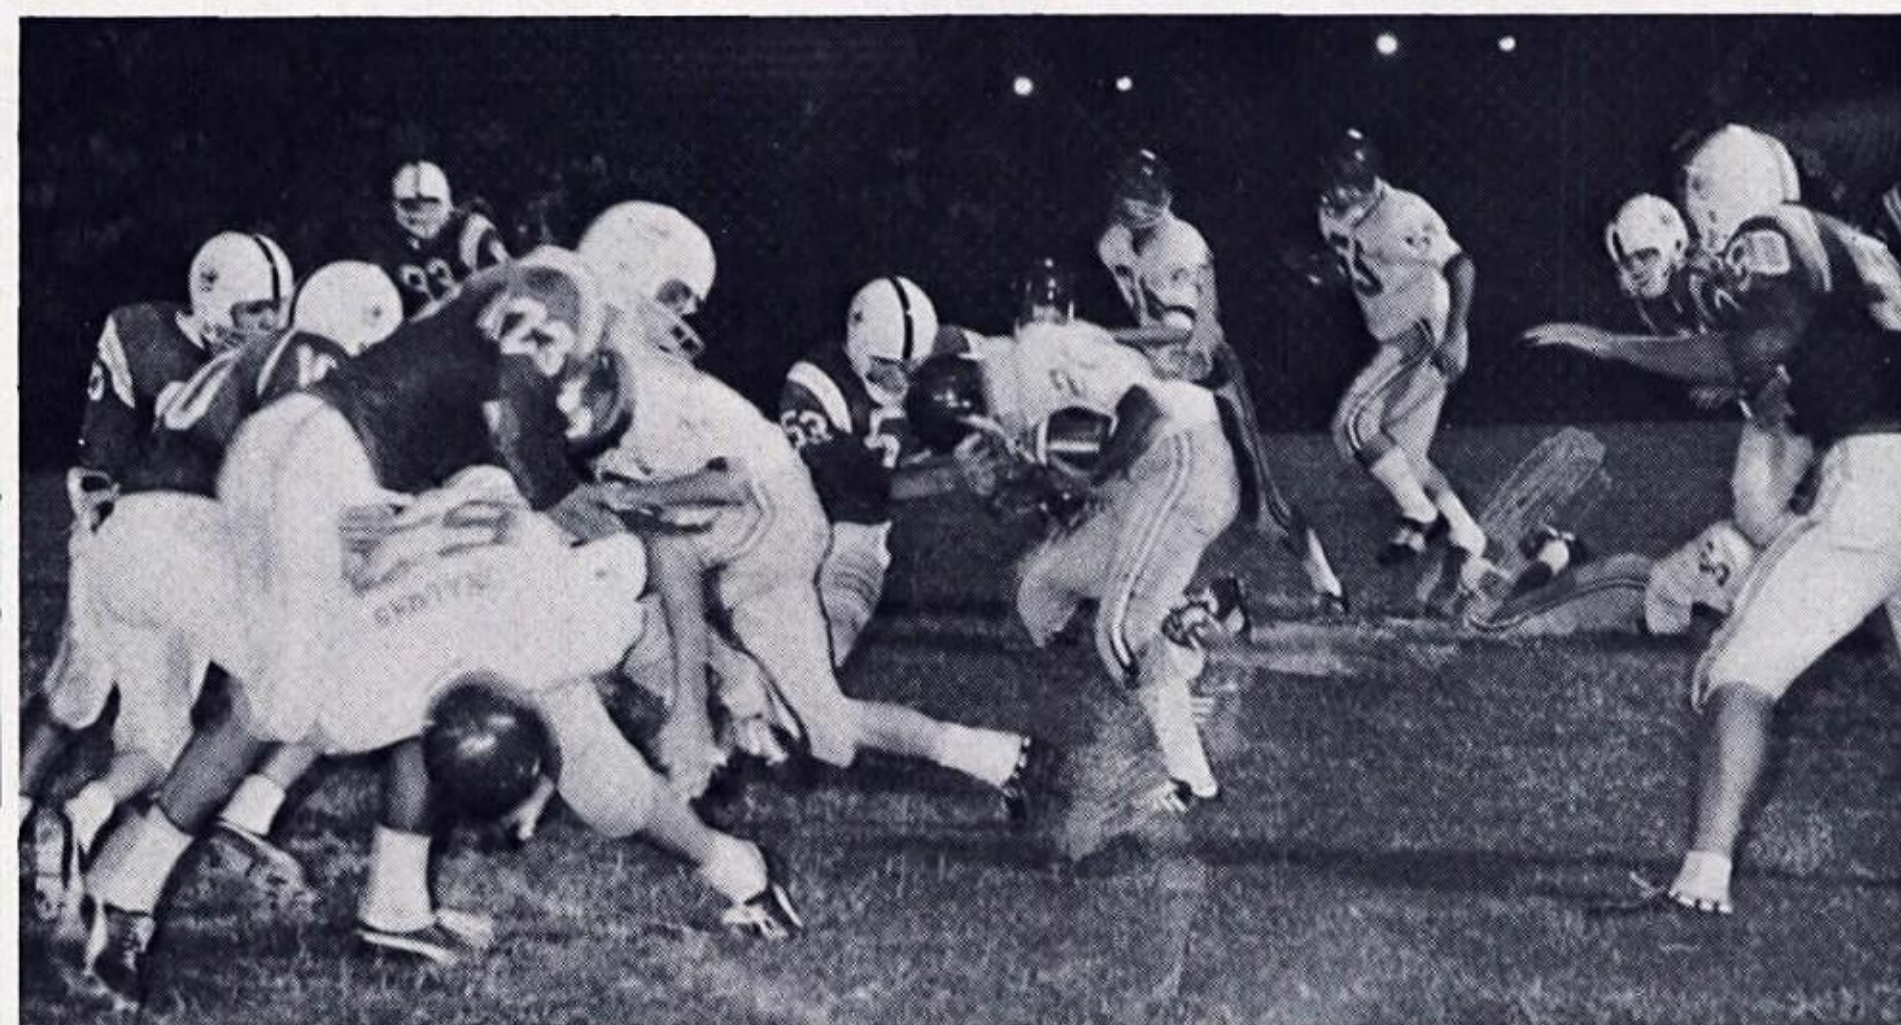

Coaches and players stand to honor Barbara Ochs as she is presented to student body as Sweetheart for 1967.

all Sports Program

The coaching staff at Southwest has tried to emphasize the values and merits of a good athletic program. In a day when there is a growing tendency for youth to become physically soft, we need to encourage students to devote themselves to a program which requires rigid discipline and control of their attitudes, emotions, and physical habits.

These coaches at Southwest Junior and Senior Schools have tried to do everything possible to promote the welfare of the individual and help our young people meet the stress and strain of modern day society.

Coaches Brown and Smith give instructions to Chuck Friesenhahn of the Varsity squad.

Homecoming Queen, attractive Gail Pettyjohn, was chosen the Senior Class representative for 1967 and elected by her fellow students as their choice for the events which highlighted the football season. The tradition of electing a homecoming queen is one filled with emotion and suspense. The thrill of wondering who would finally be selected was uppermost in the minds of all students. But, most of all, the contestants were wondering, "Will I be the one?."

The smile that brightened Gail's face when she learned she had won was one of pure happiness. She was certainly a radiant queen, and one who will not be forgotten by those who saw her.

Chuck Scharringhausen and Mr. Milam add fuel to the flames of an already over-loaded bonfire.

Homecoming Celebration

Climbing through the night sky, the Dragon-built bonfire boosts Homecoming spirit.

Bustling with activity, Southwest's campus, spiced by tangy odors of ham, potato salad and beans, took on the atmosphere of a backyard family reunion, as ex-students came home to help celebrate with the crowning of a homecoming queen, Gail Pettyjohn, for 1967, climaxed by a reunion dance held in the school cafetorium.

Queen, Gail, and her court, Junior representative, Sandra Guzman, Sophomore representative, Teresa Smith, and Freshman representative, Linda Sue Hernandez, reigned over the festivities.

Escorts were as follows: Colvern Buchholtz, Jesse Garza, Harold Anderson, and Keith Sullivan.

Junior Varsity Team

Southwest's Junior Varsity football team completed six games, the team being composed of freshmen and sophomores for the most part.

A Junior Varsity schedule is played for the purpose of giving the boys experience and opportunity to play which they would not receive on the varsity squad. The Junior Varsity compiled a season record of 2-4 but showed great signs of improvement and desire each week.

Honor Students

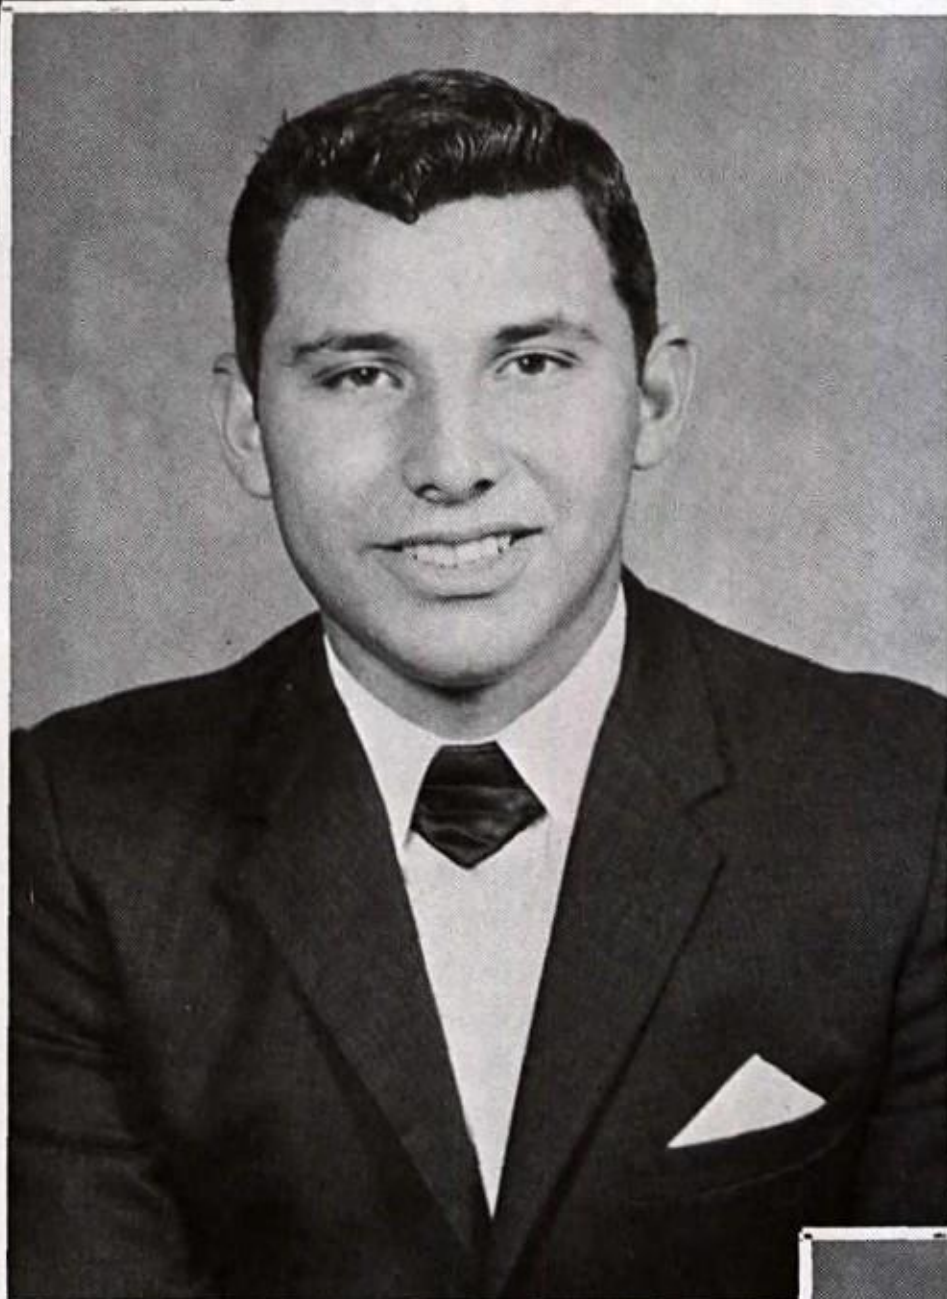

Dragon—

STEVEN CALLOWAY

Dragonnnette—

CAROL MILLER

JOHN PEREZ

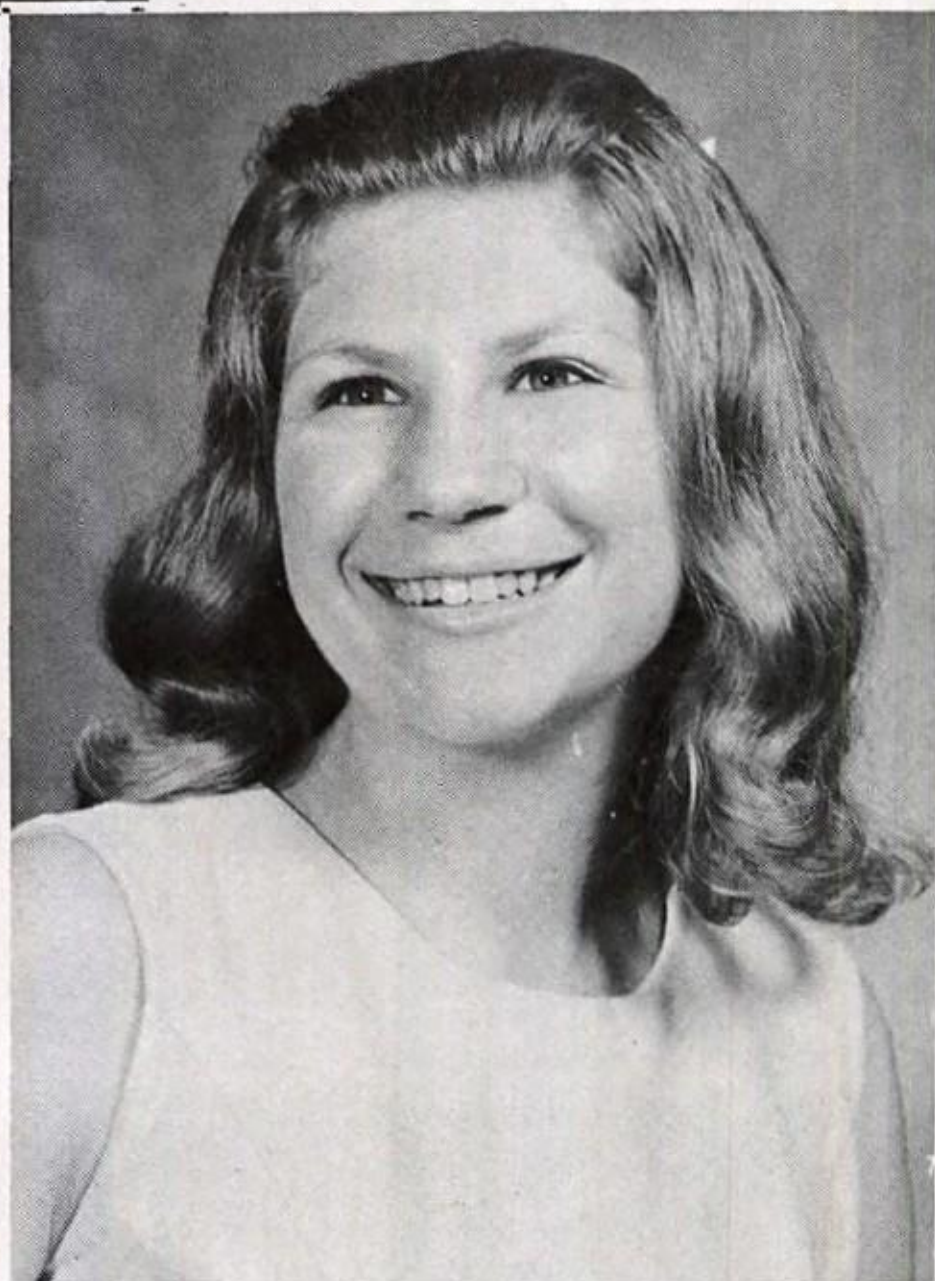

Throughout his years at Southwest John Perez has exhibited an outstanding ability to lead. His ready smile and quick wit make him one of the most popular seniors on campus.

He has earned the honor of being chosen to represent his class in "Who's Who."

COLLEEN KOLODY

Even though this is only Colleen Kolody's second year at Southwest, she has proved to be one of the most capable and admired students.

She was voted by the Senior Class to be Most Dependable, and she is this year's Valedictorian.

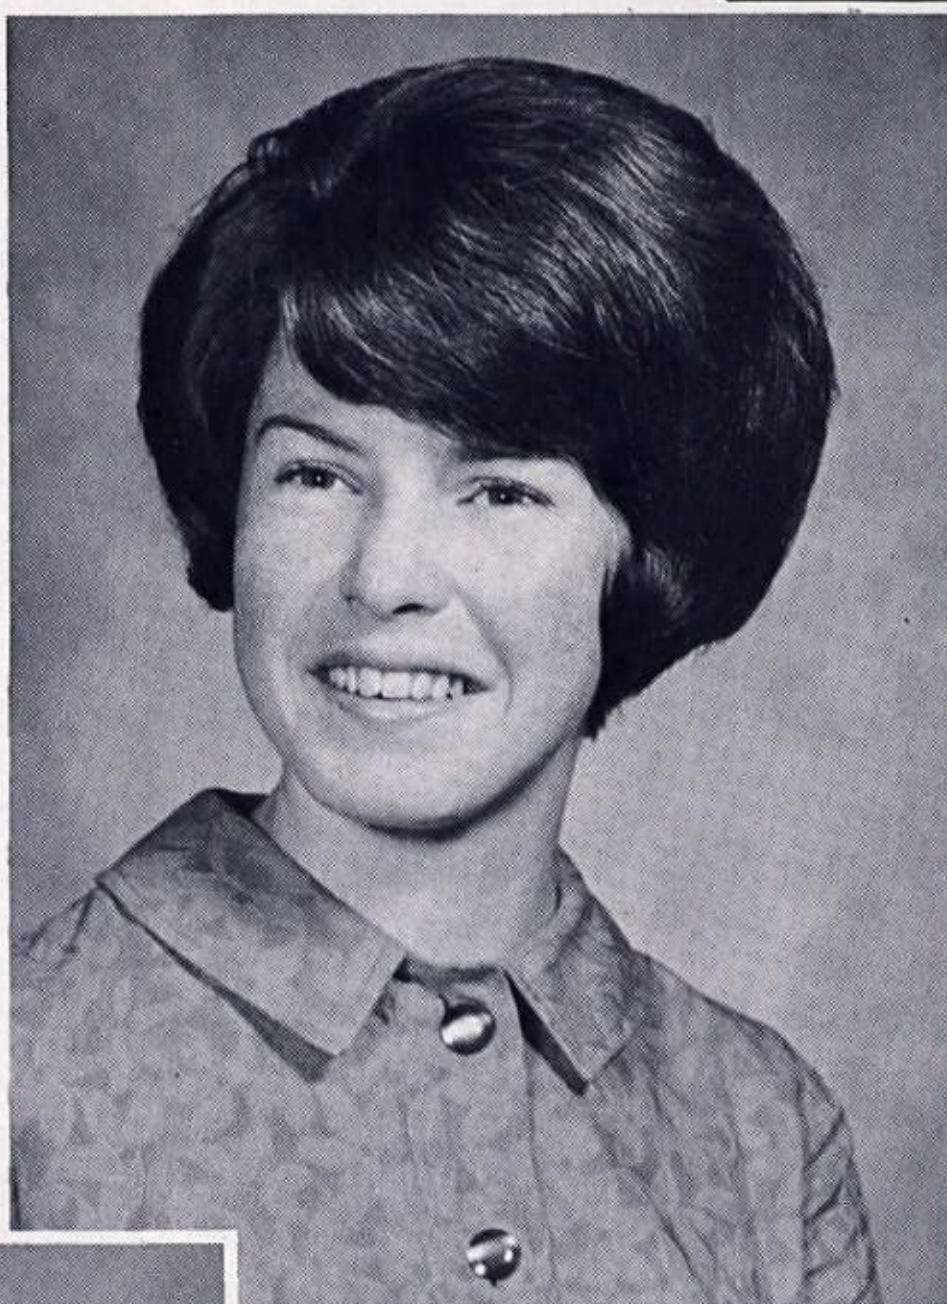

no

MARY JANE MULHOLLAN

Mary Jane Mulhollan has the distinction of being chosen as one of the top students for the third consecutive year.

Her devotion to school organizations and student life makes her a well qualified member of this group of students.

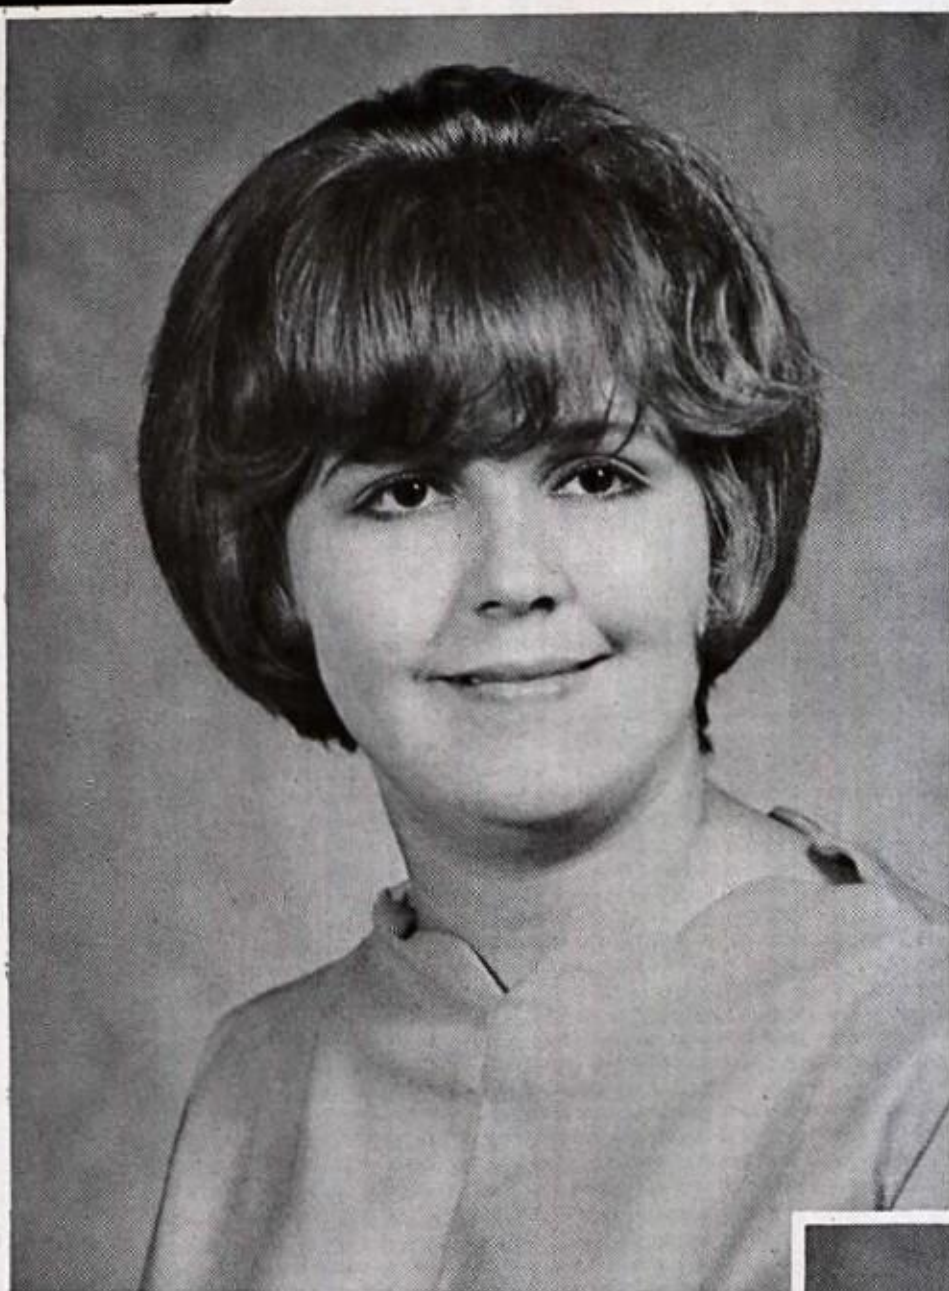

DONALD KITE

Although Donald's interests are varied, one will most likely find him deeply involved with a math problem.

Don has been an active member of the National Honor Society for the past three years.

THELMA BAILEY

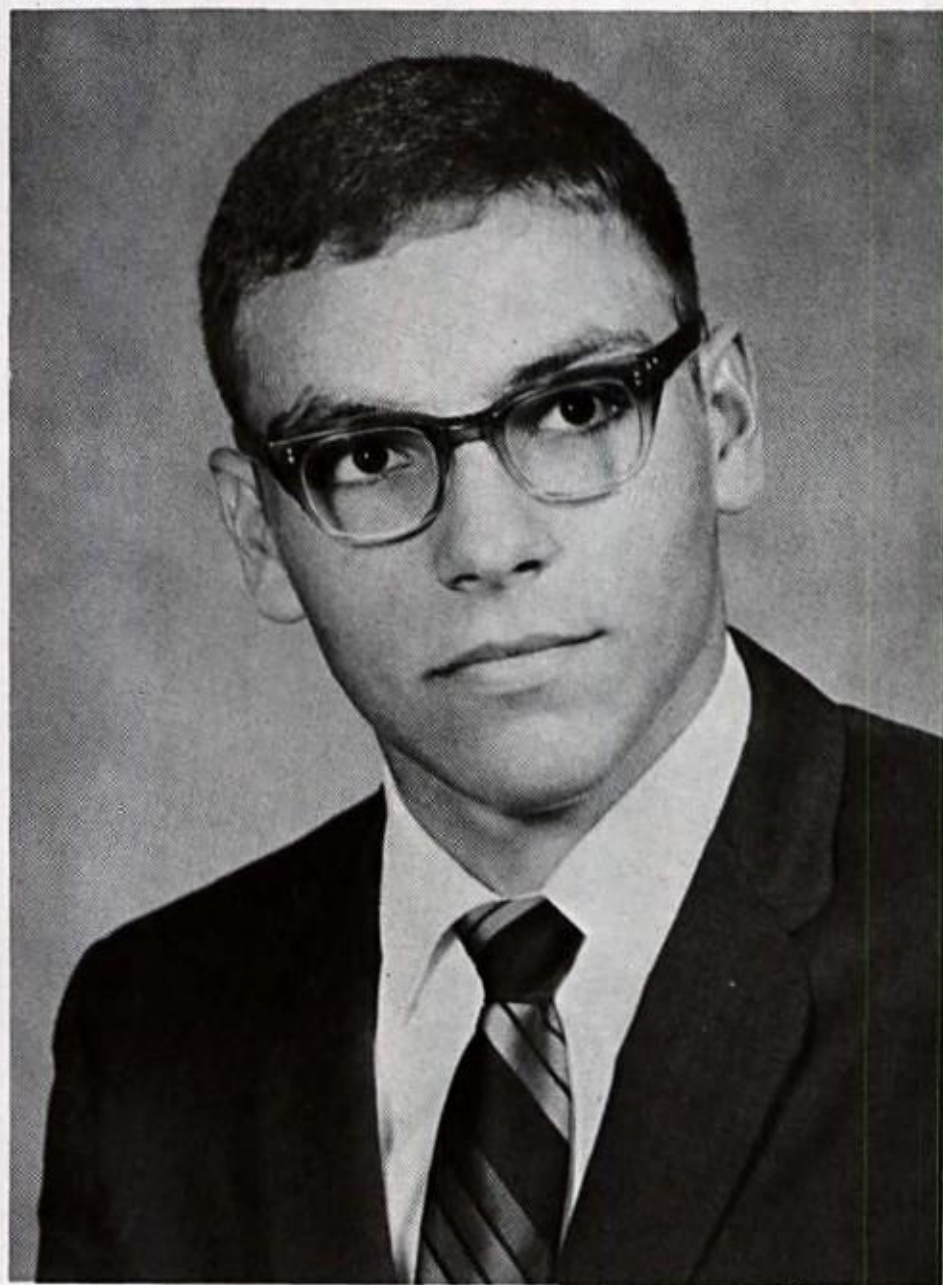

Senior, Thelma Bailey, one of our finest mathematic students, shows her enthusiasm and spirit by serving as a majorette with the band.

Her intelligence is best exemplified by membership in the National Honor Society for three years and being chosen Salutatorian for this year.

JOSEPH DAYOC

An exceptional junior is Joseph Dayoc. Not only has Joe been outstanding in his capacity as Class President, but he has been active in sports as well.

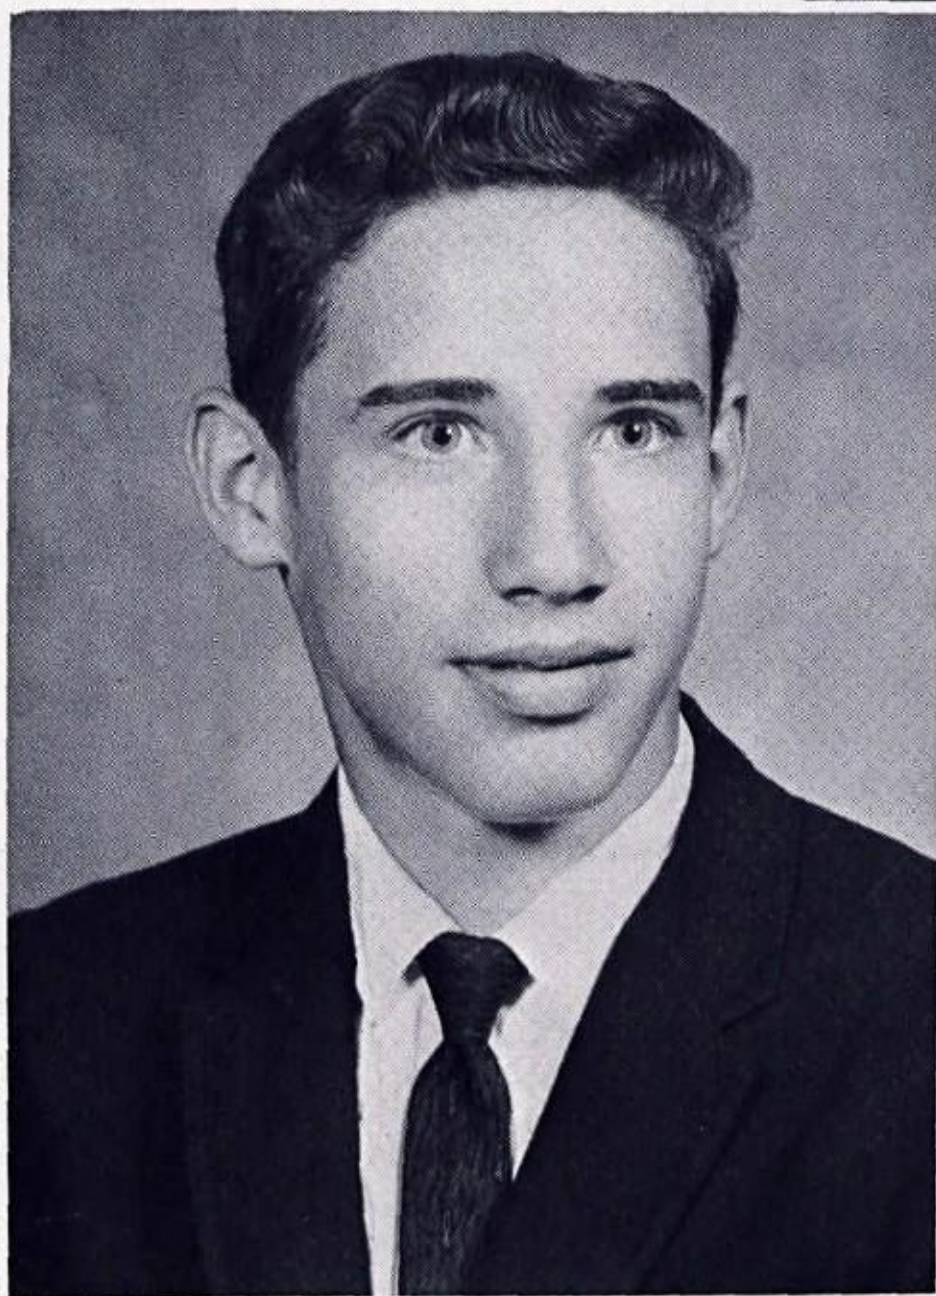

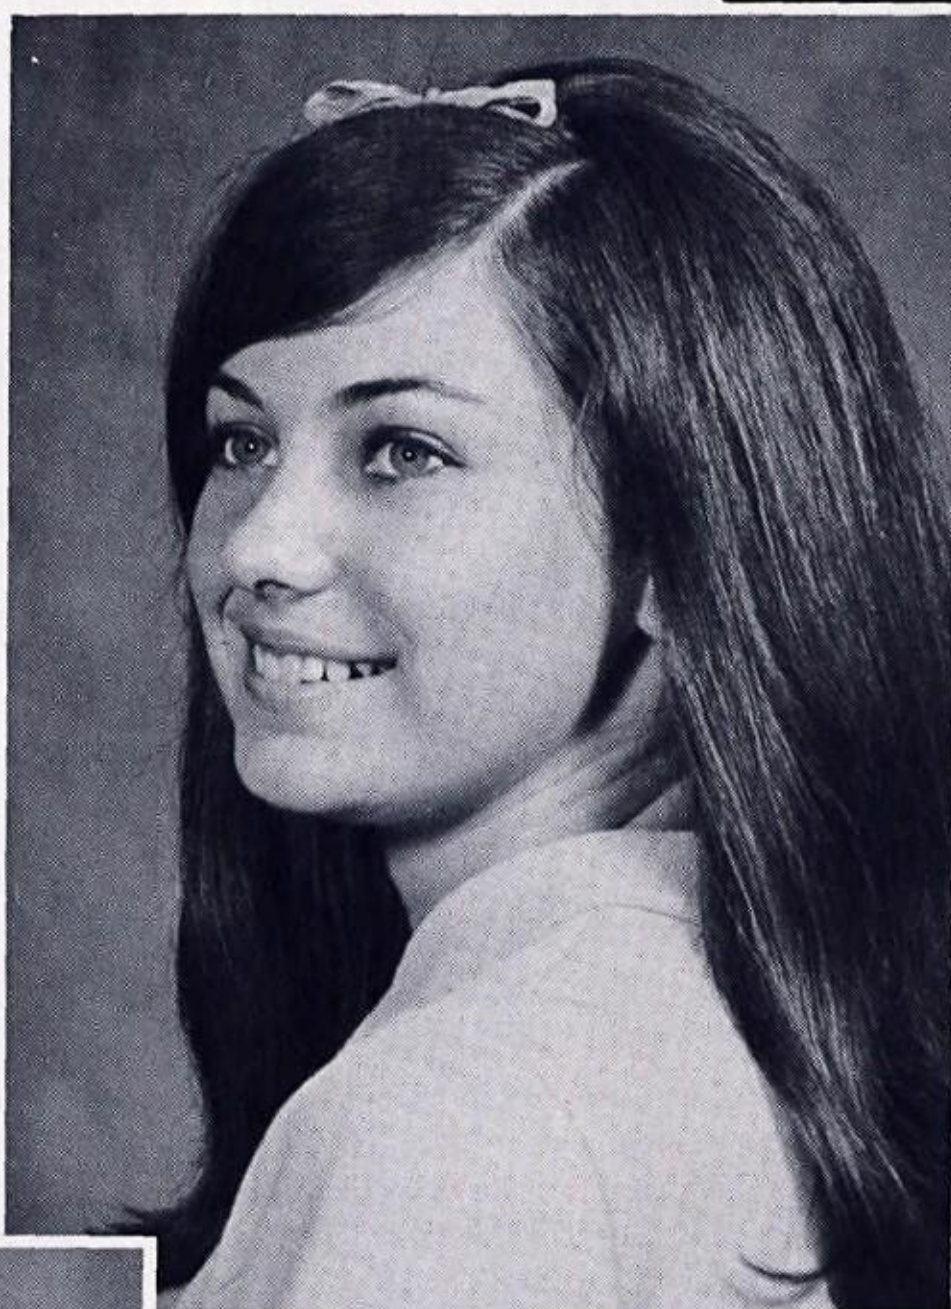

Joe is a member of National Honor Society, and he has been elected President of this organization for the 1968-69 school year.

HELEN JANECEK

Helen Janecek's abilities expand over many fields. She excels academically, and is a well-liked personality, endearing herself to all her friends.

Her friendly and cooperative spirit has made her one of Southwest's most popular students. Earning the respect of all who know her, Helen deserves recognition.

CHUCK FRISENHAHN

Chuck Friesenhahn is a very versatile individual around the campus. His active participation in sports, FFA, and Student Council make him an ideal member of "Who's Who."

His overall attitude in all situations is one of optimism, yet one of sincerity. This has gained him the respect and friendship of those around him.

COLLEEN KOLODY -
VALEDICTORIAN

The highest achievement academically possible in the graduating class has been attained this year by Colleen Kolody. She has attended Southwest for two years and has participated actively in class and school activities. She has been an active member of the National Honor Society, serving as Secretary during the 1967-68 school year.

Colleen's ability, desire and willingness to work have made her popular with the students and faculty.

To show their respect and appreciation for her, the Senior Class voted her into the Hall of Fame as Most Dependable, while the Faculty chose her as a nominee in the nation wide Outstanding Teenagers of America Contest.

THELMA BAILEY -
SALUTATORIAN

The second highest honor awarded to a high school student is that of Salutatorian. Thelma Bailey has exemplified excellent scholastic achievement throughout her years in high school.

She was a member of the National Honor Society and served as this year's Vice-President. She won an award for Outstanding Achievement in Advanced Mathematics. Among other honors awarded Thelma were a scholarship from the Parent Teachers' Association; Majorette for three years with the Dragon Band; Treasurer in the Student Council.

Active participation in school and extra-curricular activities has brought honor to Thelma and the school.

Steven Calloway has held a great number of positions this year. He was President of the Student Council, Editor of the Dragonniere, and a member of the National Honor Society. He was given the title, Dragon, a distinct honor bestowed upon him by the faculty.

The various fields of interest in which he has diligently served have not hindered him socially or academically. This is evident in his outgoing personality and a church related scholarship which he deservingly received.

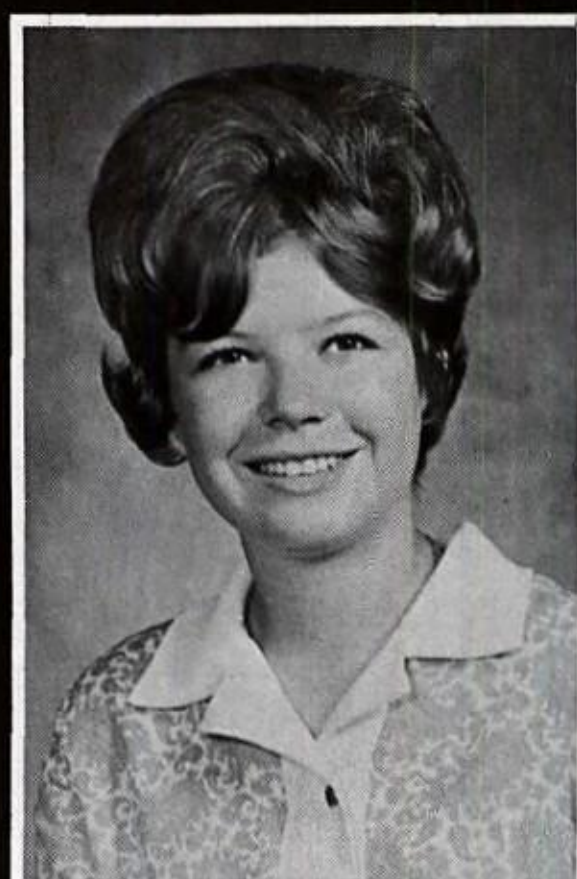

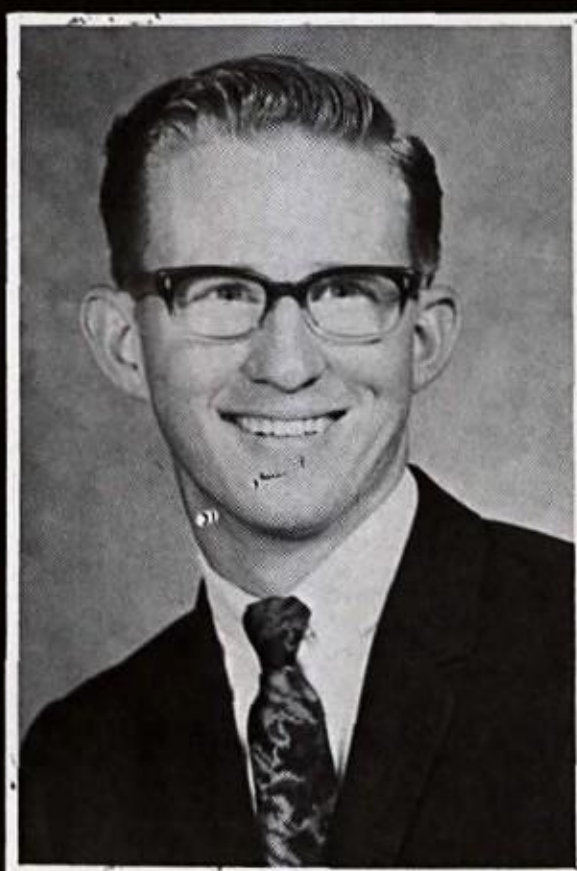

The highest degree awarded by the State Association of the FFA, the Lone Star Farmer Degree, was awarded this past summer to Ronnie Lindig, Curtis Gunn and Steven Calloway at the State Convention in Dallas.

This achievement has been given to only two students from Southwest in previous years of competition. Marks of superlative accomplishment in leadership activities, extracurricular activities, and production of livestock and crops are needed for this award.

Thelma Bailey has been a member and officer of the National Honor Society, the Student Council, and Future Teachers of America. Her wide-spread interest and outstanding service to the school and the Band has been rewarded by academic success. She was selected as Salutatorian of the Class of '68 and received a church related scholarship.

The Parent Teachers Association awarded Thelma the first scholarship to be given by this organization.

The title of Dragonnette presented to the most outstanding girl in the graduating class is given to Carol Miller, our Breckenridge Scholarship winner, Assistant Editor of the Dragonniere, President of the National Honor Society, and All-Star Cast winner in the U.I.L. contest. Recognition for her achievements was given by the Daughters of the American Revolution award of "Good Citizen."

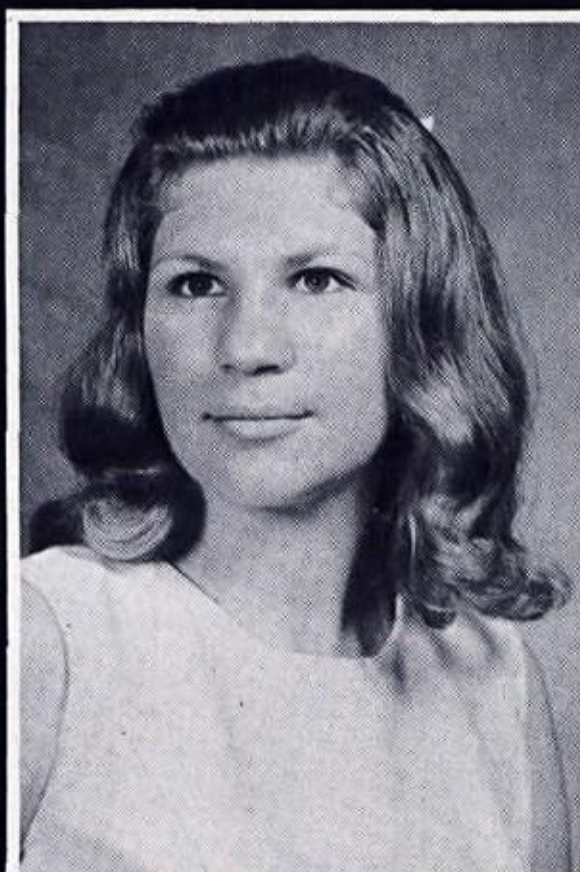

Carol is a wonderful example of the "All-American Girl" of Southwest.

Scholarship Honors

Bill Schrank has devoted his entire school career to the development of musical talent. The long hours required for practice, Saturdays and holidays devoted to parades, concerts and contests have paid good dividends. St. Mary's University recognized his ability by awarding him a four year $1,500 music scholarship.

Colleen Kolody, Valedictorian of the graduating class, is truly deserving of the scholarship presented her. She also received a church related scholarship, and the award from Readers' Digest for a year's subscription in the language of her choice. Colleen's contribution to the school has been greatly appreciated.

Class

Two of the most versatile members of the Junior Class are Cathy Pickhover and Wayne Brandin. Cathy excels academically, and her participation in extra-curricular activities is appreciated by the student body and faculty.

Music is one of Wayne's main interests. His singing ability made him an important "celebrity" at Southwest.

Wayne and Cathy are perfect representatives of the Junior Class.

Barbara Collins and Steve Calloway have attained the distinction of being Class Favorites for the second consecutive year. Babs' vivacious personality, charm, and beauty are just a few of her many admirable attributes, and she is well deserving of the title of Senior Class Favorite.

Steve has participated in many activities during his school career and has been outstanding in all of them. His direct leadership and willingness to work for the school has won for him the respect and admiration of his classmates.

Babs and Steve are, indeed, a wise choice for Senior Class Favorites.

Favorites

Two of the most popular individuals of the Freshman Class are Linda Curry and Keith Sullivan. Linda's fellow students find her to be a very congenial person. Her enthusiasm to please others makes her an ideal Freshman representative.

Athletics is Keith Sullivan's main interest. Due to an injury sustained in the summer Junior Olympics, he was unable to carry through with his participation this year. Because of his untiring interest and devotion to sports, he was manager of the entire athletic program for the past year.

Outgoing personalities characterize both Gloria Pickhover and Bernard Bynum. Gloria cooperates readily in academic and extracurricular activities, helping make various school programs successful. Her efforts and dependability are appreciated by the faculty as well as the student body.

Bernard's athletic abilities have gained for him the respect of his classmates. His quick smile and friendliness have made him a favorite person throughout the school.

Hall of Fame

MOST POPULAR

Gail Pettyjohn and Steven Calloway have received a meaningful honor in the minds of seniors. Gail maintains the ability to illuminate a room with her warmth and friendliness. Having been a majorette for three years, Gail has developed a truly enthusiastic attitude toward the joys of life and the meaning of amity.

Steven has proven his qualities of leadership in various organizations, such as the National Honor Society, Student Council, and Editor of the Dragonniere. But he has also reflected his deep-down ability to be friendly and understanding. Humility and honesty have made Steven a well-liked and well-respected individual.

MOST DEPENDABLE

Dependability is a significant trait characterizing Colleen Kolody and John Perez. Colleen's loyalty and devotion to the Drill Team in which she has been a member for two years, have reflected the kind of thoughtful person she is. Her willingness to engage in a job and see it through is quite evident to those around her. Colleen is a member of the National Honor Society and President of the F.T.A. She has also earned the title of Valedictorian.

John is a hard working and reliable individual. His achievements as President of the FFA and the Senior Class serve as examples of his devotion to duty. John's ability to organize and perpetrate his ideas have made him a most dependable person.

MOST ATHLETIC

Ruth Massingill and Ronald House are well deserving of such a distinction. Ruth has lettered three years in varsity basketball. She won second place in district for the 220 yard dash and missed qualifications for the state meet in the 100 yard dash by only a "hair."

Ronald has devoted his time to the robust sports. He has lettered four years in both football and basketball, as well as having lettered three years in baseball. To add to the various distinctions, Ronald received Honorable mention in baseball.

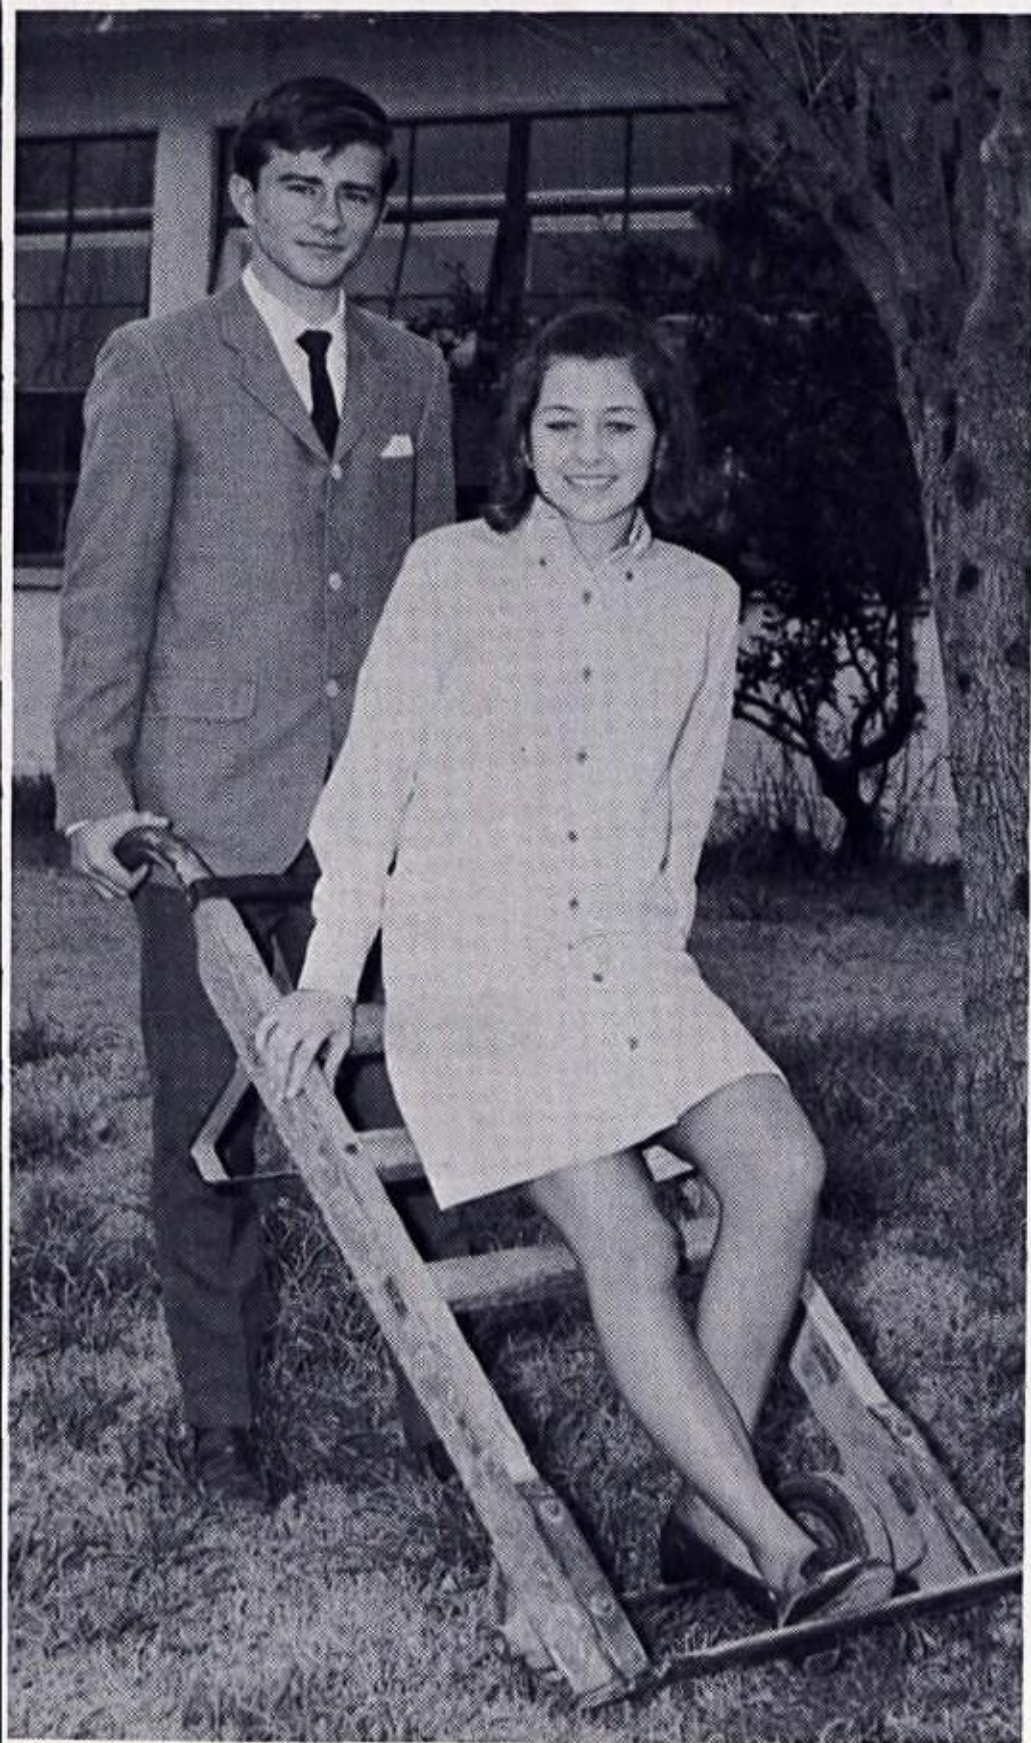

Indeed, Ruth and Ronald depict the epitome of athletic America.

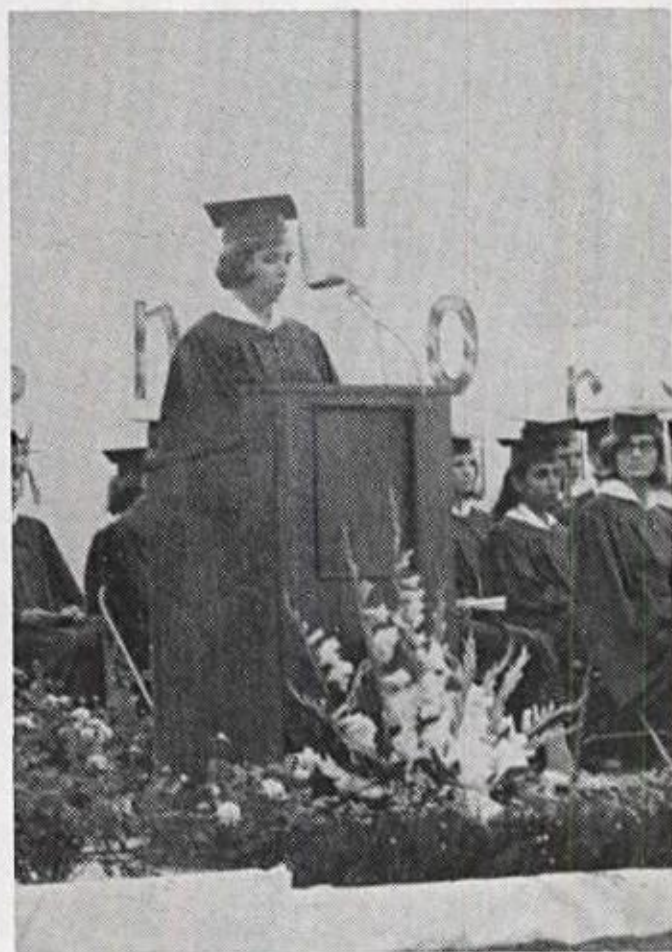

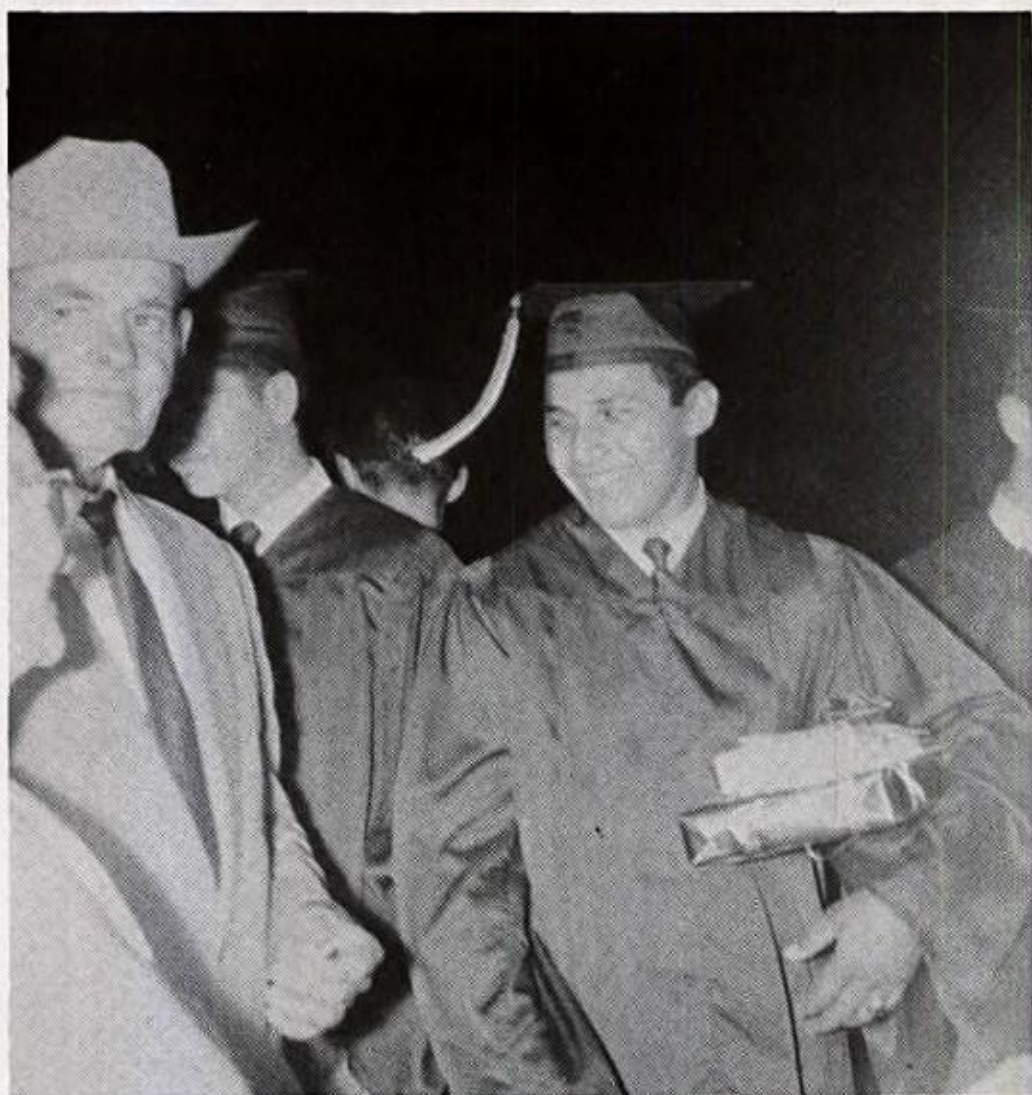

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

Kathy Lucas and George Staff have received this esteemed honor bestowed on only a select number of seniors. Kathy has been an active force in the speech and drama department, participating in the one-act play and girl's debate in the U. I. L. meet. Her diligence resulted in third place wins for the one-act play and debate team. Kathy is senior class representative in the Student Council. Her perpetual quest for improvement has made her a most resourceful and hard-working individual.

George has academically conditioned himself for a successful future. He is a member of the National Honor Society and the speech and drama department. George has acquired a well informed attitude of not only the school but the world about him. He is a prime example of self-reliance and ingenuity.

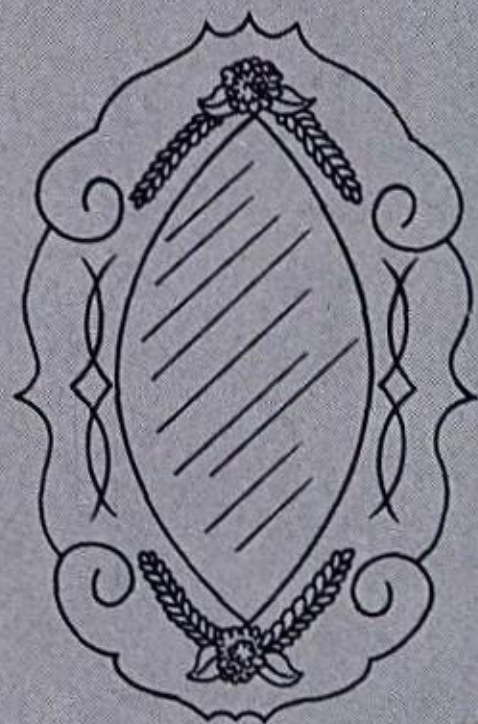

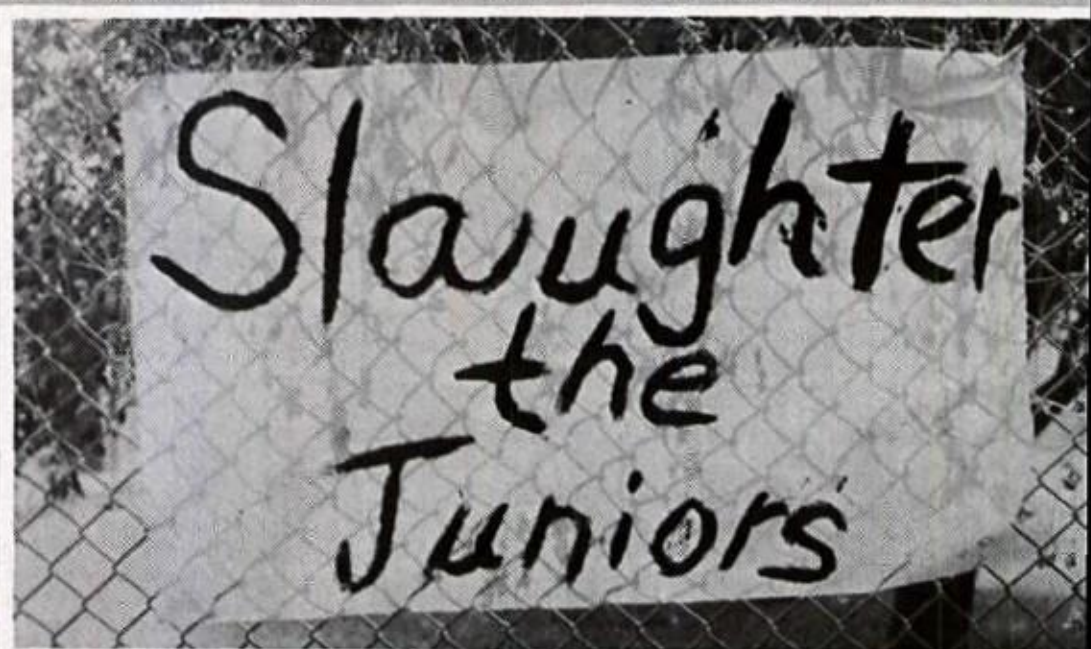

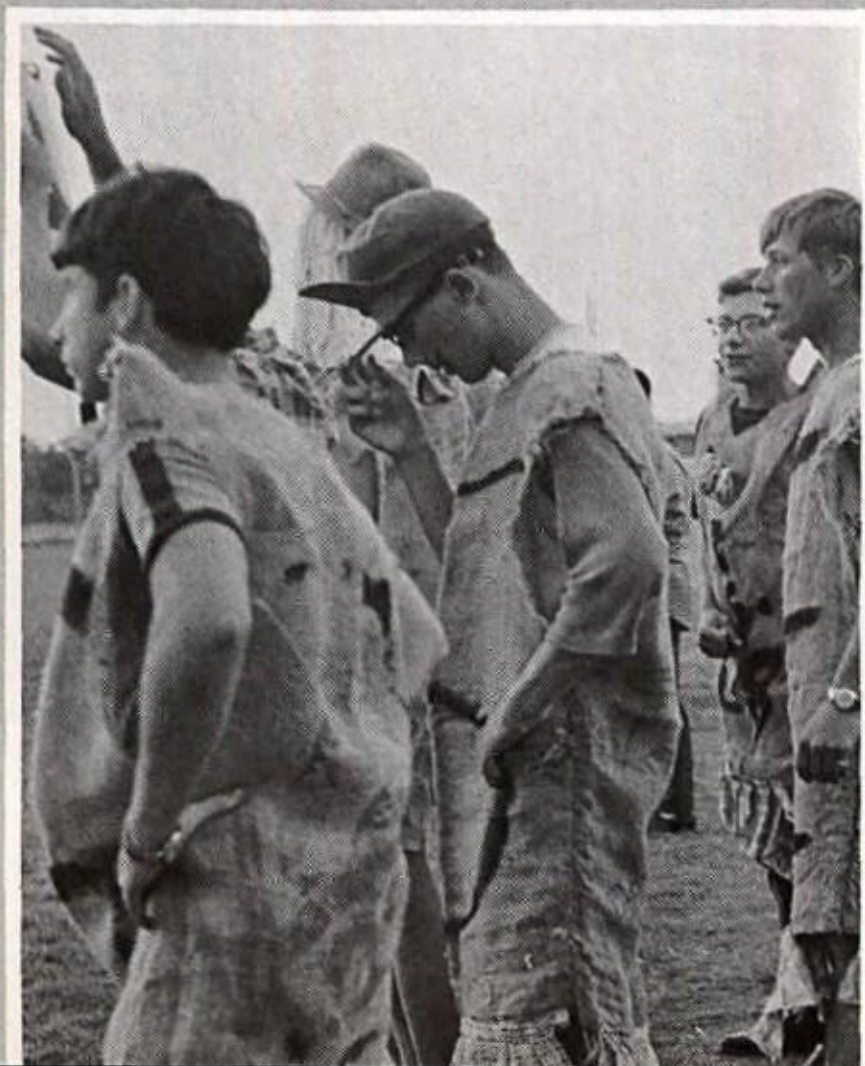

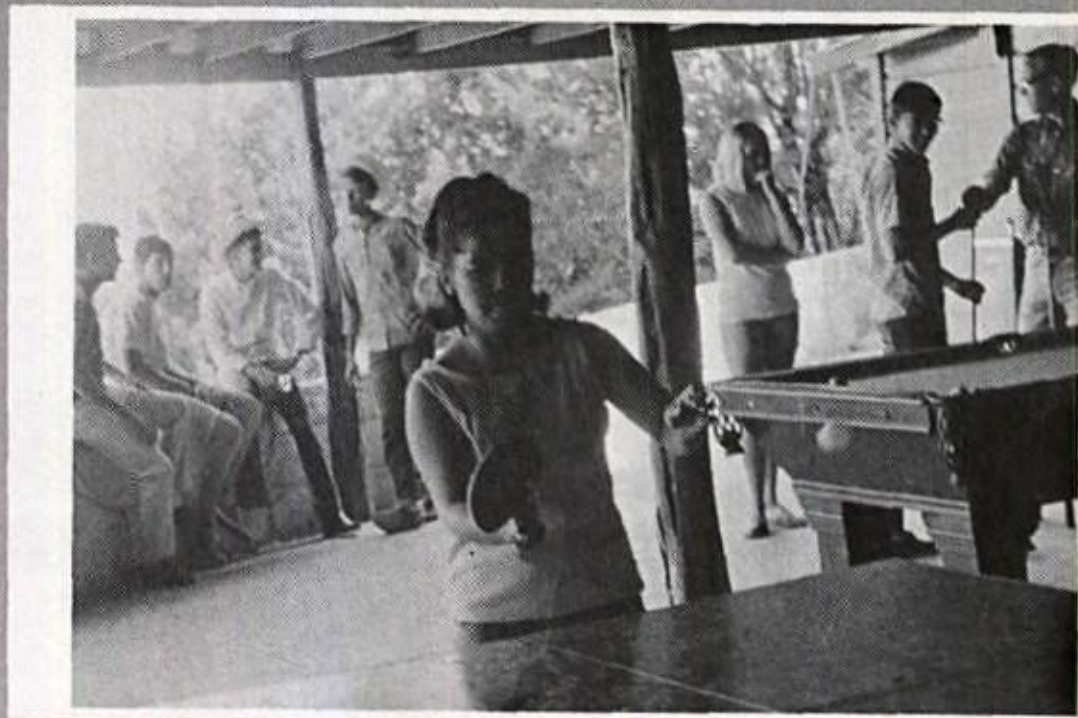

Seniors Face Complex World

Speeches made by the top ranking students at graduation exercises rated high interest with guests and board members alike. Seniors could be proud of their representatives at this ceremony. Colleen Kolody, Thelma Bailey and Steve Calloway spoke on separate phases of the educational needs and methods facing youth today.

*Jr. Hi Combines
Effort and Satisfaction*

Administration

JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL,
MR. JOHN H. MORGAN

A new addition to our administrative staff at Southwest is Mr. John H. Morgan, Principal of the Junior High section of the school district.

Mr. Morgan received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Northwest Texas State University in Denton, Texas. He has had many valuable years of experience as a teacher, principal and superintendent. Mr.

Morgan came to Southwest this year from Dallas, where he spent a year in the Texas Youth Program.

Serving with dignity and dedication in his administrative capacity, Mr. Morgan has made many friends and assisted with the heavy increase in enrollment which always accompanies growth.

JUNIOR HIGH VICE-PRINCIPAL,
MR. MICHAEL PAGONIS

Mr. Pagonis, man of many talents, has revealed another one this year in his successful administrator's task as Vice-Principal of the Junior High section. We are fortunate in having such capable leadership, and Mr. Pagonis is truly a man of exceptional caliber. He has a talent for organization and a drive and skill rivaled by none.

The music department under the supervision of Mr. Pagonis has helped bring Southwest to the front of all school activities in the district. One of our busiest people on the staff, Mr. Pagonis is a friend to students and faculty alike.

MRS. CAROL MCDONALD, COUNSELOR
JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs. Carol McDonald has served as Counselor for the Junior High division of our school this year, coming from the homemaking department where she was engaged for several years in training young women as future homemakers.

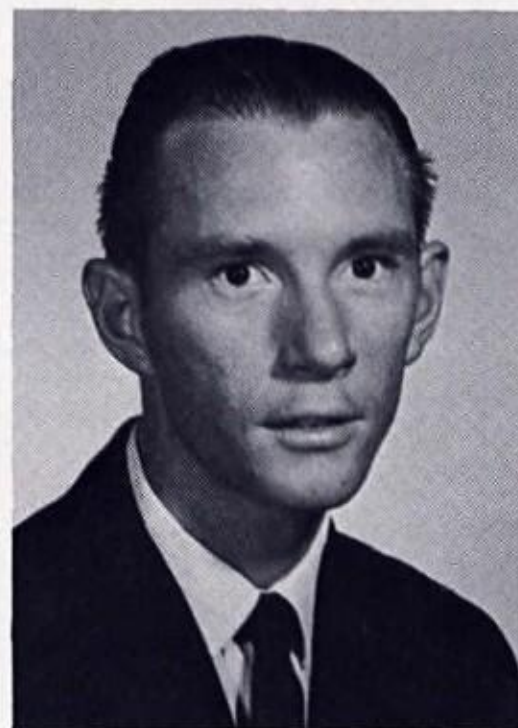

Her attractive, warm personality has helped in the planning procedures for junior high students. Under her careful supervision, students have successfully outlined courses for their senior high years to conform to curriculum requirements for graduation.

Science—Building for the Future

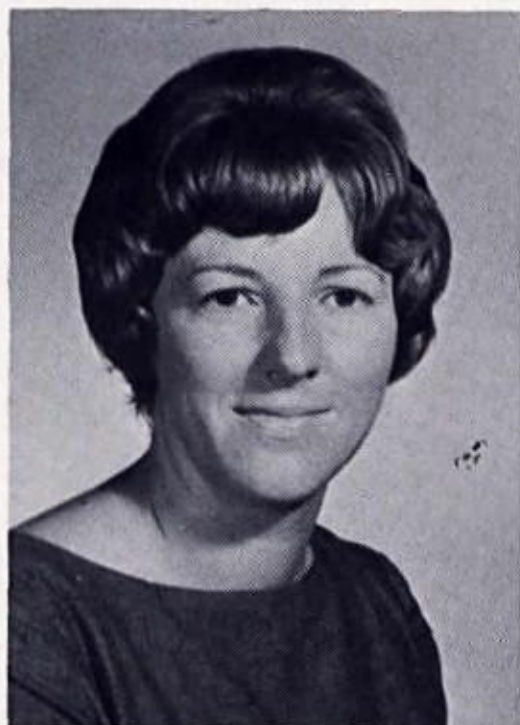

James Shelton, former graduate of Southwest High, finds Science to be challenging subject.

MR. JAMES SHELTON, B.B.A.,
A. & I. University

The student body of the Junior High has been preparing for the future with the aid of the study of basic science. More advanced subjects, such as biology, chemistry and physics, require a thorough understanding of scientific building blocks. With the ever increasing need for scientists in all major fields, it is agreed that fundamentals are important.

With experiments and round table discussions teachers credit students with ability to reason, comprehend, question, and express theories and ideas of their own.

Mathematics—International Language

MR. WILLIAM C. BULS,
B.S., University of Houston;
D.B., University of Chicago.

Development of reasoning and the subsequent exploration into other fields is the basis for the study of mathematics.

Mathematics in junior high is becoming most important as good foundations are laid for higher divisions of math.

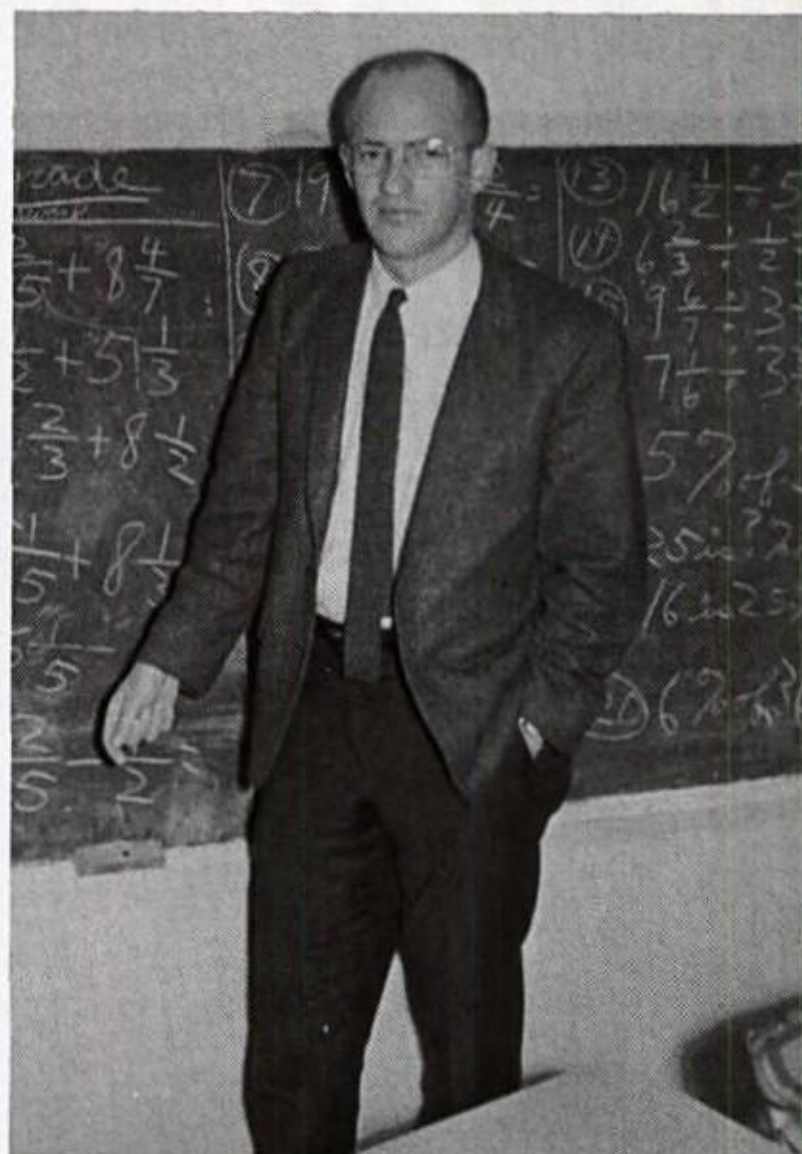

MR. ALAN E. SOEFJE
B.B.A., Texas A. & M.

Modern math has opened new horizons for students who have inquisitive minds and a real desire to find the answers. Simple formulas and problems can often become real in the classroom of these young aspirants to mathematical knowledge.

Fractions and more fractions! Mr. Soefje's blackboard reflects the problems outlined for junior high students.

Newspaper Boost

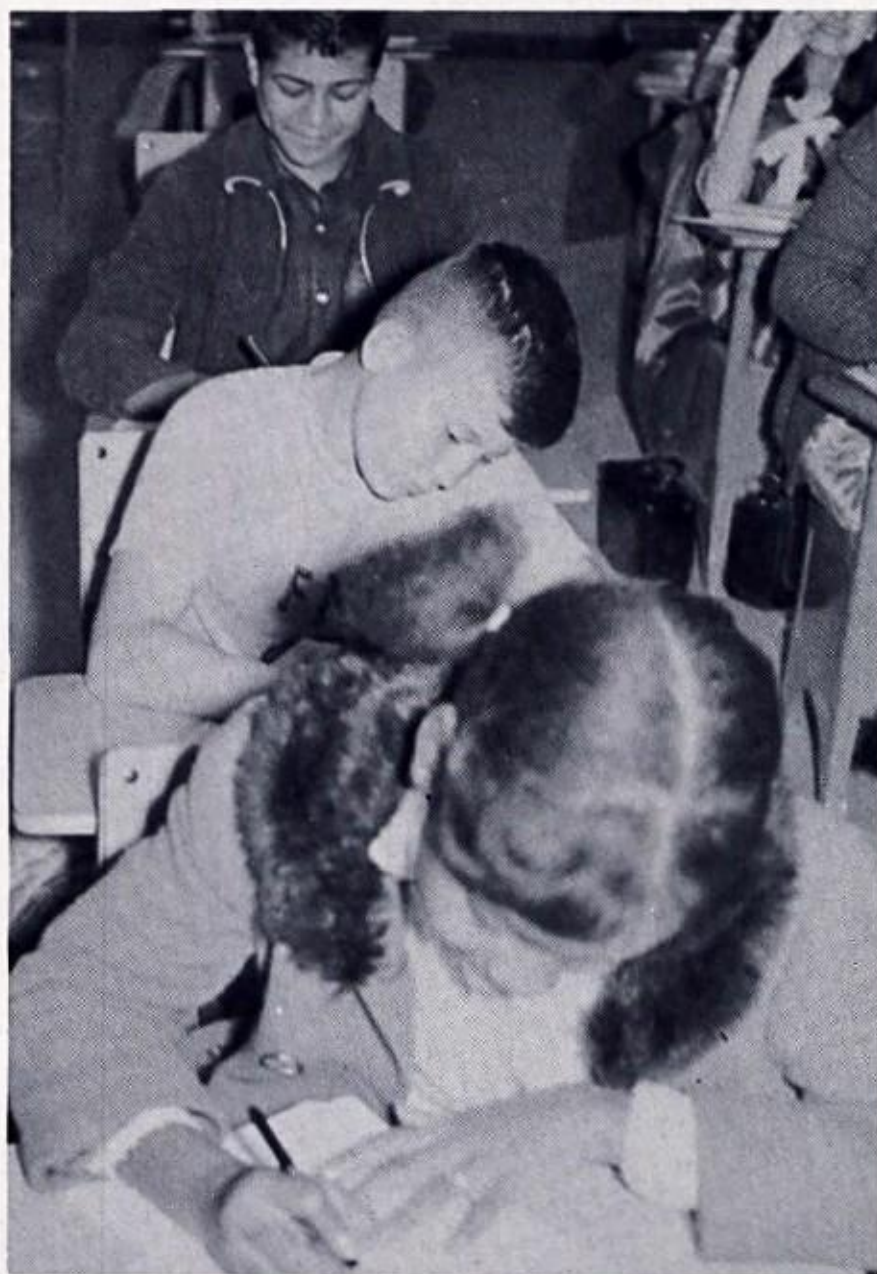

Mrs. Novak checks grades with William Crisp in Seventh grade English class.

Curriculum in the English department received an interesting addition in the advent of a Junior High newspaper. Students wrote, edited and published their first newspaper in this division of our school. It was considered an advancement in English skills and journalistic interests were encouraged and developed.

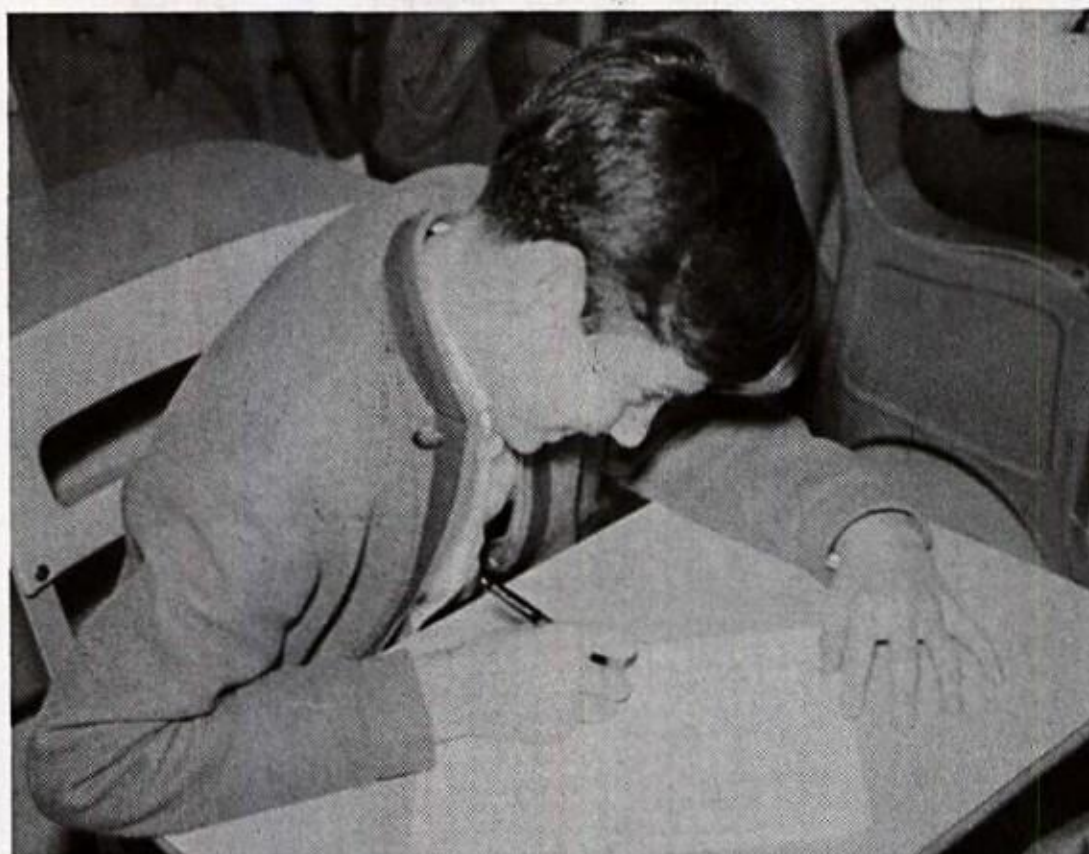

With the continued growth of the school district, all activities have increased. With new enthusiasm toward self-expression and a deeper understanding of subject matter, the student body has accepted new ideas and methods - and forged ahead.

English Department

Concentration is an important learning ability achieved by Delores Echols, Mike Varga, and Joe Garay.

Smiling broadly, Kenneth Stitcher finds a question in history he can answer.

MR. WALTHER JOHN IVES, B.A.,

Wide Look at History

Research proves beneficial to Candi Beam, pictured above.

MR. Jerry STRICKLAND, B.A., North Texas State University.

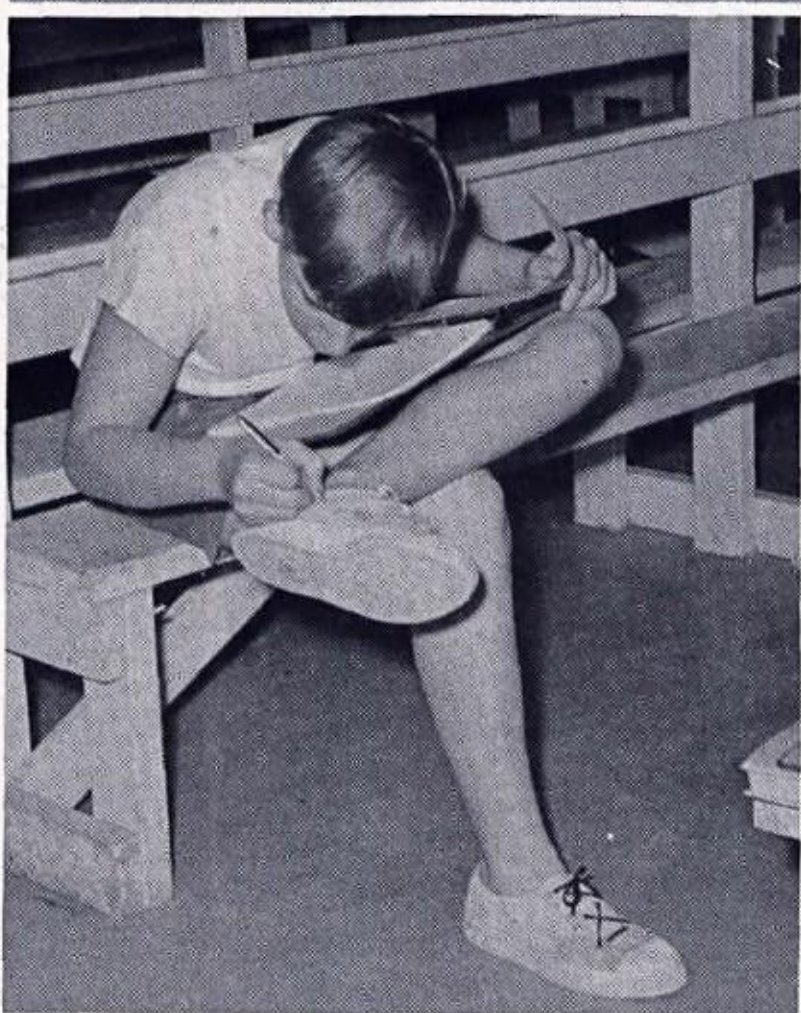

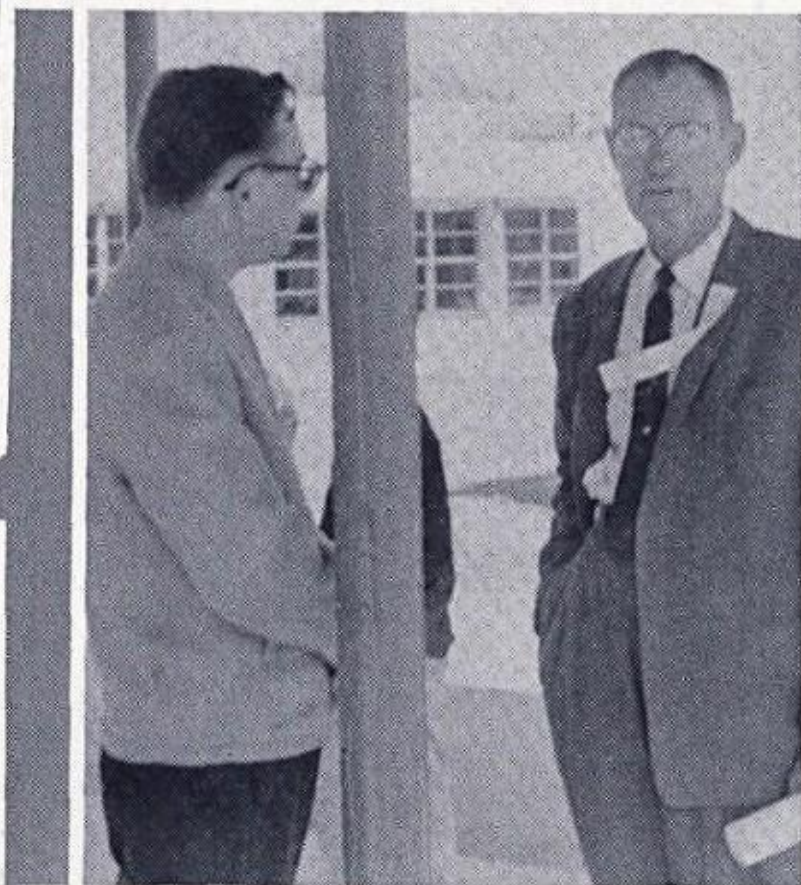

In the department of history each student has been endowed with the fundamentals of democracy, American ideals, and what it means to be a good citizen of the community.

The changing world we live in makes it important to learn our lessons well from the past and then press on to a better future.

Impressions are lasting, and history can make us think and determine the kind of world we want to work and strive to attain.

Mr. Morgan and Mr. Ives take time to discuss test schedules.

Digressing from his history assignment, Martin Rauschuber decorates his tennis shoes.

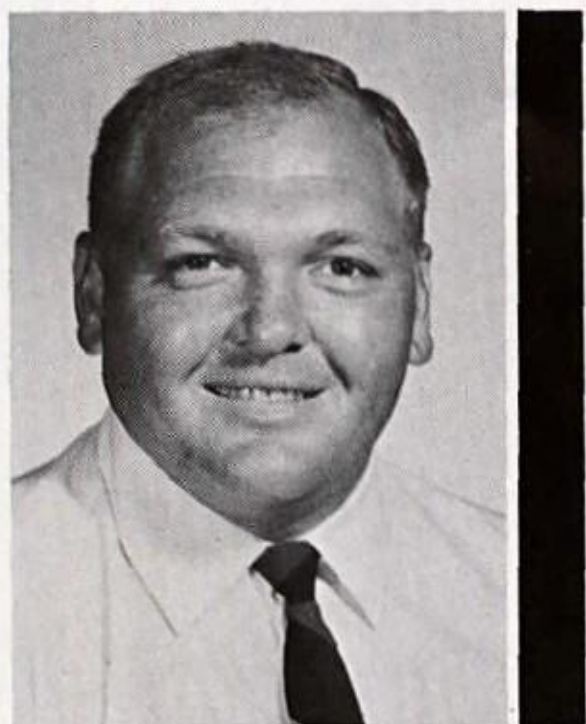

Physical Education—A Must for Tomorrow

L to R above, Roy Logus, Frank Annes, and Sam McGarity.

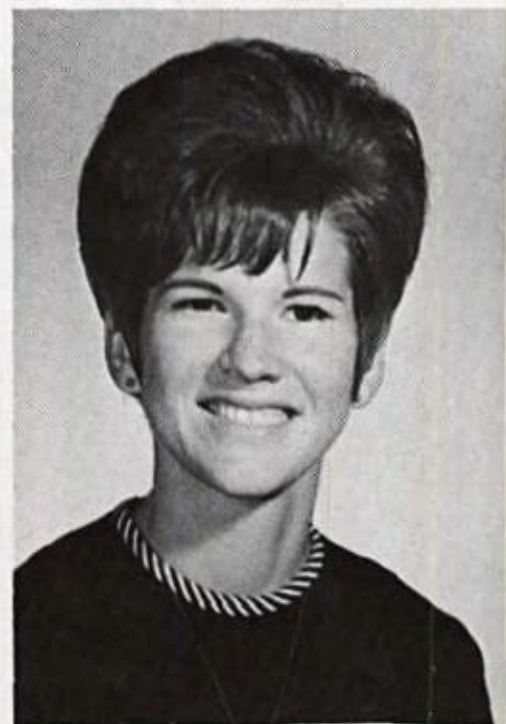

With the increased demand of society for better informed, stronger young people, the physical education teacher's job has been enlarged. In this fast moving world of today, it is the strong who "conquer." Doors to the future are opened by the strong of heart.

MR. RONNIE PRITCHARD,
B.S., Southwest Texas State
College. (Not Pictured)

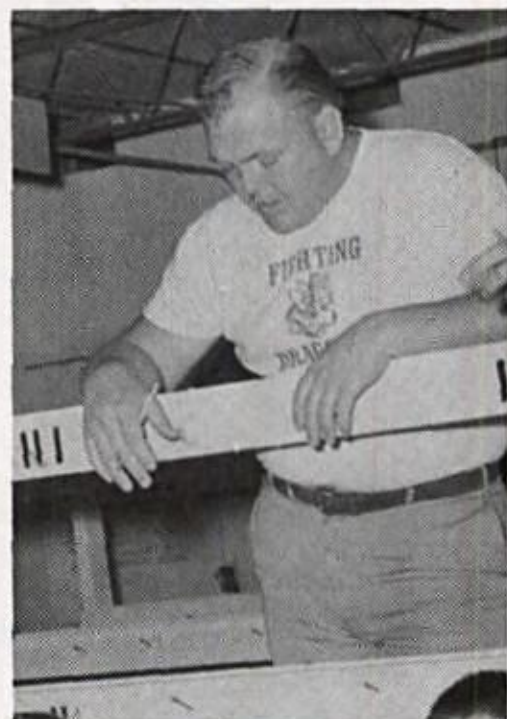

MR. DANIEL J. FRUGE, B.S.

Exploring new frontiers of space requires physical stamina as well as a knowledgeable mind. With the excellent staff of trained personnel Southwest can boast an exceedingly good record for producing strong, physically independent young adults who live in the world of today and tomorrow.

Young Voices Harmonize

Young voices of the Junior High Choral Department present the story of the H.M.S. Pinafore to the audience of the student body of the Junior High School.

Steven Dalros, Pam Rylander, Patty Fierros, Susan Powell, Terry Lyons, Evelyn Erickson pictured above.

Cast members spent many long hours perfecting the movements as well as the songs that made up the production of Her Majesty Ships Pinafore. The costumes were excellent and represented the time element very well.

Many of the persons in the show indicated exceptional ability to project personalities and words of the songs to the audience.

These young people are going to make fine additions to the high school choral department in the next several years.

Troop 205, B.S.A. has served the southwestern Bexar County community for many years and is one of the older troops in the San Antonio area. Headquarters for the troop has been located in or near Macdona, with several churches and organizations acting as sponsoring agencies.

The history of the troop as we know it today dates to the early 1950's, when the Southwest School District PTA became the sponsor. In 1953, interested members of the PTA and Scout Committeemen salvaged material from an abandoned elementary school in the District and constructed the Scout House on the bluff of the Southwest School Pecan Bottom. Returns from the sale of scrap metal donated by the community provided funds for paneling, flooring, lighting, and other niceties that serve to make this one of the most attractive and effective Scout houses in Texas.

The little house on the bluff has played a very active part in establishing the characters of boys in our community. Its records contain the names of over 400 boys who did, and we hope, are still doing their "good turn daily." Several highly dedicated Scout Masters have directed the efforts of the boys over the years and have been rewarded generously with "blue ribbons," which far outnumber ribbons of other colors.

The activities of Troop 205 are tailored to supplement and support the church and school programs of the community. In turn, the troop has received much support from the authorities of these institutions. Over the years, many major Scouting events encompassing all troops in the area have been held in the school's Pecan Bottom.

Thousands of boys will relive the memory of these camp-outs and other Scouting events many times during the course of their lives.

Emphasis Placed on Special Education

Within each person there exists a capability which encourages the individual to grow physically and mentally. Educators are now recognizing that teaching on an individual basis is the best way to stimulate potential interest in the individual.

Thus, the Special Education class is producing marvelous results through the diligent efforts of speech therapy, specialists and teachers who place the person and his needs above collective education.

Junior High Dragon's Tale—New Beginning

Paper staff members hard at work are pictured above: Joe Hudson, Kenny Burris, Sharon Fairbanks.

Junior Dragon's Tale is an innovation this year, proving to be very successful. It has inspired many to work together toward a common goal in producing a newspaper. The editing, writing, copy proofing, and laying out the paper has been beneficial in the department of English.

The newspaper became a real part of the lives of the team who spent hours each day and many sleepless nights thinking up new and better ways to put the presses to bed.

Thomas Meyer, Editor, discusses coverage with staff members, Frank Washek, Linda Chilton, Soledad Sanchez, and Sponsor, Mrs. Novak.

Jr. High Band Marches Rhythmically Forward

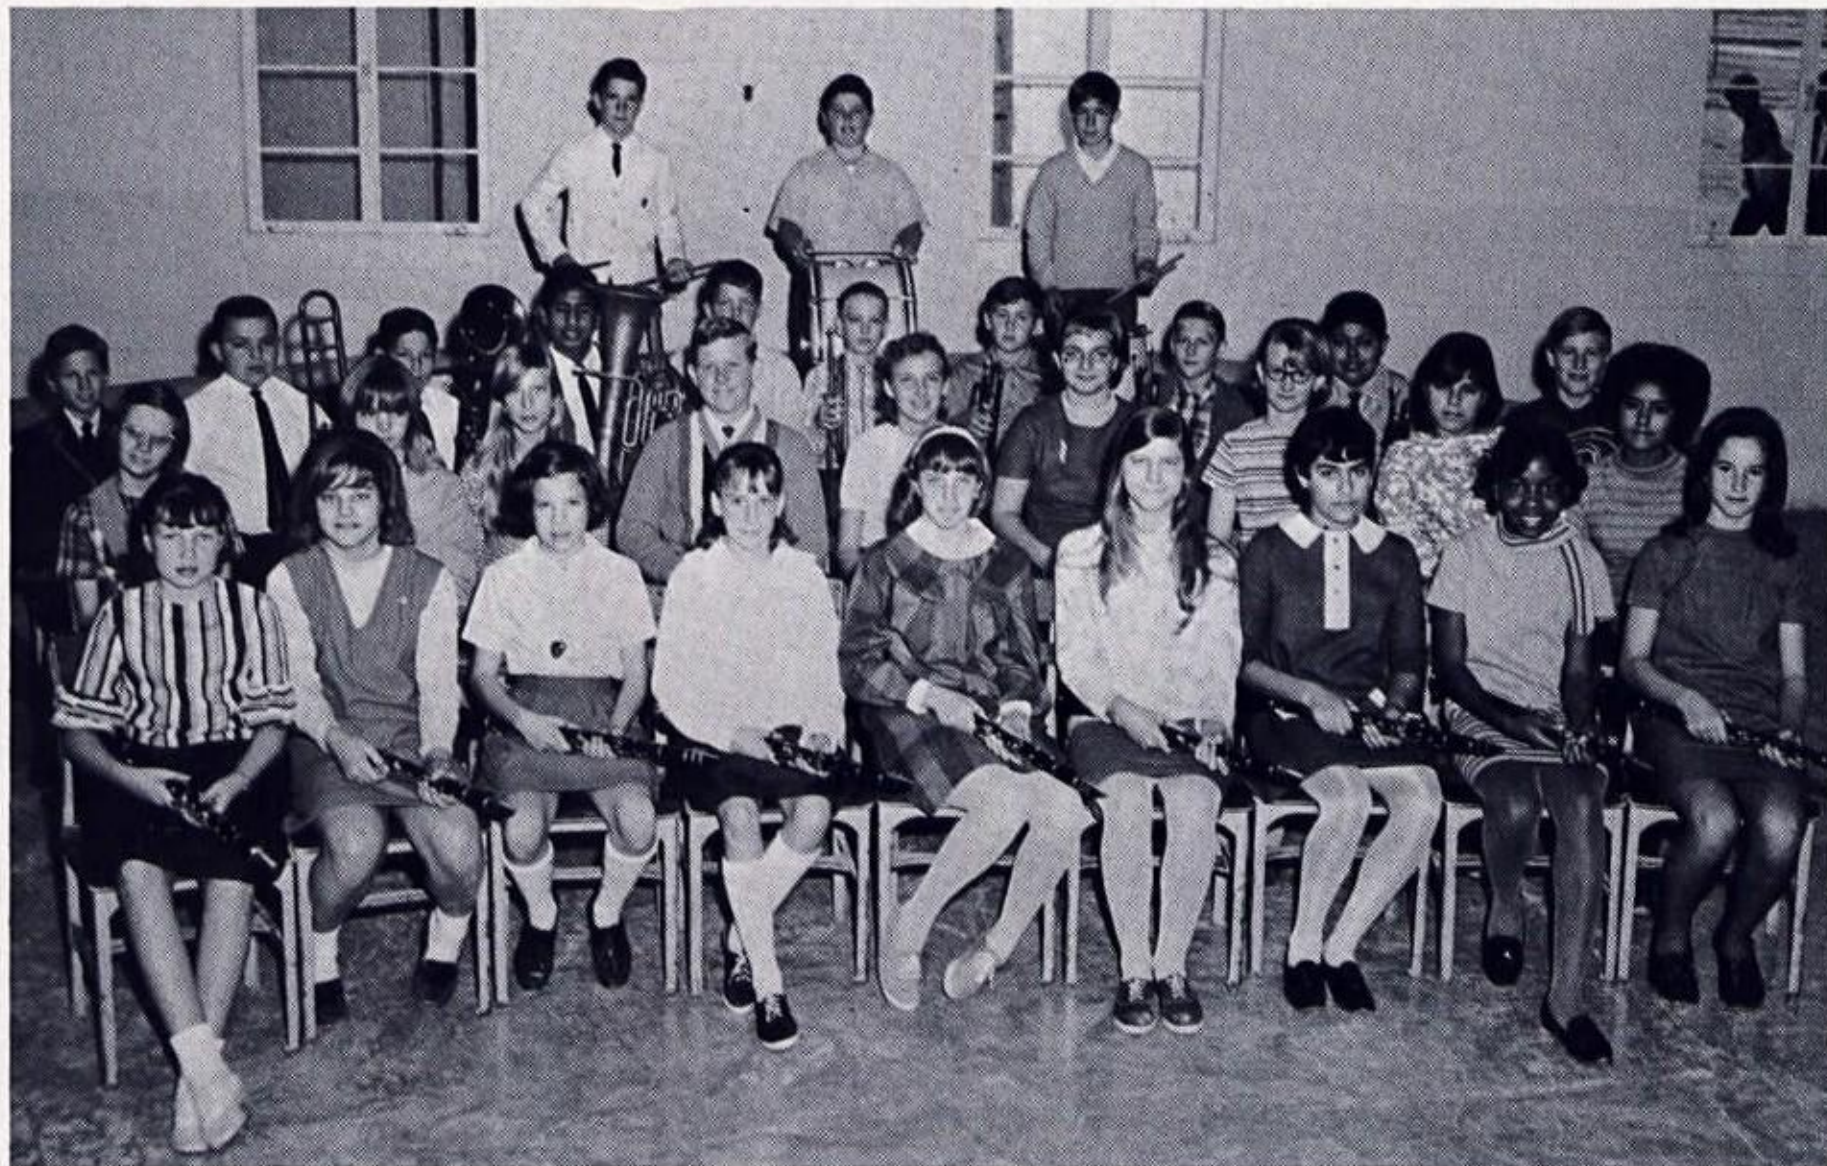

Ruth Ellen Mulhollan participates in band.

The Junior High Band has made a fine showing again this year under the leadership of Mr. Pagonis. The band has many good prospects for the high school band in the years yet to come. With training and experience members of the Junior High Band will be the future band members of tomorrow.

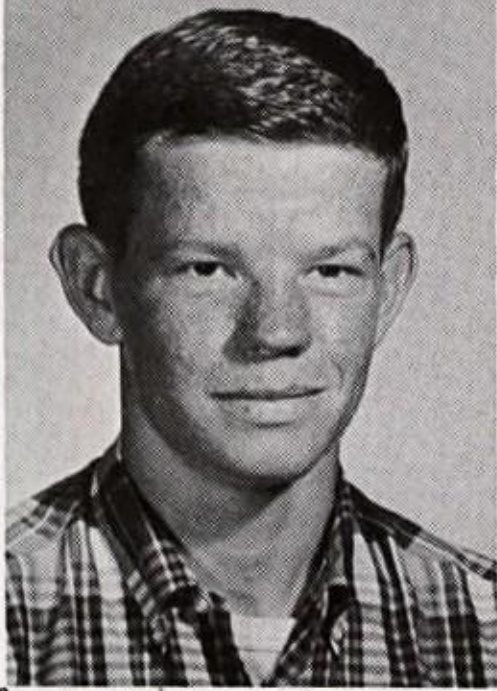

The enthusiasm shown by young people who want to learn to play an instrument is manifested in the earnest desire of these students. It takes determination to be a good musician, and Mr. Pagonis is very proud of the effort of this group to be "in the swing" of things.

Junior High students are encouraged to maintain a balance between team and individual sports in their selections, because both have their values. In favor of individual sports is the fact that most persons are physically unable to participate in vigorous team sports for a very prolonged period in adult life. Junior High students have learned the benefits to be derived from team sports.

Being members of a team assists these boys in making new friends and in developing sociability. They learn to cooperate with other individuals and identify themselves as a part of a group with a common cause. Mr. James Fruge, Head Junior High Coach, has done much to promote the teaching of good team work this year for the Junior High School.

Junior High Teams Have Great Season

Little Dragons' Eighth Grade team, led by Emilio Soliz and Arthur Grejeda, pushed hard against East Central, losing after a difficult battle. The game played against Poteet was a different story. Jesse Martinez and Emilio Soliz carried the ball successfully against Poteet to a 16-6 decision in favor of Southwest.

Junior High Teams Show Ability

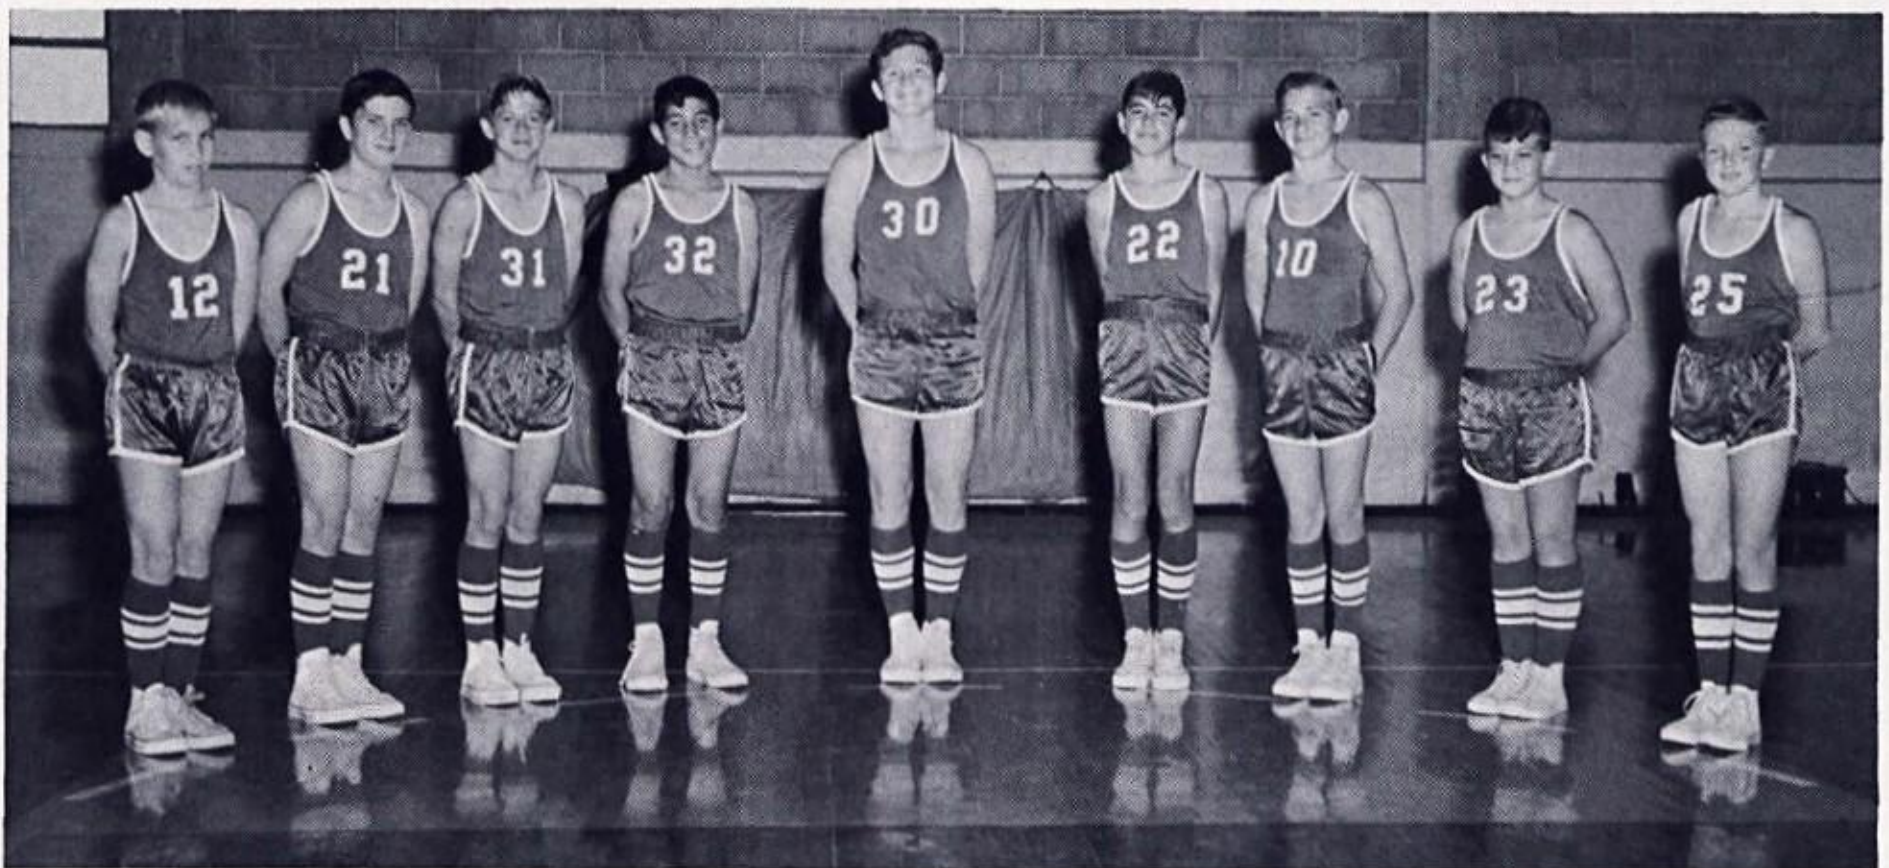

Pre-high school training received by 7th and 8th grade teams will enable these boys to achieve a high school level of ability in their high school years.

But to them their immediate success and accomplishments provide for each pleasure and fulfillment in the season's achievements.

Supervision—One Key to Success

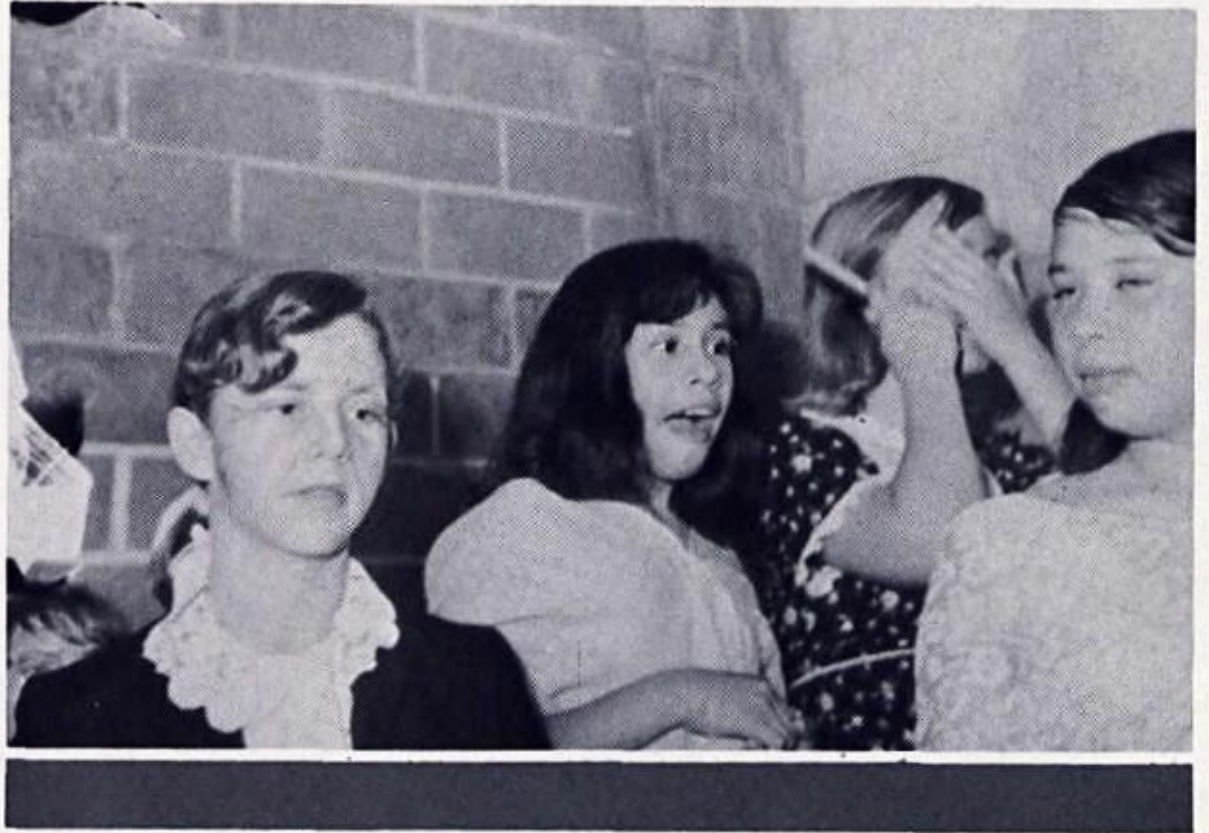

Under the supervision of the able coaching staff, the Junior High Track Team developed into a real potential for high school athletics.

Willie Crisp, Carlos Solis, Charles Guzman.

Junior High

Coach Fruge tapes and records for Junior High Broad Jumpers.

Junior High students prepare for and present Operetta given before classmates.

Graduation Brings Happiness

Mark Neumann, Gracy Colunga and Janet Haile have a look of introspection while they wait for graduation exercise to begin.

Margaret Ann Hathaway and escort show eagerness to participate.

Denise Annes shares the anticipation of events to come.

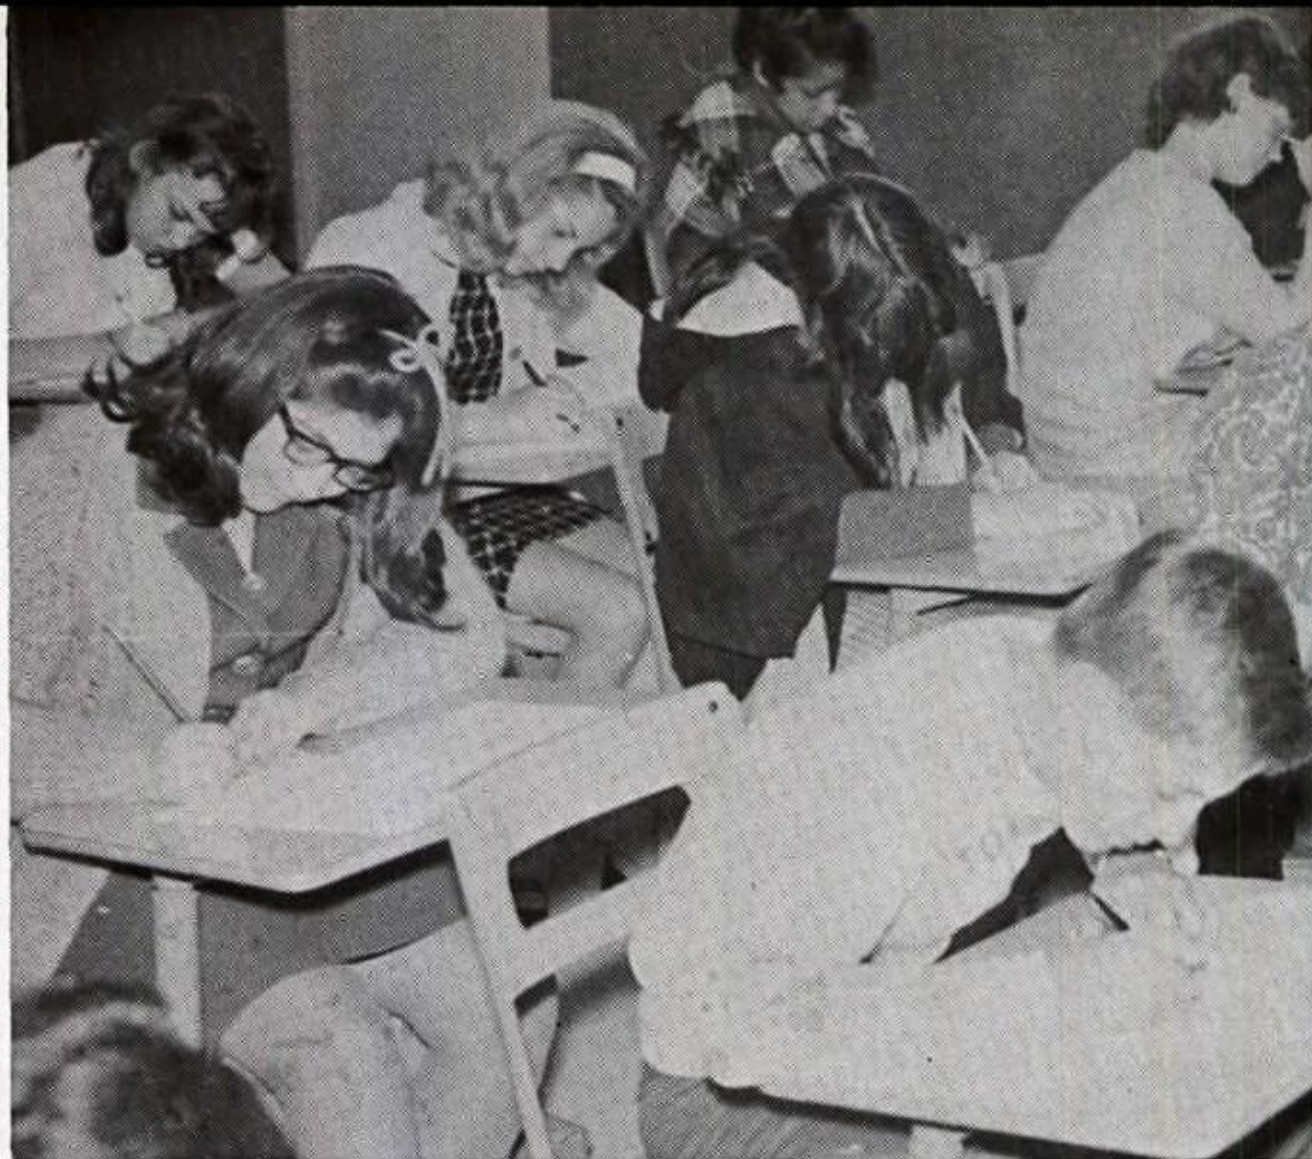

Nicky Constanzo, Paul Prothero, Bill Robinson, and Kenneth Burris are part of the flag ceremony.

Classes

Acceptance and participation in all school activities is the primary objective of Junior High students as witnessed in these pictures of school participation.

A willingness to cheer on their team is shown in the faces of these students, and as much interest is evident in the classroom.

ADVERTISING

" Nothing in our material world can come from nowhere or go nowhere, nor can it be free: Everything in our economic life has a source, a destination, and a cost that must be paid."

" Government is never a source of goods. Everything produced is produced by the people, and everything that government gives to the people, it must first take from the people."

" The greatest good for the greatest number means, in its material sense, the greatest goods for the greatest number which, in turn, means the greatest productivity per worker."

" All productivity is based on three factors: 1) Natural resources, whose form, place and condition are changed by the expenditure of 2) human energy (both muscular and mental) with the aid of 3) tools."

" When government decides to spend more than it has received, that extra maney is created out of thin air, and when spent, takes on value only by reducing the value of all money, savings, and insurance."

Seniors Contemplate Future

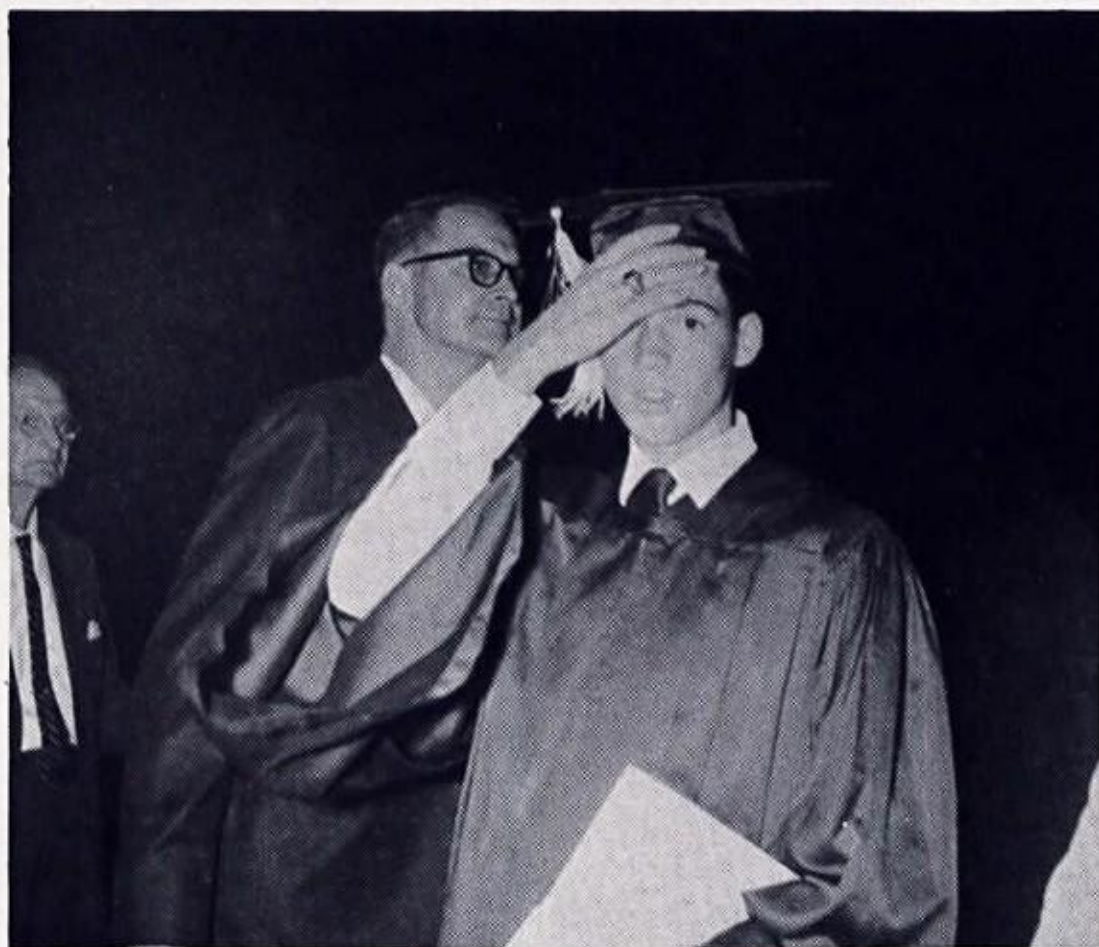

Brenda Neff finds that next to streams of tears and hearty congratulations there is an armful of graduation presents waiting to be opened.

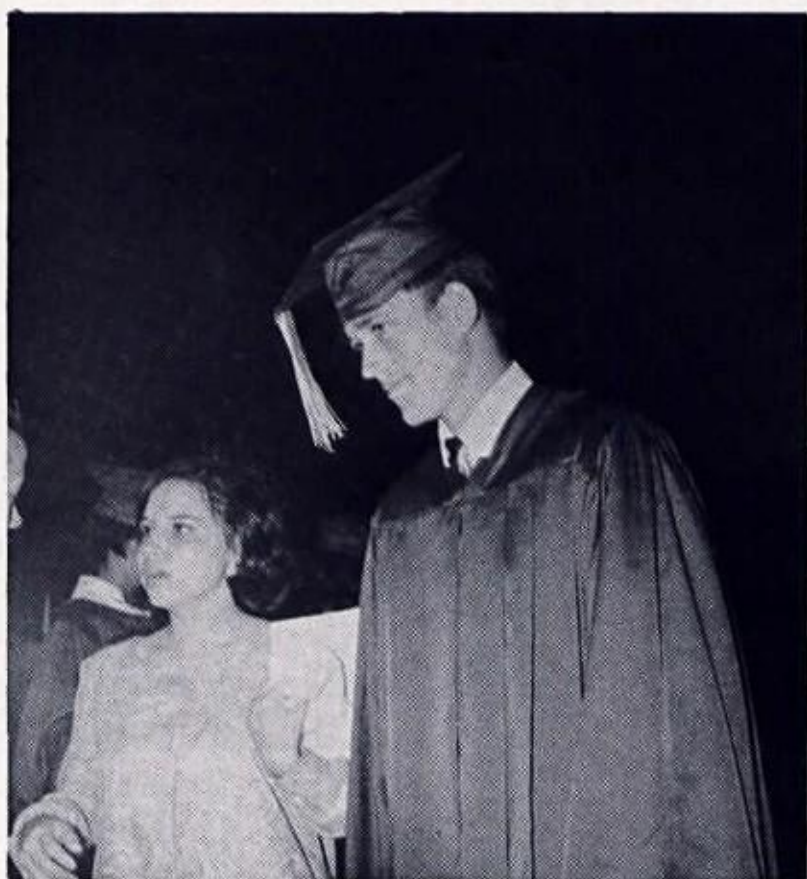

A certain kind of joy is felt by Ronald House as he shakes hands with the seemingly endless line of people. This kind of joy could be seen only on the night of the Southwest senior graduation.

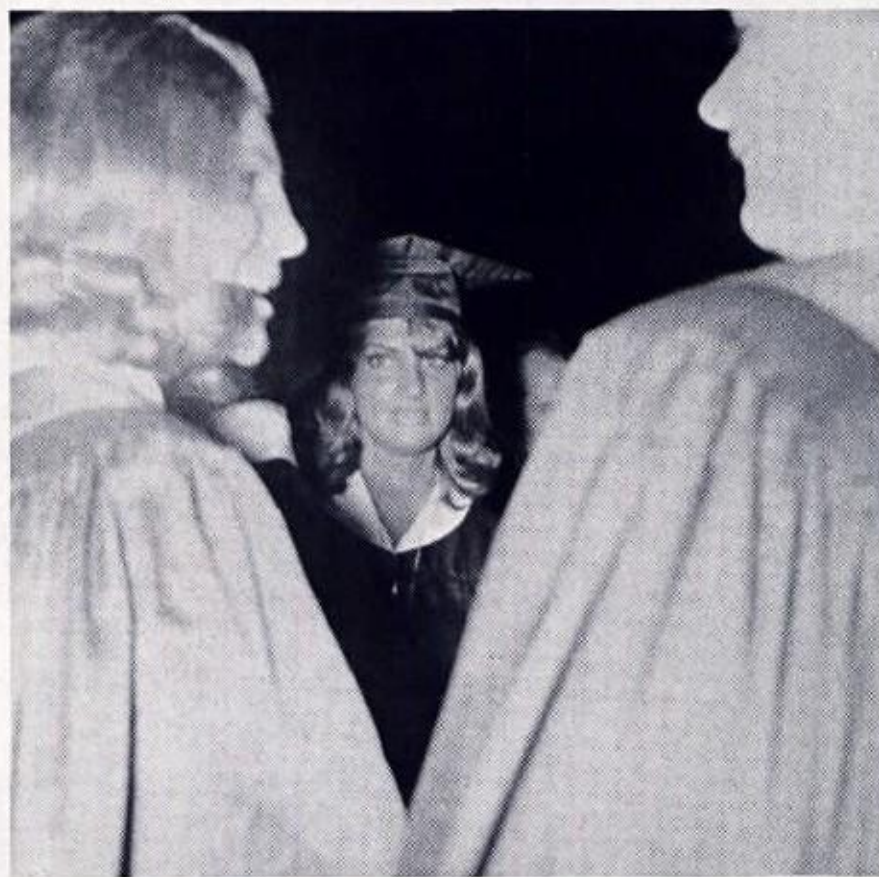

The entire atmosphere of the graduation commencement has sprinkled a certain dignified glow on Susan Duron. Could it be pride?

It is a feeling of remorse or sheer relief that Ronald Curry is experiencing? Like most graduating seniors Ron is leaving behind the old life to engage in a new and sometimes perplexing one.

Graduating from high school makes one feel mature and very proud. This is quite evident in Dale Lyons' expression as he converses with Judy Gilbert and Edward Lyons.

Discussing plans for the future seems to arouse enthusiasm among these girls. The dreams they once had of graduation have suddenly become reality.

At the close of the 1968 Dragonniere, we feel it proper to recall the highlights of our past year together.

The accomplishments and achievements, as well as our efforts and participation herein, have been a successful conclusion to students and the school combined.

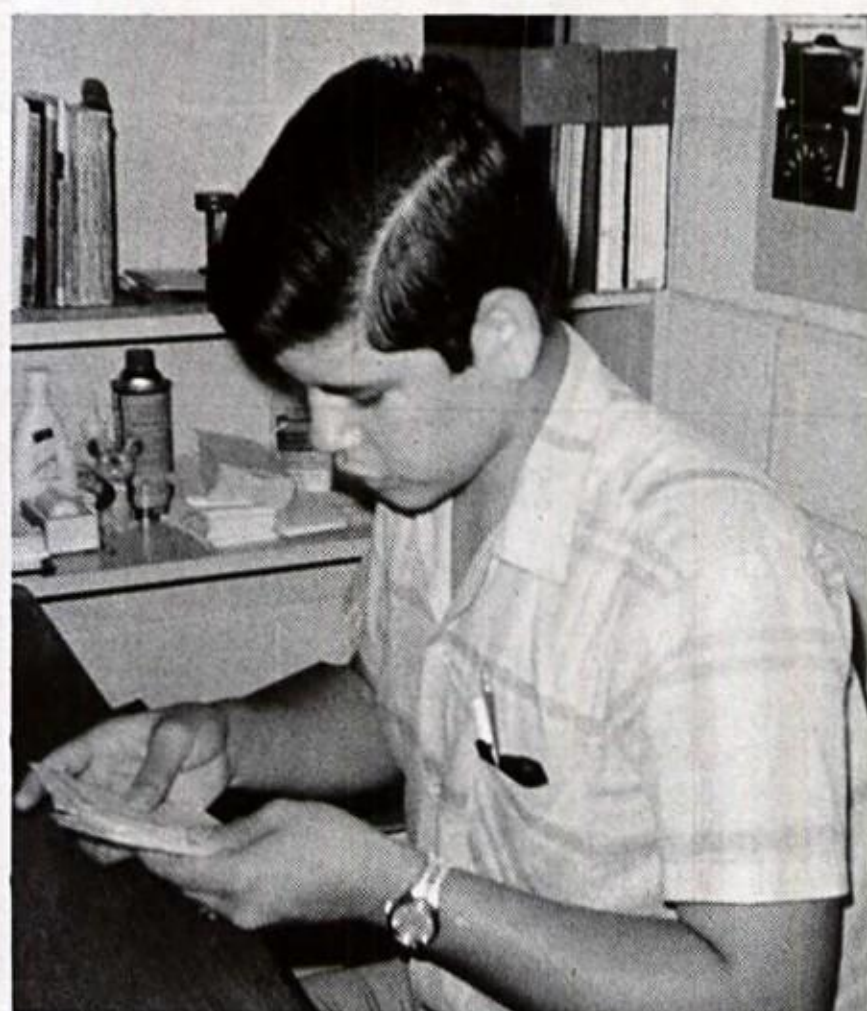

It is our desire that the coverage and content of the '68 Dragonniere will for many years come to be an album of fond memories, solid friendships, and for the Senior class a lasting remembrance of great times together.

Albert Krueger and Joel Goode enjoy barbequed chicken at FFA - FHA picnic.

Allen Nichols takes a break from "moon lighting" with the annual staff.

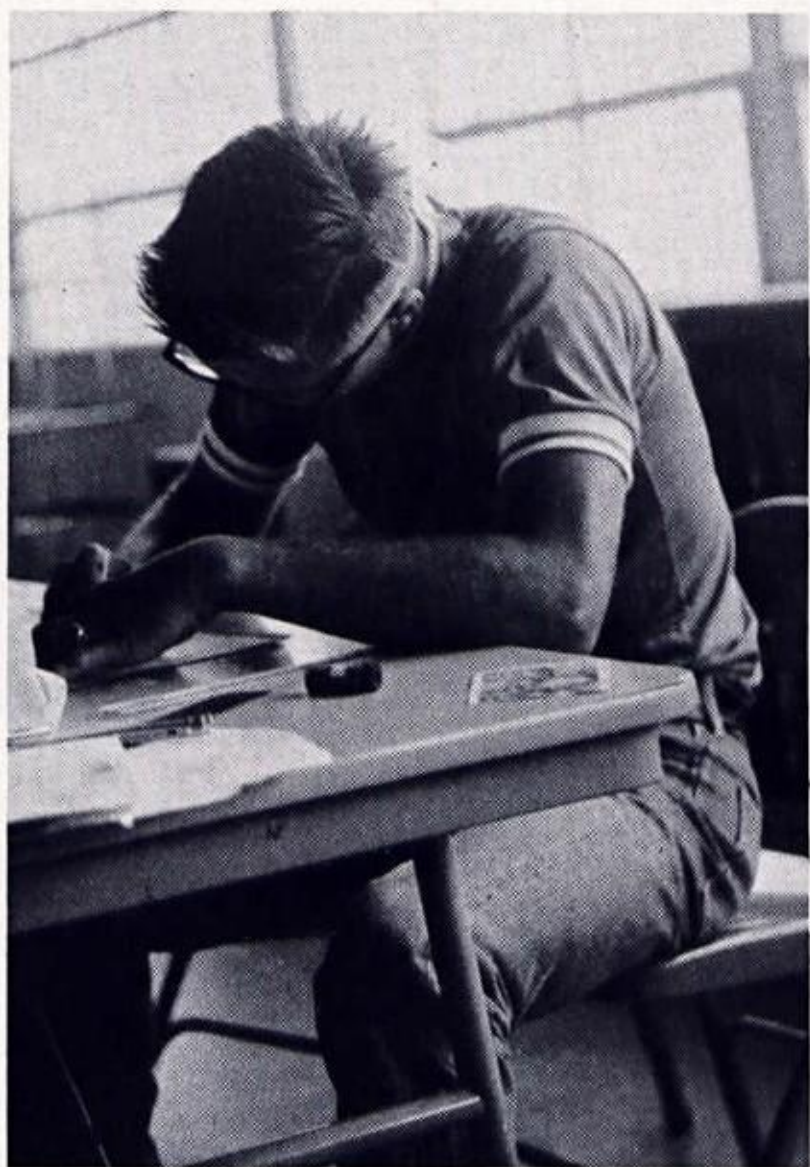

Frank Mann, senior, accidentally on purpose became one of the best assistants the library has ever had!

Pat Edmonds seems to be taking her class work very seriously during Driver's Education session.

Junior "Cheerleaders" make a lovely appearance for Powder Puff Football game: David Boulware, Wayne Brandin and Augustine De La Cruz.

Campus Comes to Life

Engrossed in annual page layout, Ronnie Lindig appears to be unaware of things around him - including odd chairs on tables!

Afterword. . .

I'm told the time will come at last
When birds and trees become the Past
That sunlight laughing on the hills,
That girls in pettycoats and frills,
That summer rain and moonlit nights
Are really just fantastic flights
Of never-born to never-be.....

I know a place of memory
Where these things live as just before
In their glad hours, even more
Alive than when they really were,
They wait for me to venture there
To spring, when I come making rounds-
To tie me up, caught by the sounds
Of misty music in the morn
Amid the calling of a horn
The roar of cymbals wakes the hills
Upon the breeze a trumpet trills
The blast of voices shakes the ground
As fierce and harsh as gosling's down,
The river rumbles far beneath
Across the sky there wafes a breath

Of ancient jasmine-pale and blue
Some face, sometime, some moonlit view
Some vision on the inturned cave
Of water lillies floating, by
Some person loved so long ago
Is young, and free as new--blown snow
The troupe of friends so long, at rest
Revive, and once again the best
Black band of ladies, gents
Carrouse and Carrol, no expense
Was spared among this company.....
But now beneath a lonely tree
Upon a dark and quiet ledge
That overlooks earth's turning edge
To watch the sun recline his head
There comes a need for home and bed.....

And thought at times it seems the dawn
Of that last day before the morn
Of nothingness, I will recall
Those good times shared by one and all
This place, this world of memory
Will ever stay a part of me.
